Senior High, Hobart Provide Facilities for Ho-Hi Students

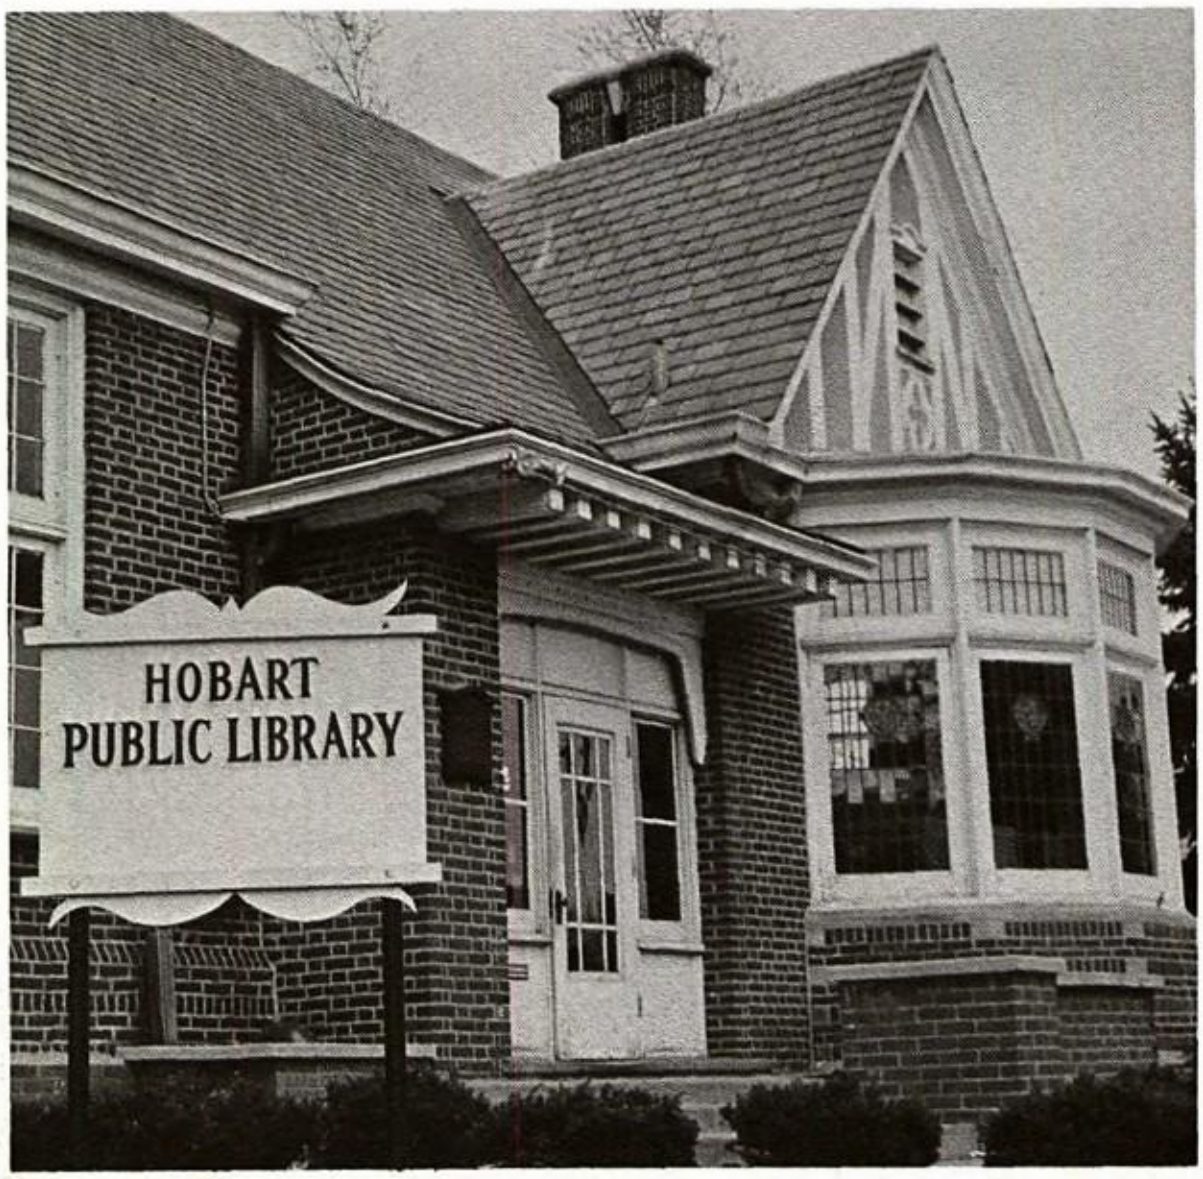
Hobart Senior High is a growing school, occupying seven acres of land. The building houses 442 sophomores, 371 juniors and 395 seniors eight hours a day, nine months a year.

To accommodate each year's larger student body, additions to the school are becoming realities as the school branches out in all directions. Facilities are being improved, classrooms modernized.

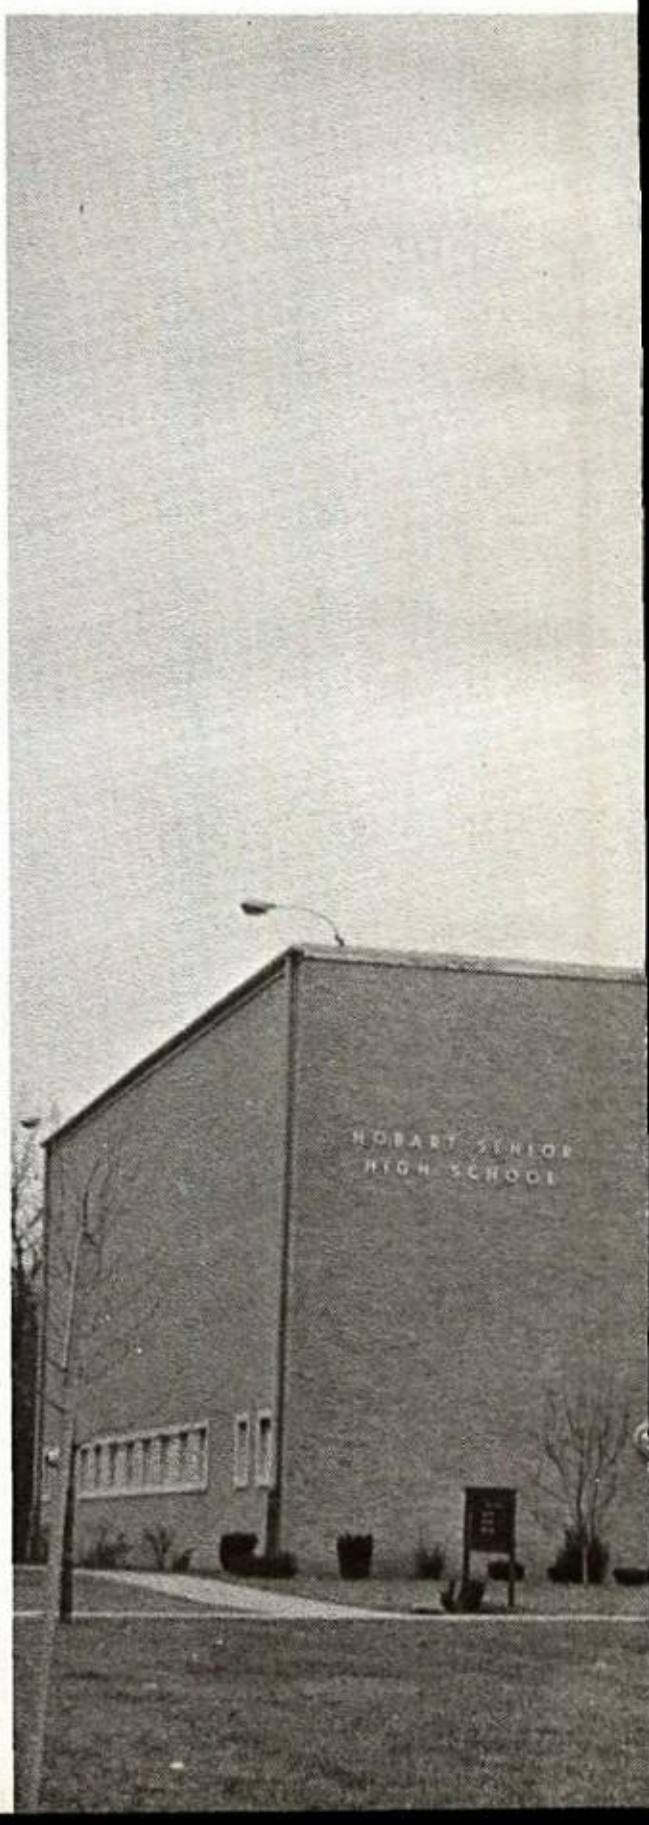
Close inspection by the North Central Association committee served only to verify the excellence of Hobart High—the building and facilities, the faculty and the students.

Hobart itself is a sprawling community which bridges a gap between the industrial clamor and restlessness and the rural quiet and tranquility. Sixty years older than its giant neighbor Gary; Hobart, with its city parks, organized sports, public library, and more than 20 churches, provides opportunities for recreation, relaxation and religious fellowship.

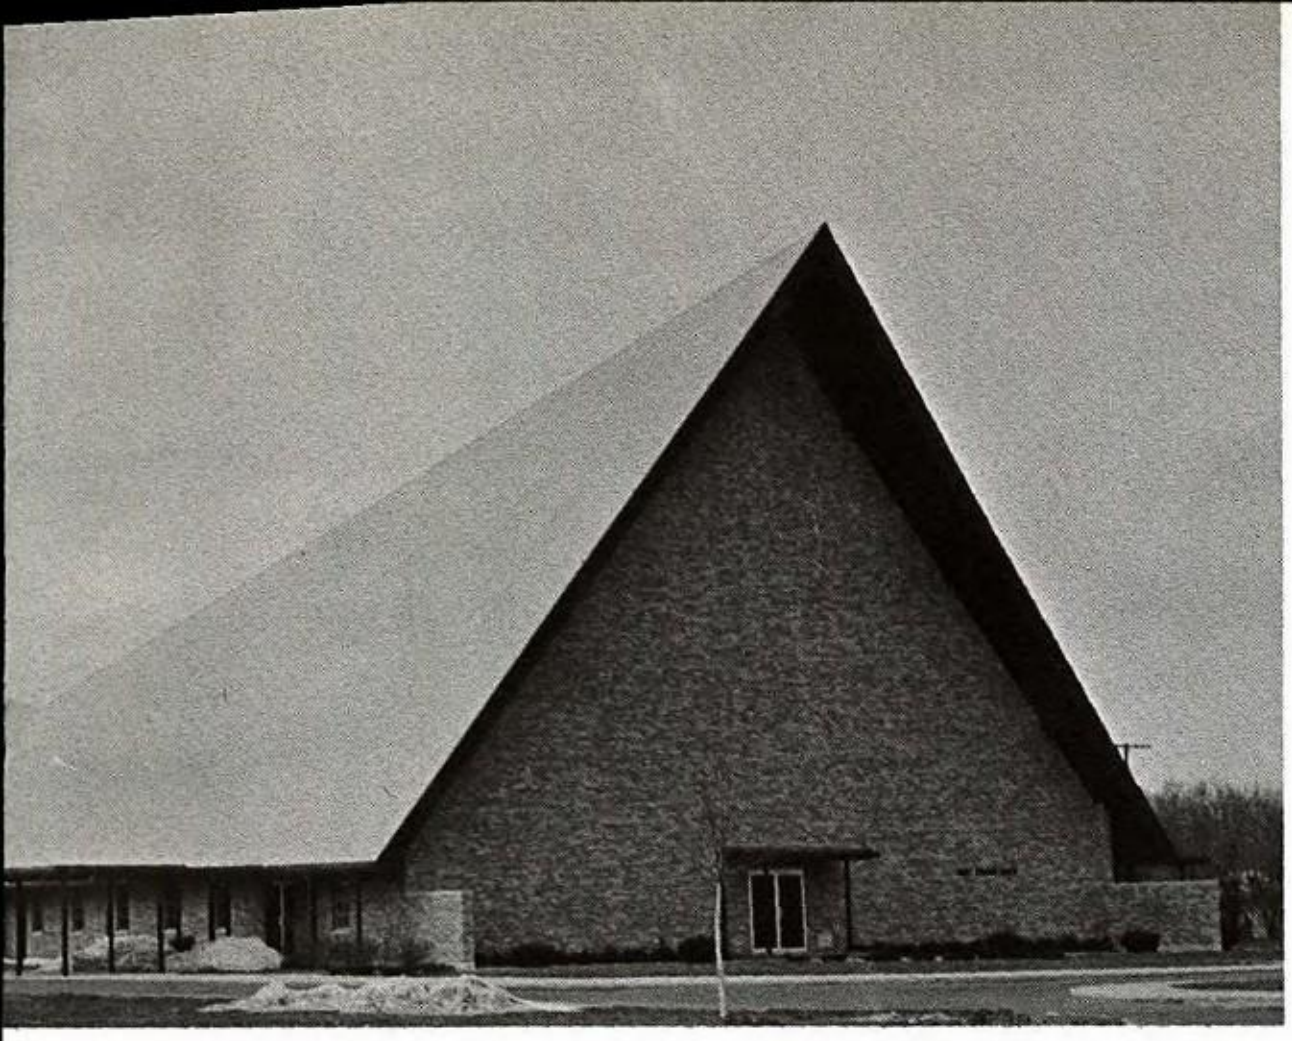
But the activities of the student body at HHS are always an integral and important part of the overall picture of Hobart. Each graduating class leaves accomplishments and memories that will linger for generations to come.



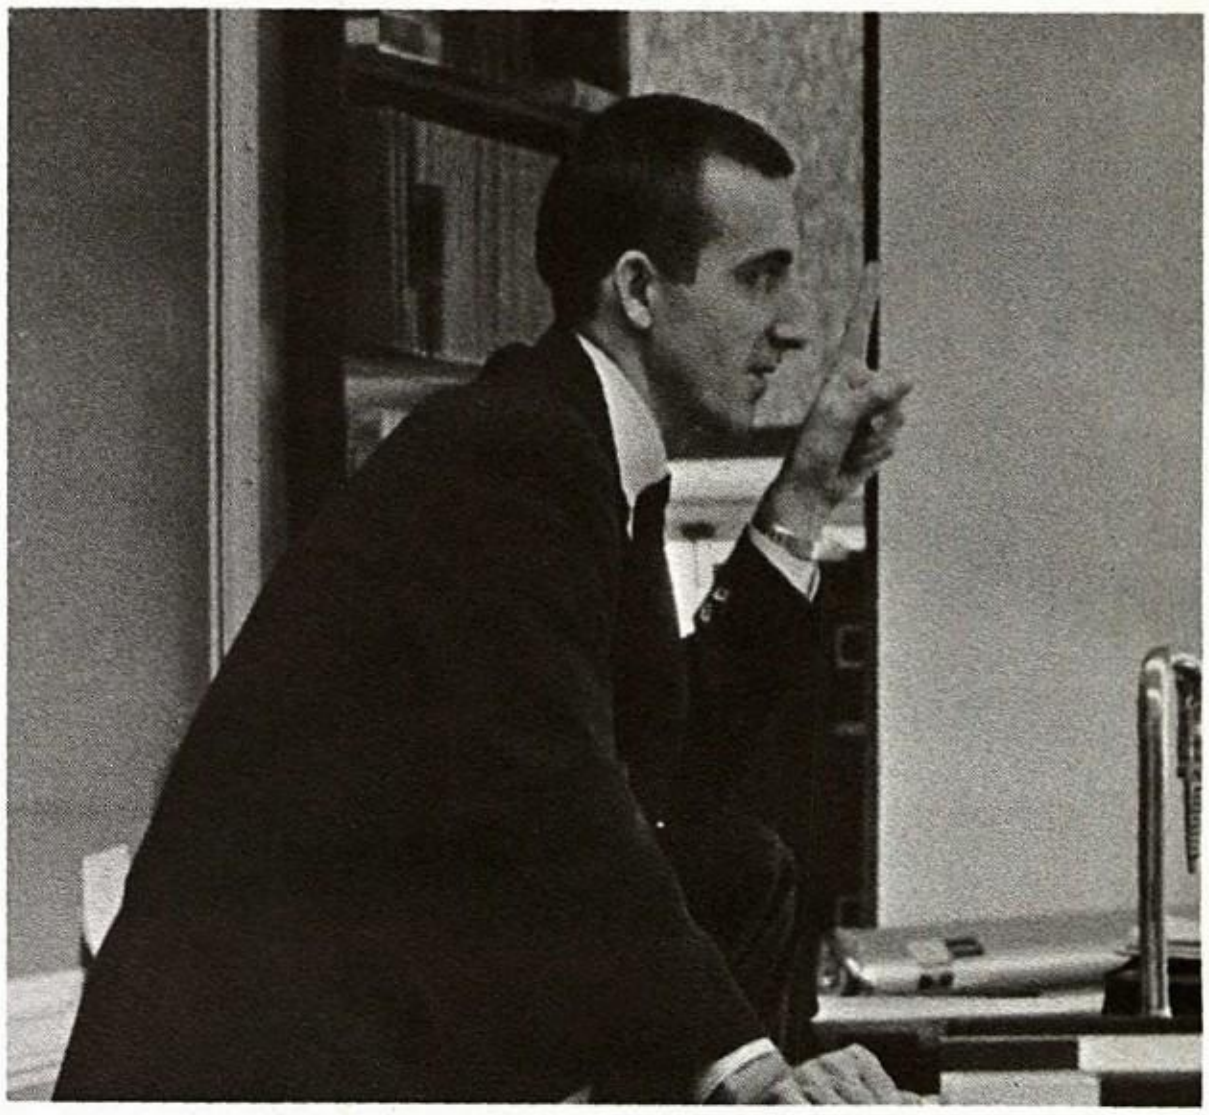
Above—The Hobart Public Library, situated directly across from the junior high school on 4th Avenue, provides Hobart High students with research materials and source books.



Right—Hobart Senior High School not only houses about 1200 students during the school year, but its facilities are also used for night school and summer classes.

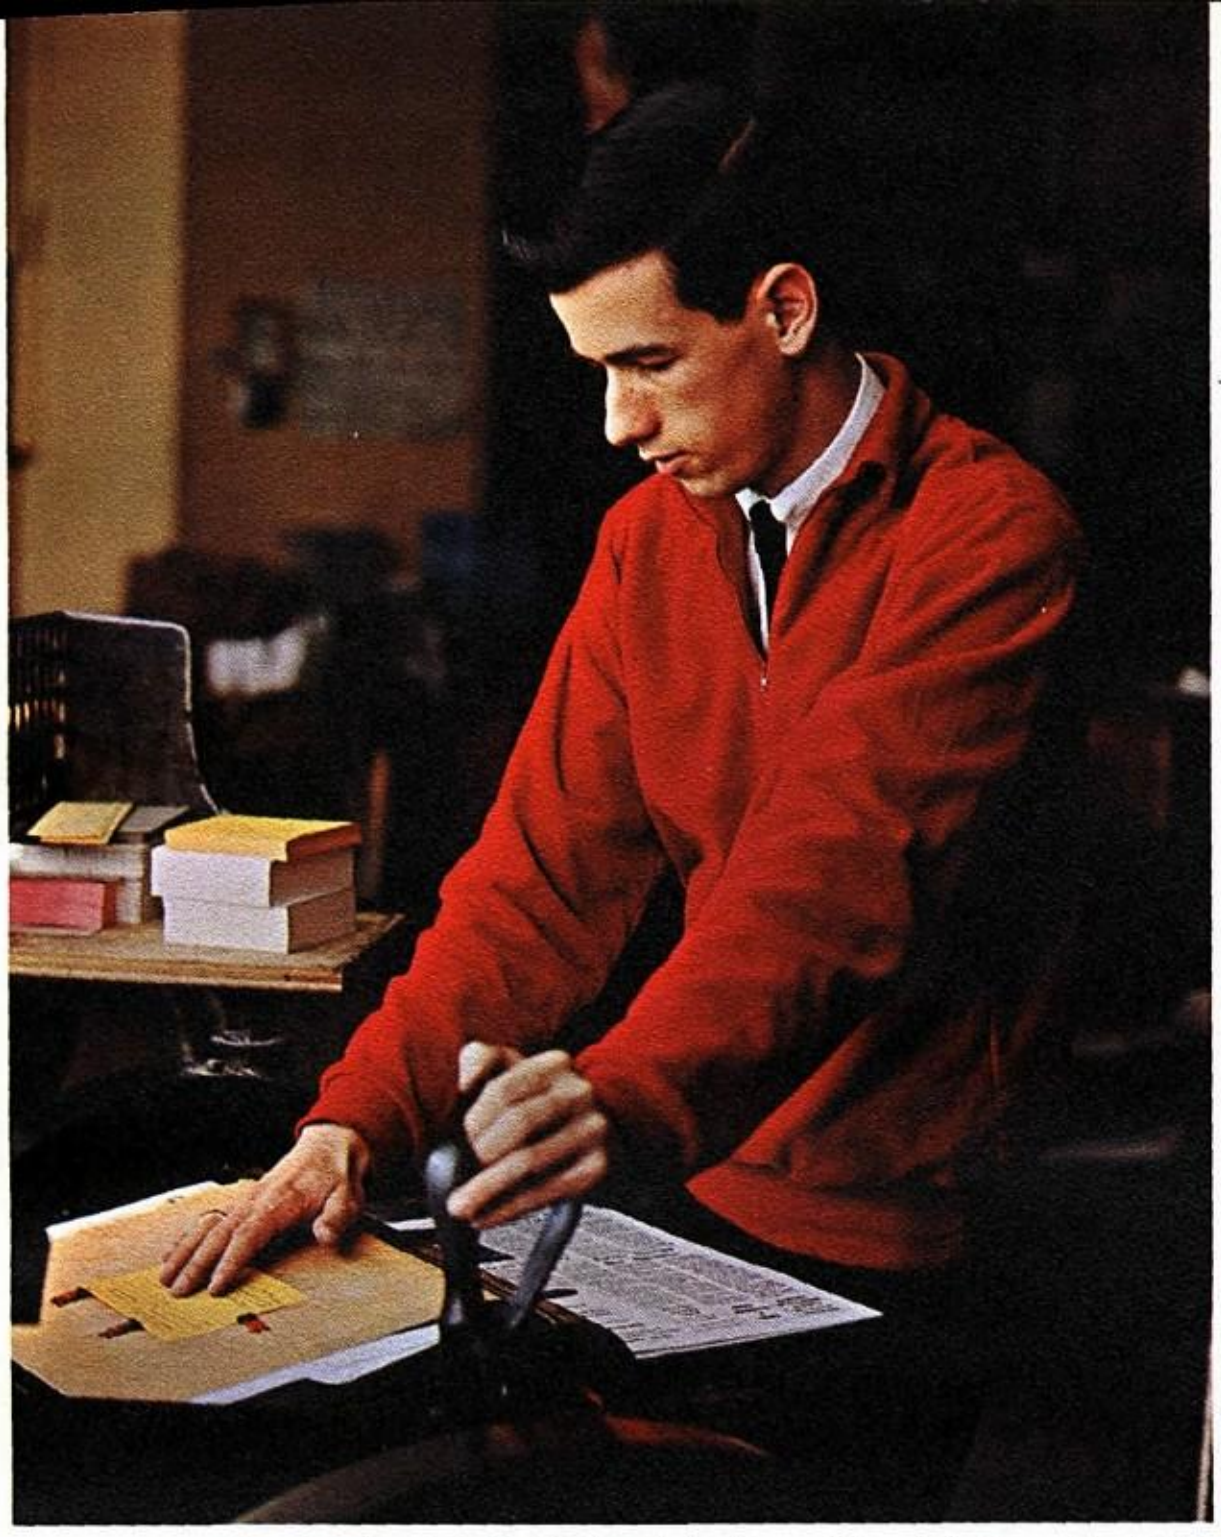


Left—Trinity Lutheran Church with its free-standing bell tower, completed in October of 1966, is the newest of Hobart's churches and adds to the beauty and serenity of the city.



Right—Economics and typing instructor Don Hancock enumerates the advantages and disadvantages of the graduated income tax used in the United States to his economics students.

Below—Sophomores Linda Goffiney and Sharon Allendorf share a microscope in biology class to examine the cells of a frog's skin to sketch the cells.



While in Warren Biller's shop class, junior David Gibson begins to run off the admit slips used by Ho-Hi students to be admitted to classes after an absence.

Instructors, Students Linger in Classroom

The classroom world is as small as a grammatical question and as large as the human mind. It is a conglomeration of personalities, abilities, ideas and opinions.

Hobart High students were challenged during this academic year by a faculty of 55 instructors, some with many years of seniority, others just having successfully made the transition from the world of the fraternity pin and collegiate honor society. But to learn is not merely to have student and teacher; it is a relationship between these two individuals, and it is this that HHS has strived to achieve.

Students lingered over questions that generations before them had pondered. School became more than four confining walls, for education is a door creaking open to a vast expanse of the unknown.

College prep courses were added—a dress rehearsal of the real thing. Conceivably, a Brickie might in one day move from the microscopic world of the amoeba to a lit class with a philosophic strain.

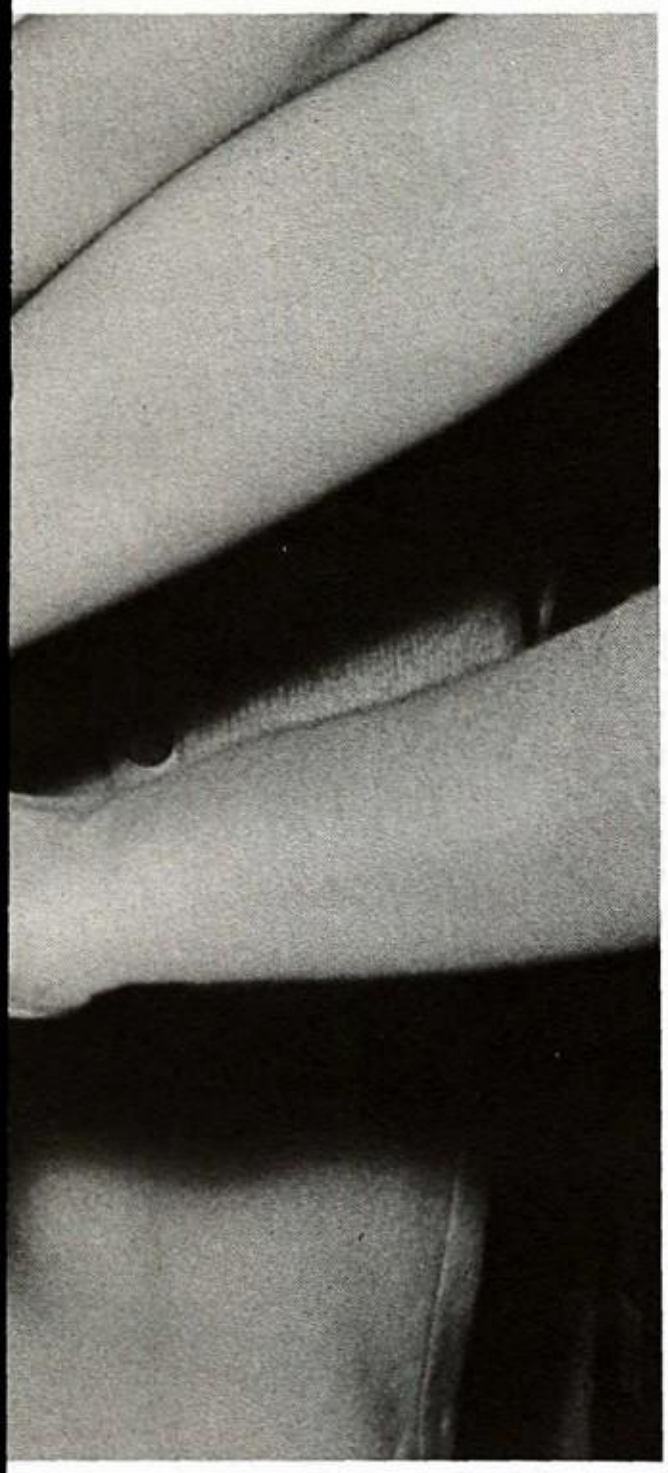
Our generation lingered in the realm of books and ideas—and grade cards—and how effectively it did so will be measured in terms of the contribution it makes to the world in which it lives.

Left—Junior Linda Kinney discusses with the Dean of Girls Mrs. Flora Cox the noontime selling of tickets and the publicity campaign for an upcoming dance at the high school.

Club Activities, Athletics Are Necessary

Above—Everyone is willing to lend a helping hand as the Debuteens complete one of their service projects—the annual bundle drive to collect clothing which is given to the needy.

Outlets From School Routine for Students

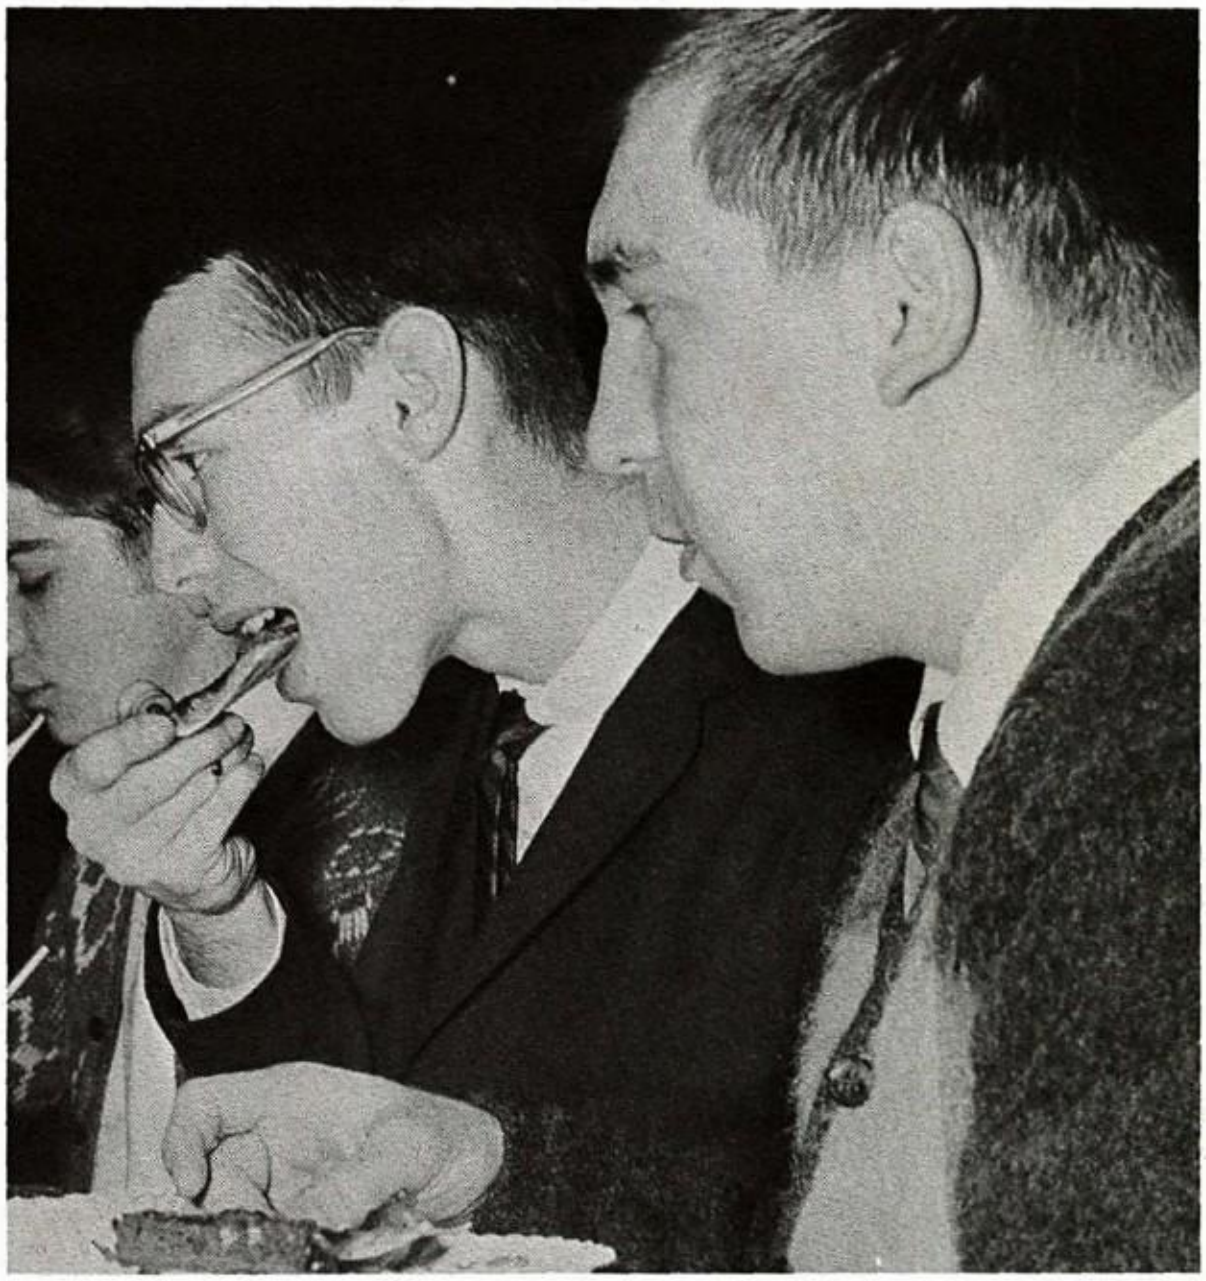


A student needs activities and outlets, since school life can become pretty frustrating and confining. You are student No. 824, locker No. 438, gym locker No. 25, homeroom No. 218, ranking 18th in your class, wearing uniform No. 34, classified 1A by the Selective Service, with a grade point average of 3.2.

But Hobart High provides many and varied means of relaxation and self-expression for its students. Clubs, ranging from Debuteens to the Science Club, provide an opportunity for each to express his individuality and to be more than just a number.

Athletics are an integral part of an educational structure which emphasizes education of the total individual. Ear-muffed fans threw their brisk cheers across Brickie Bowl to mingle with the smell of popcorn and the incense of autumn. Football and tennis gave way to collapsible bleachers inside the warm gymnasium. Soon snow melted—bringing baseball, golf and track. Generations lingered again at Homecoming, as nostalgic alumni returned to a tissue-papered weekend; Seniors sang the alma mater for the last time.

We must leave, but the memories—from the wild, hysterical final moments of a football game to the quiet inner glow felt from the satisfaction of a science project—will linger forever.



Seniors Ralph Peters, Dave Walker and Phil Heller forget about conversation as they concentrate on eating pizza at the annual Pizza Supper sponsored by the Hobart High Honor Society.

Left—Hobart High boosters yell encouragement to the football team as the Brickie offense begins a drive toward its goal during the last moments of a home game.

Seniors Berkes, Busch Prevail Over Homecoming Festivities

Football and basketball homecoming festivities enhanced social events at Hobart High. Two Senior girls were chosen to reign over both Homecoming celebrations.

Among the myriad joys found in football homecoming was the 7-0 victory over the Michigan City Red Devils, and the crowning of Senior Bonnie Busch as Homecoming Queen.

Miss Busch's court was made up of two juniors, Lana George and Kandy Kendall, and one sophomore, Joan Halvorson.

Homecoming activities were inaugurated by the Homecoming pep rally and bonfire held in Brickie Bowl September 29. Students and faculty gathered around the traditional blaze to hear talks by the team captains.

It was no ordinary basketball game, it was the '67 basketball Homecoming. Gala posters and purple and gold crepe paper draped the gymnasium. Anxiety filled the air as spectators filled the bleachers.

During the week preceding the Homecoming celebration, students at HHS observed "School Spirit Week."

Froebel defeated Hobart 75-71 but the defeat did not hamper Homecoming activities. Hobart's "Super Spirit," Joe Campbell, crowned Senior Josie Berkes 1967 Homecoming Queen. Members of her court included junior Jean Wesley and sophomore Sue Flanders.

Both football and basketball Homecoming activities were climaxed with an aftergame dance held in the cafetorium.

Diversity of Dances Attracts Hobart Students

Something new has been added to Hobart's routine dance list. Not only were the annual Turnabout and Semi held, but for the first time Hobart High's Student Council sponsored a Computer Dance.

About 250 Ho-Hi students filled out computer questionnaires and then found their "ideal" match at the Computer Dance, April 22. Les Flood and Linda Hamscher, the boy and girl who were the most popular by having the most "matches" were crowned king and queen of the dance.

"Starlight on Snowflakes" was the theme of the annual semi-formal dance, December 3. Sponsored this year by the Debuteens, Hobart's semi is one of two chances a girl gets to ask a boy to a dance.

Turnabout, obviously, is the other time the girl can choose her date for the evening. Sponsored by the Student Council, Turnabout Dance was held March 17 with music provided by The Hitchhikers.

Senior John Meiss was crowned king of the dance, the other candidates being Steve Balash, and sophomore Dennis Piske.

the World

It takes four hours and ten minutes to fly by jet from Chicago to San Francisco, but Hobart High did better than that as "Travels with Yohan," the 1967 Yohannaire, took its audience around the world in half the time.

Presented March 9-11, the annual talent show "made stops" in England, France, Italy, India and other countries. Travel Agent Ralph Peters guided a young couple, Jackie Rossell and Jeff Young, on a tour throughout the world, showing them the highlights of each country.

The two-act production gave the Hobart High School students the opportunity to perform before hundreds of people and to give service to the school. Profits from the Student Council-sponsored Yohannaire were divided: $600 for a scholarship awarded to a worthy Senior and $142 for the American Field Service fund.

Student directors for "Travels with Yohan" were Roberta Davies and Carla Trager, and teachers Mr. Ralph, Miss Bartos and Mr. Gerl guided the students' efforts. Choreography for the Senior Girls' and Boys' Chorus Lines was done by Jean Greene.

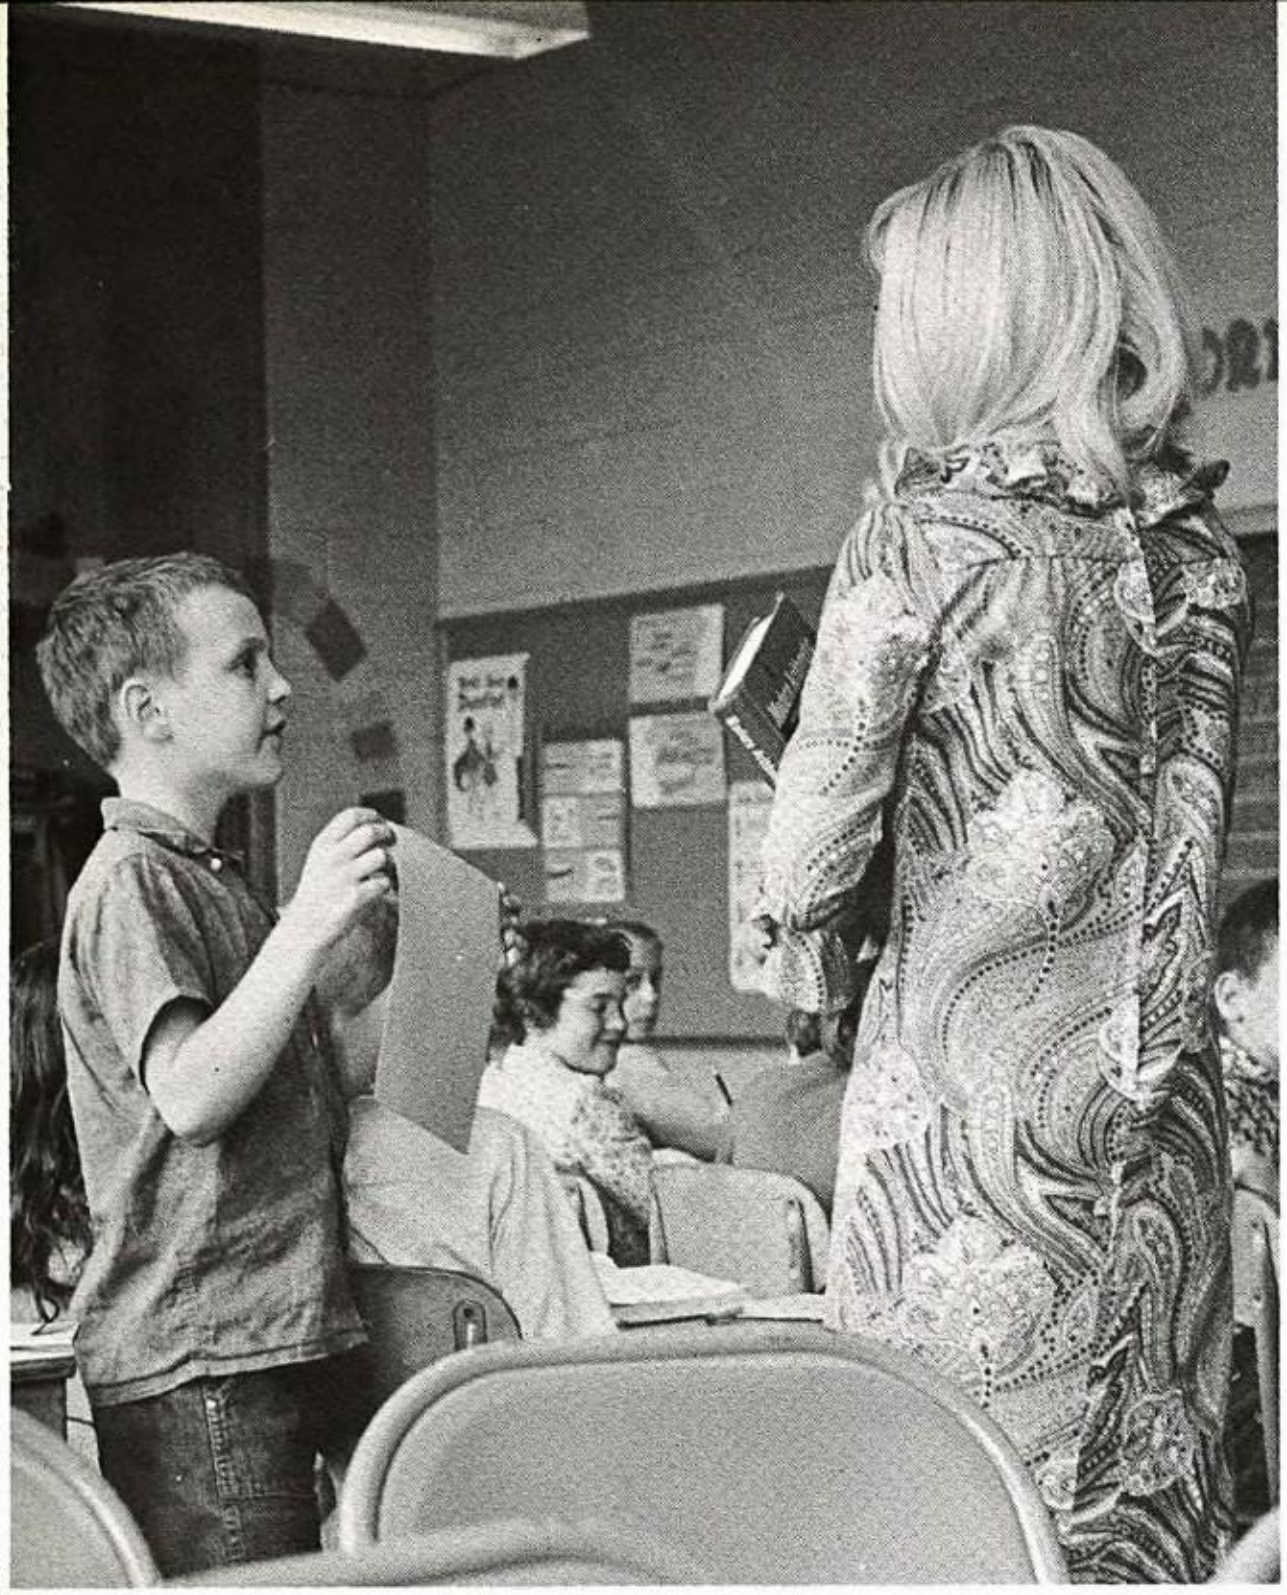
Below—"Is it all right if I print? We don't know how to write." This was the query after student teacher Denice Nault told her second graders to "write a sentence."



"Is this right teacher?" was a question asked many times of student teacher Judy Goodrich, who replaced Mrs. Mallock at Forman Elementary School.

'67 Seniors Experience Professions

"Where the action is" is where you can expect to find Hobart High's Seniors, as was proven on both Education Day and Government Day.

Education Day, April 6, provided Seniors with the chance to view school life from the other side of the desk, as they replaced most of Hobart City Schools' administration and faculty members.

After a day of observation, April 4, Seniors faced the responsibilities, challenges and duties of the school personnel. They had the opportunity to guide, instruct and counsel the students.

Principal Harold Moody announced that the 1967 Education Day was highly successful and therefore would be continued next year.

Members of the Class of '67 also took the positions of many Hobart City officials on Government Day, April 19.

Dave Walker and Carolyn Hallock assumed the positions of Mayor and Clerk-Treasurer, while Ed Esping and Rick Phillips served as city attorney and city engineer.

Councilmen for the day were Phil Stafford, Marcia Meilaender, Blanche Russell, Martha Stewart, Ralph Peters, Roberta Davies, and Bel Brandao.

Left—Reviewing fire statistics from the Hobart High fire drills were Hobart Fire Chief Harrigan and student Fire Chief Doug Fitzgerald.

Speeches, Applause, Cheers Enliven Convos, Pep Sessions

Speeches, applause and cheers were all a part of Hobart High's convocations and pep sessions.

Convocations ranged from ones on folk music to a "Romance of Words" convocation. Religious convocations included the three major religious festivals: Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

"Mr. Quaker," speaking at a patriotism convocation, received a standing ovation for his stirring and interesting speech.

Various school organizations provided convos, too. These included ROTC, Speech and Debate, Debuteens, Band, Dramatics, National Honor Society and A Cappella and Mixed Choirs.

Ending the year's convocations was the annual Honor Convocation at which awards were presented to outstanding students.

Pep sessions were held for the two Homecoming games as well as for a number of other football and basketball contests. Class competition and enthusiasm were aroused by cheerleaders and the Brickie coaches.

Left—Light Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation, or LASER Rays, was explained by a district representative of the Bell Telephone Company at a convo.

Gold Ticket— Sandor, Pike Win Election

"Vote Purple," "Vote Gold" were the hopeful cries from cars and bandwagons in the annual election parade. Students campaigned for their favorite party to win the offices of Mayor and Clerk of Student Council.

The new mayor Joe Sandor will preside over Council meetings, convocations and most school functions. Clerk Cindy Pike will carry on correspondence and write Council minutes.

Mayor-Clerk candidates were nominated by student majority vote at a convention. Candidates spoke on the "Qualities of leadership" and "The importance of voting." Because the election was conducted similar to city elections, students learned campaign rules, good sportsmanship and how to use voting machines.

Carol Pouler and Charlene Klemm took time out to vote during the Clerk convocation convo held for sophomores in the gymnasium.

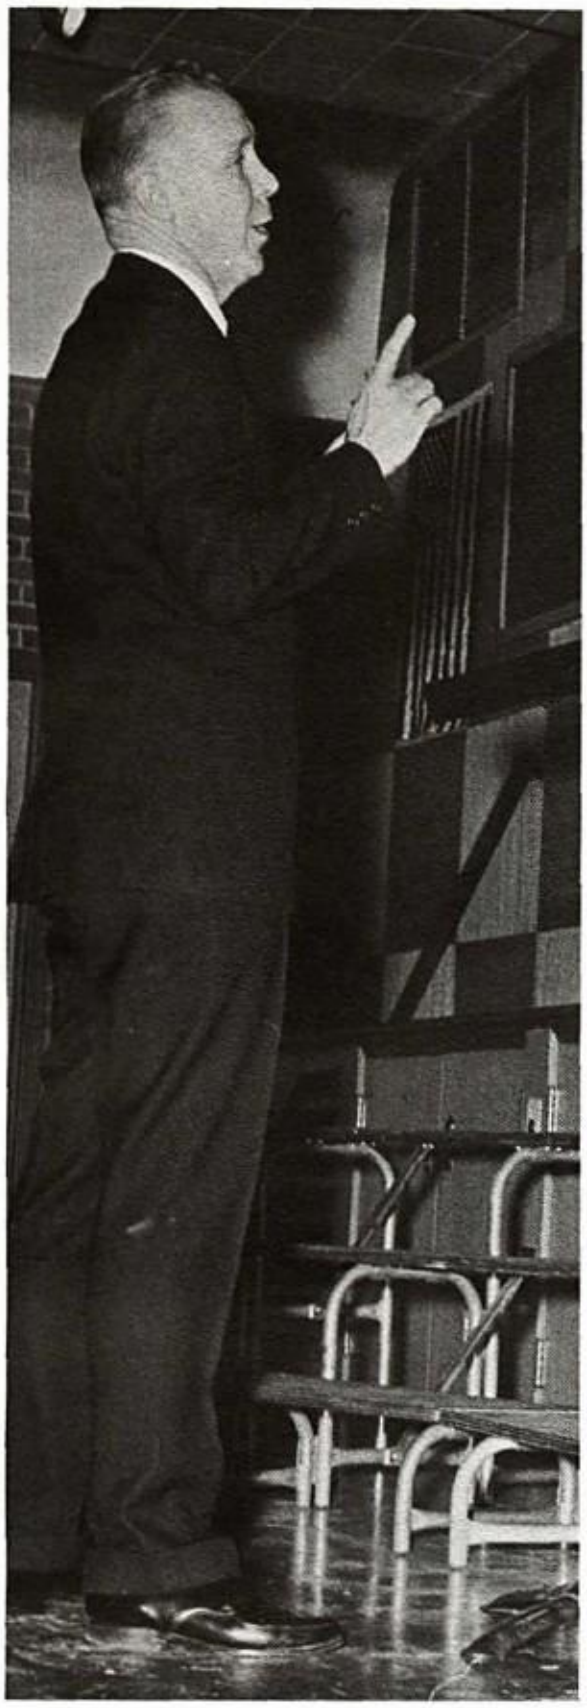
Concerts, Two Plays Rendered by HHS Classes to Public



Practice, talent and drive combined to make the music and drama productions successful. Much hard work and time on the part of both the director Mr. Roland Ralph and the students went in to each play and concert.

"Get Witch Quick" depicted the funny consequences to be expected when a witch falls in love with a mortal. "The Curious Savage" was the humorous story of the inmates of an insane asylum and efforts to keep even the sane Mrs. Savage institutionalized.

"Officer Krupke," "Carousel" and "Grasshopper" were a few of the songs presented by the A Cappella and Mixed Chorus at "An Americana Concert."

Skits, medleys and solos by members of the choirs were also included in the program. "An Americana Concert" replaced the annual musical presented by the A Cappella Choir.

Mr. Ralph asked for a higher note as he directed the choirs at "An Americana Concert."

Prom Becomes "Enchanted Gardens" for Pairs

Hotel Gary was decorated with pastel flowers and in soft hues to emphasize the theme for the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom, "Enchanted Gardens," May 6.

This memorable evening began about 6:30 p.m. When boys, dressed in tuxedos and equipped with large boxes, containing colorful corsages and nosegays, nervously arrived at their dates' homes. Girls in long, flowing gowns met their escorts at the door. Parents snapped pictures from every possible angle, and then couples were finally on their way.

In the Crystal Ball Room, couples danced to the music of Johnny Noland's Band.

During the dance John Marks and Denise Butler were crowned king and queen. Members of the court included Debby Blank and her escort Larry Longacre. Bel Brandao, Hobart's foreign exchange student, and George Bowman rounded out the select group.

At the post-prom party at San Remo's Restaurant, entertainment was provided by two WLS disc jockeys, Clark Weber and Ron Riley.

Two bands from Chicago, "The American Breed" and "The Wild" accompanied the disc jockeys and provided music for the occasion.

At 3:30 a.m. the post-prom party came to a close. Couples returned home to catch a few hours sleep before they packed up their lunch and headed to the Dunes for the final fling of the week-end.

Upper Left—Like many of the boys Sherman Wilcox, watched over his date's shoes, purse and flowers while she "prettied up."

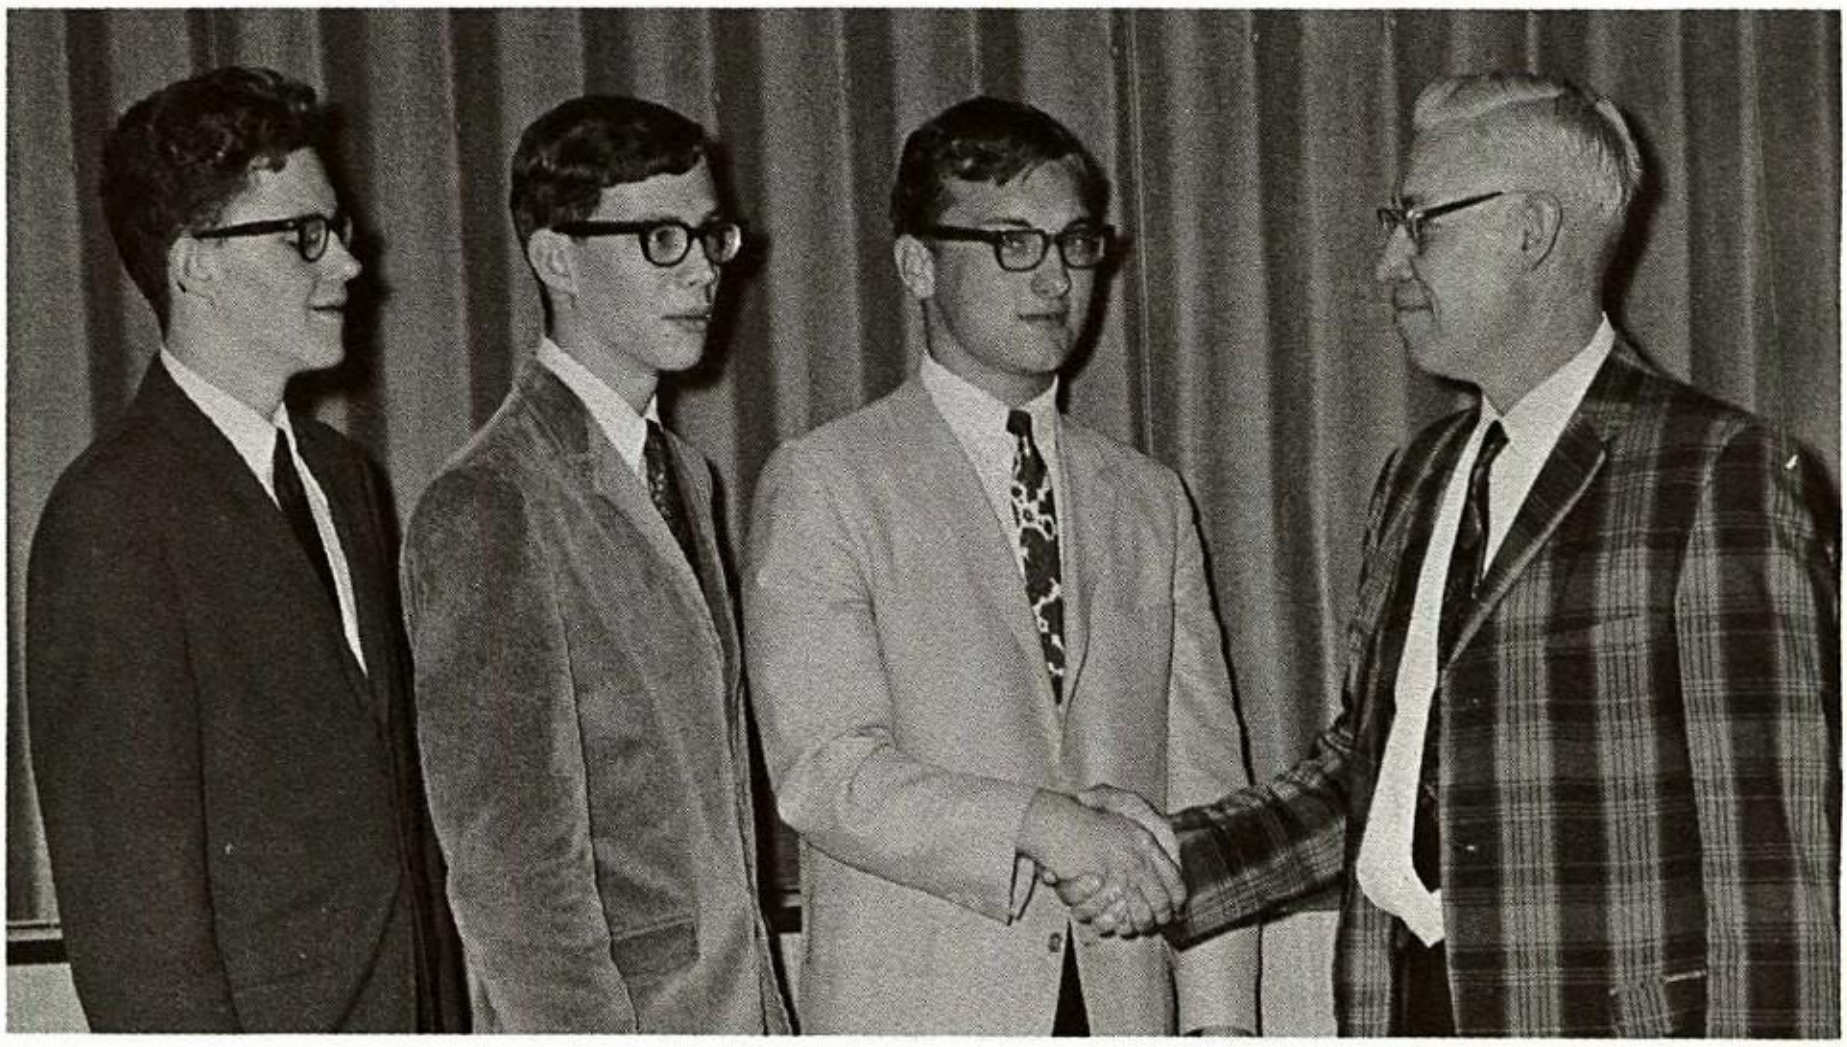
Below—Mr. Marion Bailey, Hobert High guidance counselor, congratulated the three students who received National Merit Certificates of Merit: Keith Hoover, Dave Matthews and Ed Esping.



Students Receive Scholarships; Recognition Rewards Service

During the course of the school year, many students received honors and were awarded for their diligent efforts.

Three HHS students received Certificates of Merit from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation: Ed Esping, Dave Matthews and Keith Hoover. Letters of Commendation went to Janet Shaddick, Marcia Meilaender, Elizabeth Abbott, Ralph Peters and Dan Taylor.

Local scholarships were awarded to Jill Stubblefield, Becky Neff, Jean Greene, Bev Benson, Roberta Davies and Jack Van Loon.

Marcia Meilaender received the Daughters of the American Revolution Award and was named by the Elks the outstanding Senior girl in the county and the state of Indiana.

Debby Blank was the Tri Kappa's choice as Outstanding Senior Girl. Dave Walker and Roberta Davies received the Activities Award, and Cyndi Lach won first place in the AAUW essay contest.

Marcia Meilaender and Doug Fitzgerald received the Optimist awards. A Cappella awards went to Jean Greene, Becky Neff and Martha Lindsey. Nancy Tidwell received the Jack Thomason and Arion awards, Anita Goodrich and John Phillip Sousa Award and Barb Hughes the Georgiann Murphy award, all for band.

Senior athlete awards were presented to Ted Esping, Tim Sargent, Ric Carter, Bob Mattix, John Marks and Rick Phillips. Tom Howatt received the Athletic Scholar Award, and John Marks was named Outstanding Senior Athlete. GAA plaques went to Roberta Davies, Pat Booten and Marsha Goss.

Sue Gronlund, Roberta Halvorson, Kandy Kendall, Steve Balash, Dale Bowman, Joe Sandor and Gary Sovich were chosen to attend Girls' and Boys' State. Outstanding Sophomore Girl and Boy were Nancy Holt and Wade Whitman.

Jack Van Loon happily accepted the Future Teachers of America Scholarship from an excited Mr. Robert Hunt at the Honor Convocation.

Baccalaureate, Graduation Climax Seniors'

HHS Tenure

Speeches, pictures, congratulations and smiles through tears—these were all integral parts of the Seniors' biggest moments: Baccalaureate and Commencement, May 21 and 24.

Culminating 12 years of study and preparation, the Baccalaureate service and the graduation exercises transformed the 385 Seniors to alumni.

Urging the Seniors to "build on the solid rock of Christ," the Rev. G. C. Meilaender spoke to the class at the Baccalaureate service.

Salutatorian Lynn Carlson at graduation advised her classmates to search for the "why" in life.

Focusing on words from three songs, valedictorian Marcia Meilaender asked that the Seniors "dream their impossible dreams," "strive to make life beautiful for all men" and "climb every mountain which life brings."

Main speaker for the graduation was Mr. Herbert Schwomeyer, Dean of Men at Butler University. His three-fold message for the graduates was "know yourself, control yourself and give of yourself."

Both the Hobart High Band and the A Cappella Choir added to the dignity of the occasion with several selections, and the choir ended Commencement by singing the Alma Mater.

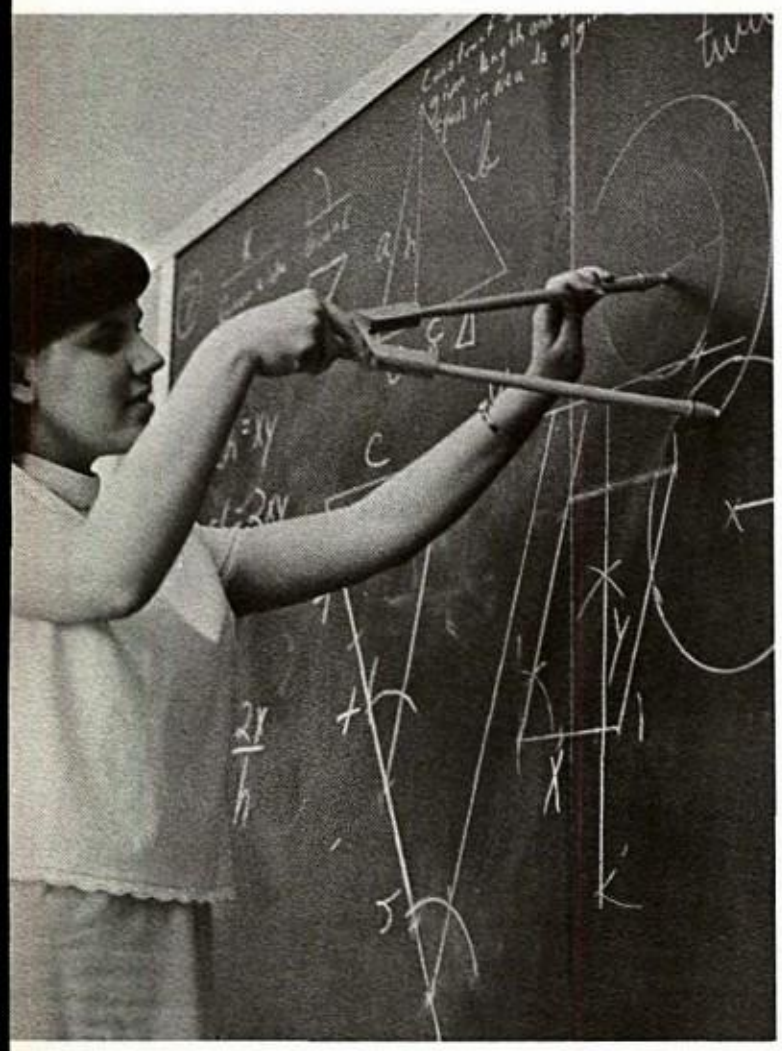
HHS classroom doors were ajar, revealing an atmosphere of concentration with instructors attempting to reach the student in more ways than the traditional grading system.

Individual preference as to curriculum determined whether a young mind figured the probability of pulling the red ace out of a card deck or puzzled over the syntax of a foreign language.

ROTC, The Novel and World Lit expanded Hobart High's academic program, while visual aids and overhead projectors supplemented many courses.

The foundation was laid by lingering in the classroom, and then we moved on.

Academics



Circles are plentiful as Terry Nasby prepares to explain a problem in plane geometry. But first comes the construction of the problem.

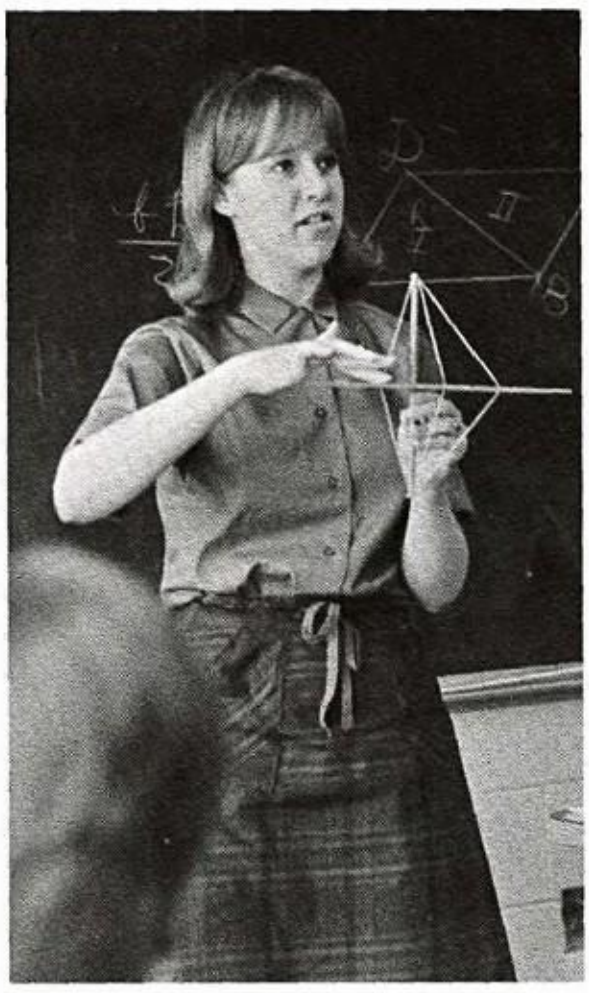
Five Math Instructors Guide Diverse, Accelerated Classes



Theorems about lines and planes became Debbie Fekete's responsibility in front of her geometry class, taught by Mr. Reed.

Mathematics instruction at Hobart High ranges from basic addition instructions to the complex study of vectors and solution of triangles.

Mr. Bryan Reed, teacher and head of the mathematical department, is aided by Mrs. Anita Sark, Mr. Glenn Robb and Mr. Stanley Sendarek.

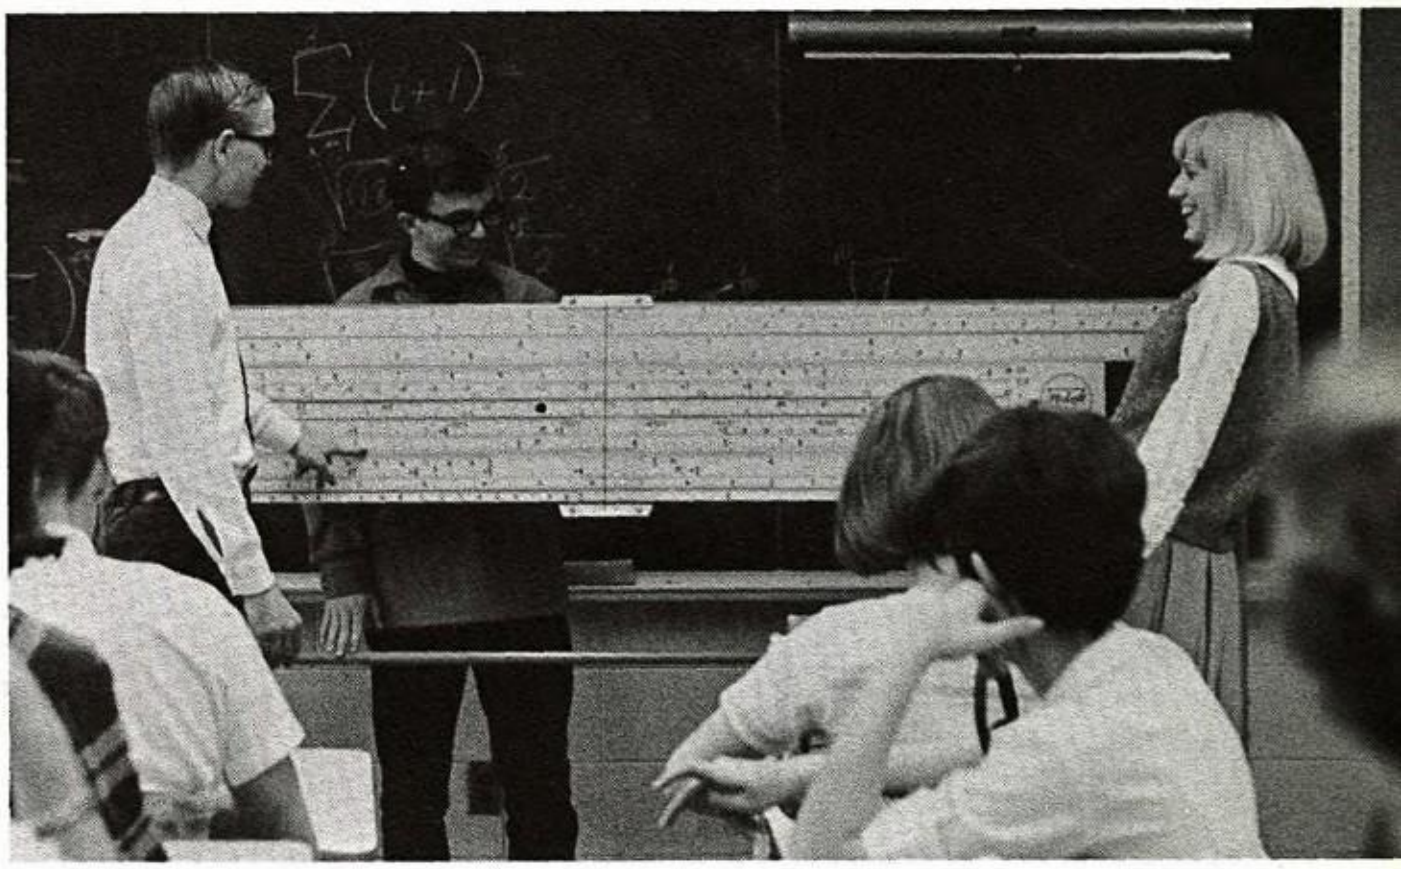
Starting the mathematical chain is general math, which acquaints the student with basic arithmetic principles.

Offered for the first time this year is business arithmetic taught by Mr. Videl Lopez. The course is provided in conjunction with both the math and business departments.

Algebra III-IV is designed to develop further these concepts, and the study of plain and solid concepts in beginning geometry makes use of learned algebraic skills in problem solving. Advanced geometry goes further into the study of these topics.

In trigonometry the students studied trigonometric functions and their relations in equations.

Senior math, exclusively college material, is taught by Mr. Reed and forms the final link in the math chain.



Demonstrating slide rule principles was the function of three algebra students for their classmates. Fred Franzwa, Paul Rompel and Sue Hinkle conspired to use the tool to perform a multiplication of logarithms problem.

Dissections, Measurements Thrill Science Bugs

Dissecting animals, measuring electric charges, performing experiments: in these ways the future scientists prepare for tomorrow. Hobart's Science department offers training in Biology, Physics, and Chemistry.

All sophomores are required to take the beginning Biology course. Then, if they prefer, they can go on to Advanced Biology. The advanced classes were taught by Miss Lola Stewart.

Performing significant experiments in Chemistry I-II, were the men and women who will hopefully perform the more serious experiments tomorrow. For those who are interested in continuing in Chemistry, third semester is offered.

Measuring electric charges was only one of the many projects undertaken as Mr. Senderak trained future physicists in the Hobart labs.

Learning in the Hobart labs today, these people will help shape the world of tomorrow, or at least have a better understanding of its complexity.

Left—Noel Moffett and Terry Nasby cut away the exoskeleton of a grasshopper before pinning it down during one of the dissection experiments for which biology students in first year classes combine efforts.

Student participation in English included the discussion of Vanity Fair, led by Miss Ellen Wischmeyer, a student teacher under Miss Halladay.

Right—Paste-ups for the newspaper were made easier by the use of the light table. Sally Shirey, Lee Cicak, and Sharee Benson demonstrate its use as they paste stories onto layout sheets for their respective pages in the school newspaper.

Dawn Maxwell, one of Mrs. Deal's honor English students, presents a mythology report to the students. Bullfinch's Mythology served as a reference book for further use by college-bound students.

New Classes Boost English Curriculum

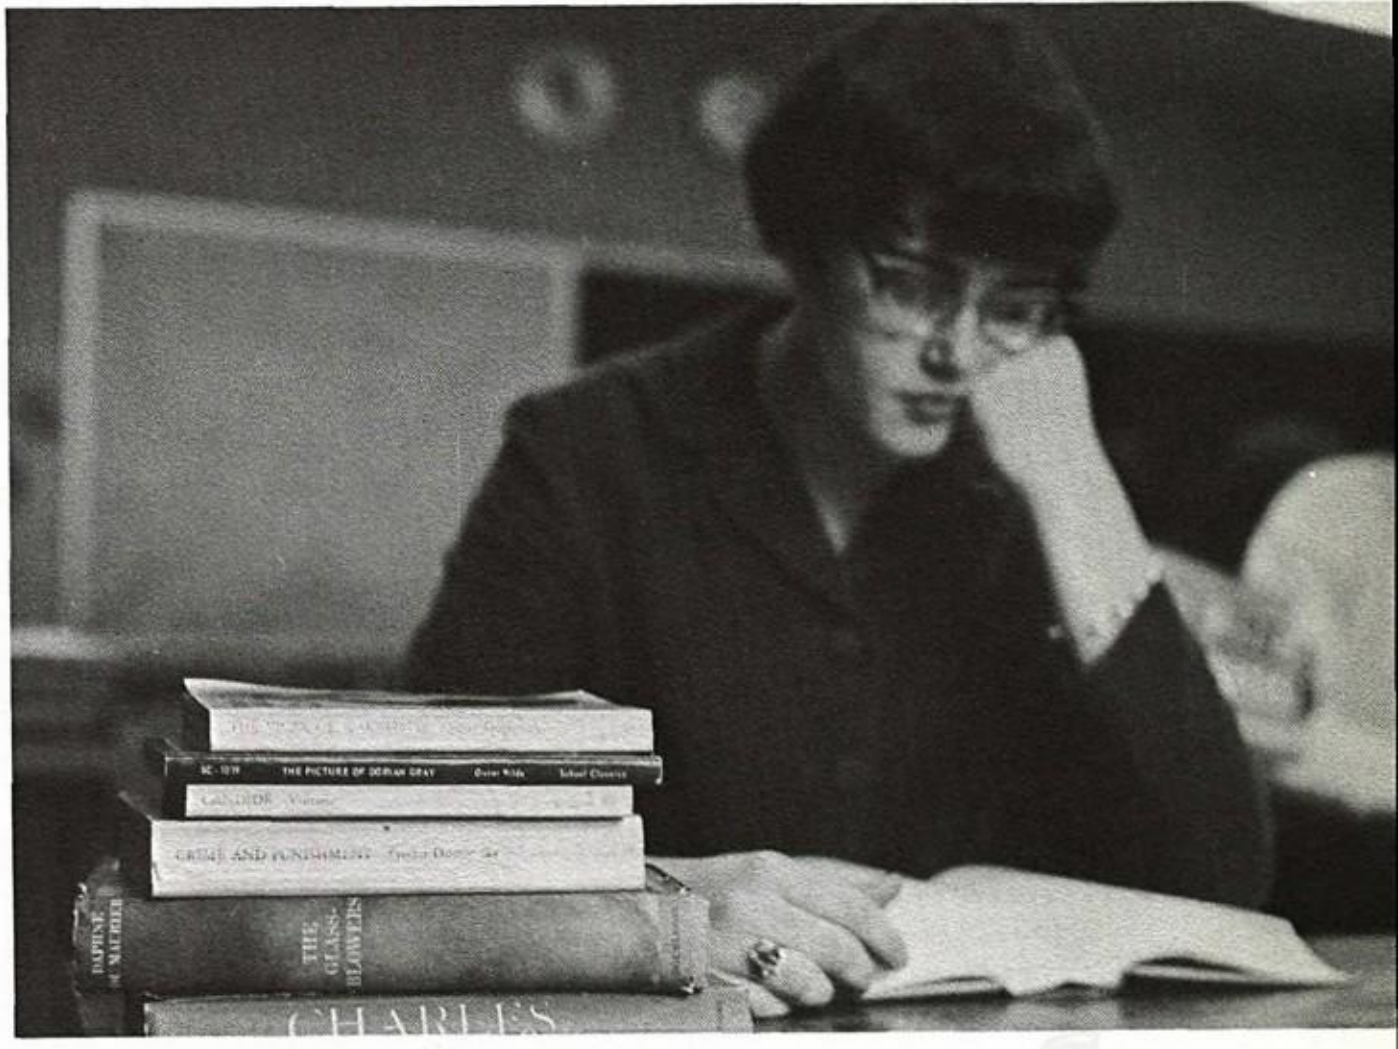
Two new English classes were added this year. The Novel and World Literature, both taught by Mrs. Eleanor Deal.

The Novel classes went into the workings of many of the great novels. World Literature classes studied the classical literature of different countries.

Something else that was added was the division of the English classes into honors, regular, and remedial or special classes.

In speech and debate the respective teams continued their winning ways this year, once again under the advisorship of Mr. Larry Weise.

Journalism I and II trained students for future work on the HO-HI LIFE or MEMORIES yearbook. Last year the staffs received excellent ratings from their rating services.



Four required novels and two other novels of a students own pick were pre-requisites in a newly introduced class, The Novel, taught by Mrs. Deal.

Above—Third-Year Spanish students, along with "Senor Neff," completed several workbooks during the year to work toward a mastery of the Spanish language.

Right—Preparation for the Saturnalia involved the proper way to put on a toga. Charles Lee gives Dick Ballard a quick demonstration of how it is done.

Ann Hallock thumbs through a calendar in Mr. Black's Latin room to check the date of the annual Saturnalia.

Four Tongues Tie Students to Countries

"Perhaps of all the creations of man, language is the most astonishing." It makes communication with others—whether in Hobart, Indiana, or in Hobart, Tasmania—possible.

Hobart High provides from two to four years of a foreign language to any student at the high school.

Achieving better understanding among the people of the world is the chief aim of the language arts department at HHS, and this is possible only through world communication.

Overhead projectors were obtained this year to aid the teaching of Hobart High's foreign languages: Spanish, Latin, French and German.

The projectors aided not only in the presentation of homework and class material, but also in the presentation of supplementary material.

French students were kept attentive in class by Mrs. Friedrich's teaching techniques. Concentration and understanding were the main essentials in a language classroom.

Left—Overhead projectors proved useful to Mr. Neff in showing a large class the correct Spanish translation of an English sentence.

Right—Senior Shirley Katunich glanced over newspapers from the World War II period. Many of today's students are awed by the events which their parents participated in.

Speakers, Displays Give Variety to History

During the year Mr. Kristoff invited two guest speakers to talk to his classes on their experiences in World War II: Miss Helen Hopp, who served as a sergeant in the WAC's, and the Rev. Wallace, a World War II pilot.

Maps, newspapers, Japanese flags, army uniforms and bayonets were displayed in Mr. Scarborough's U. S. History class.

Thanks to many of his U. S. History students, Mr. Scarborough's Indian arrow head and relic collection, which was on display all year in the classroom, has grown considerably. Some of the relics were found by Mr. Scarborough, but most of them were donated by students.

New overhead projectors were purchased by the history department to aid teaching geography, history and government.

Walter Cronkite might resemble a big brother from "1984," but actually Mr. Kristoff's classes were watching a movie about the transcontinental railroad.

Above—Discussing the nation's executive branch, Senior Doug Lacey pointed out the attorney general's duties. Listening were Mark Hughes, Jean Karner, Ed Esping and Kathy Enslen.

Left—Checking the loading apparatus of a World War II rifle, Janet Shaddick took a few minutes of her study time to peruse some war relics.

Senior Pat Anduski used a dictaphone during an exercise in office practice class. Dictaphones are used to improve typing speed and to give students a knowledge of dictation methods used in offices. Pat listens to a dictation and then types what she hears to complete an assignment.

Business Acquires Two Typing Teachers

Two new teachers were added to the business department. Mrs. Carol Sue Pflughoeft and Mr. Donald Hancock both teach first year typing. Mr. Hancock also instructs Senior economics classes.

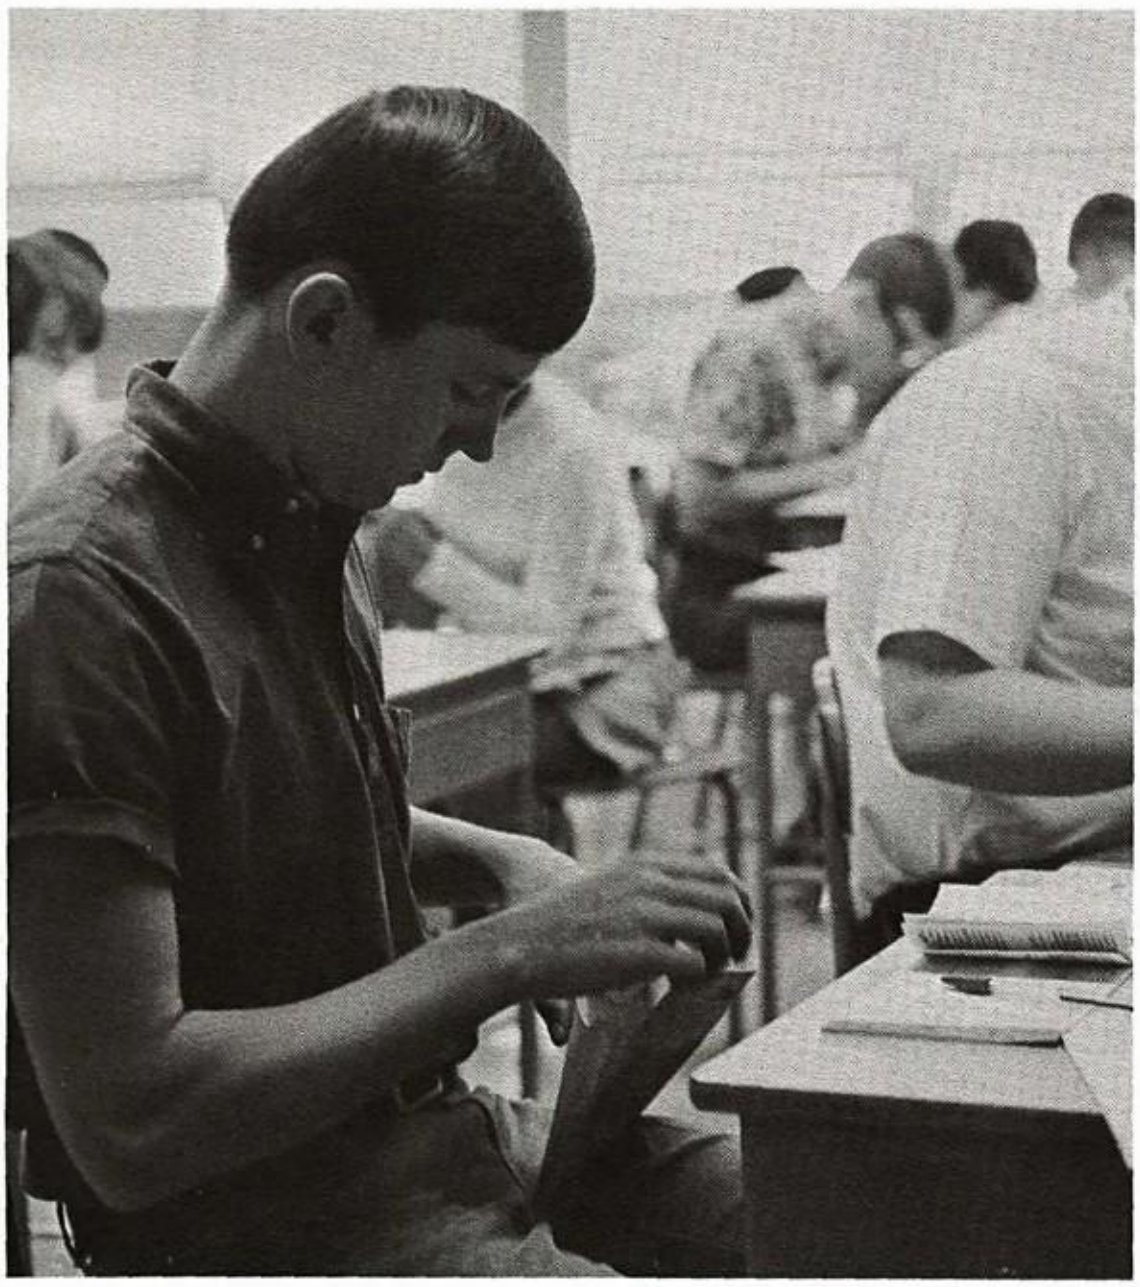
Hobart High's Business Department is designed to prepare today's students to become tomorrow's secretaries, stenographers and business executives.

Classes in shorthand, typing, business law and business English, bookkeeping, and office practice, all aid young people in becoming the better workers of tomorrow.

Many girls on the Commerce Curriculum are given first hand experience in office work by working for one hour a day at various offices in the Hobart School System.

In the office practice classes, girls learn to operate calculators, adding machines and comptometers.

Right—Senior Ellen Carr diligently works a problem from her answer sheet with an electric calculator in Miss Todd's office practice class.



Posture is strongly emphasized in first year typing classes by the use of attractive bulletin boards and inspection by the teacher.

Left—Danny Ahrens files records for bookkeeping practice set. The project was to keep a set of records for a hardware store during the months of December and January.

Right—Imagination plays a large part in Art III. Senior Sandy Kacinski ponders as to which color to use for her still life oil painting.

Far right—The conditioning of leather is really very simple, or so it seems to Mr. Gerl, Arts and Crafts teacher. Students learn how to work with metals, plastics, ceramics, and leather in Crafts.

Music, Arts, Cooking Tastes Enriched in Fine Art Classes

Fine Arts courses at Hobart Senior High School include A Cappella and Mixed Choirs, Band, Crafts and the Art classes. Talent, as displayed by Hobart students might be a trumpet solo, a landscape painting or a soprano duet.

"An Americana Concert" was the name of the program put on April 14, by the A Cappella Choir. Under the direction of Mr. Roland Ralph, it presented popular American hit tunes of past years.

Among the high points of the concert band's activities, under Mr. Alvin Rogers, was participation in the state band contest, April 15, in which the band received its 37th straight double A rating. This is the longest string of first division ratings in the nation.

Next December holds a new experience for the band when it partakes in the Midwest Music Clinic in Chicago. It was one of four bands chosen from high school bands across the country.

Window designs at Christmas in the lobby and a display of art pieces in the east hall keep the aspiring artists well occupied.

Something new added to the art department is the easily transported table easel for the painting of still lifes and other oil paintings which are done by the third semester classes.

Art students are also active in the production of the KILN. The cover and several vignettes give life to the book and at the same time, shows various talents of the art students.

Left—Linda Norris, Bev Reinert, Midge Kyle and Linda Hrapcak use color charts, common sense, and dreams to produce a house plan in home economics class.

Phys Ed Tones Up Muscles, Coordinates Body Movements

Many new additions were added to the physical education department. Among these was the addition of a new teacher, Mrs. Alice Adams.

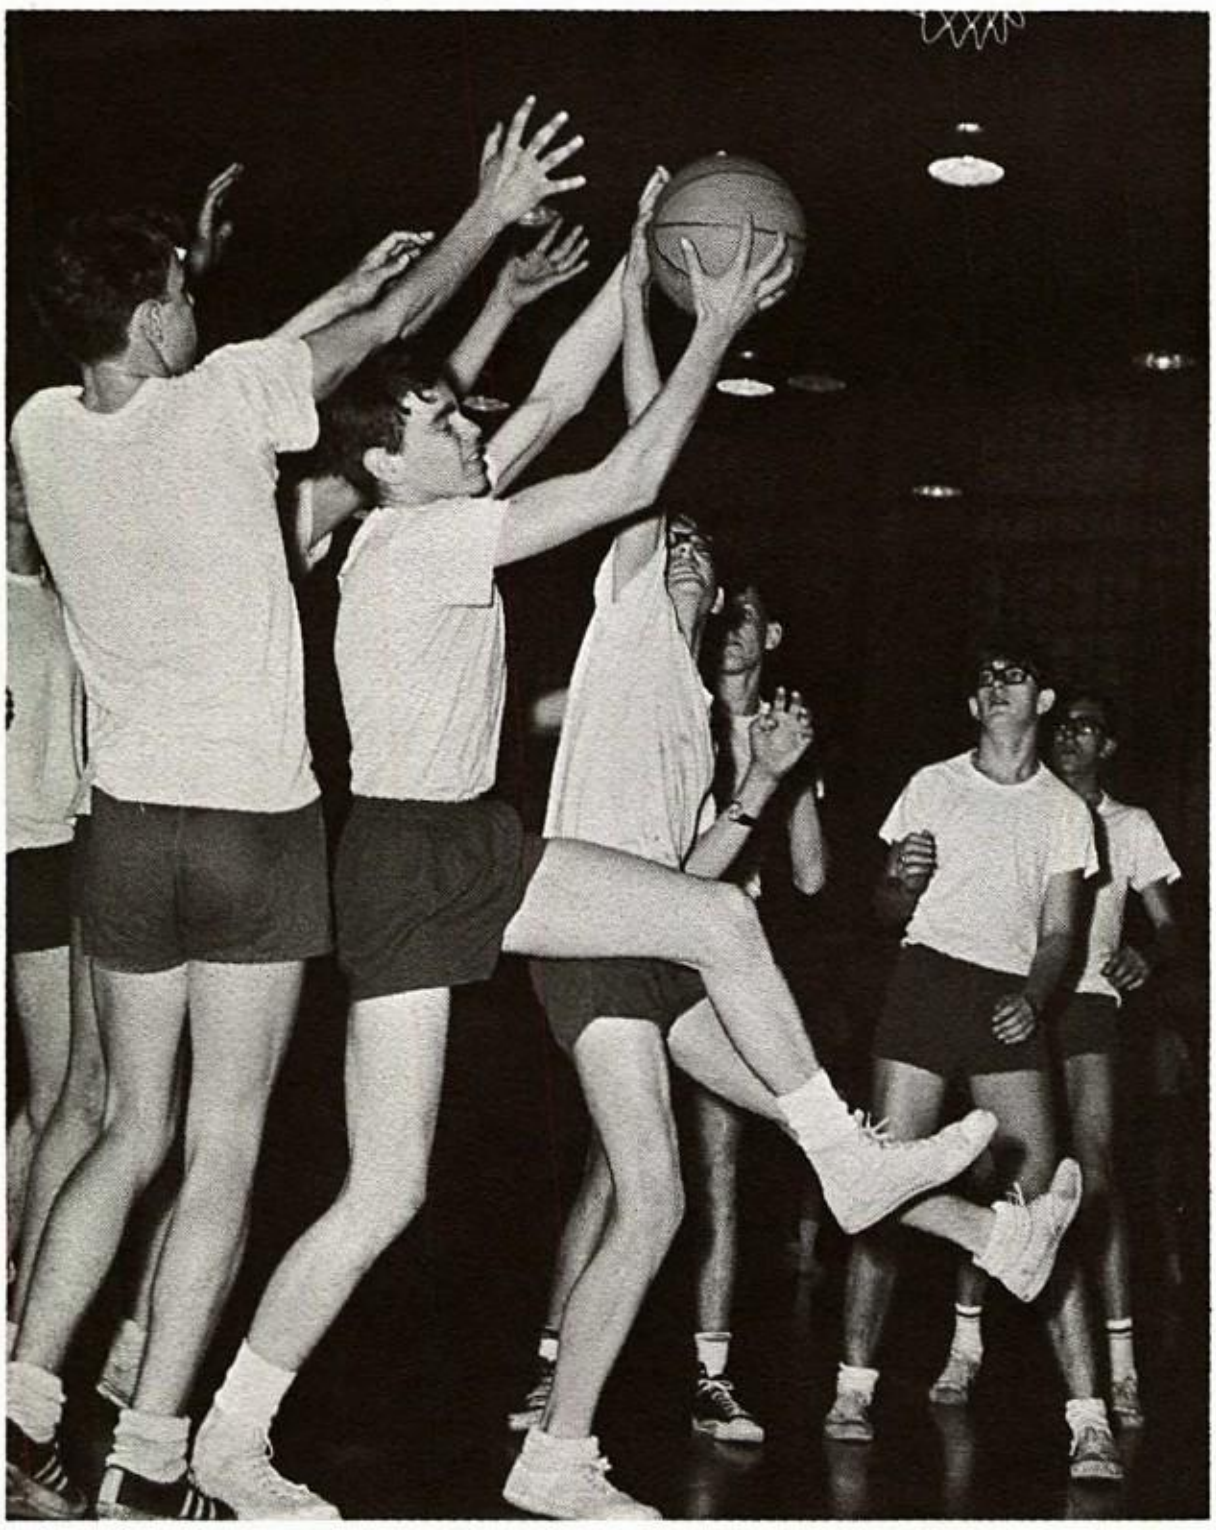
Teaching the students to co-ordinate body movements and strengthen bodies is the purpose of physical education.

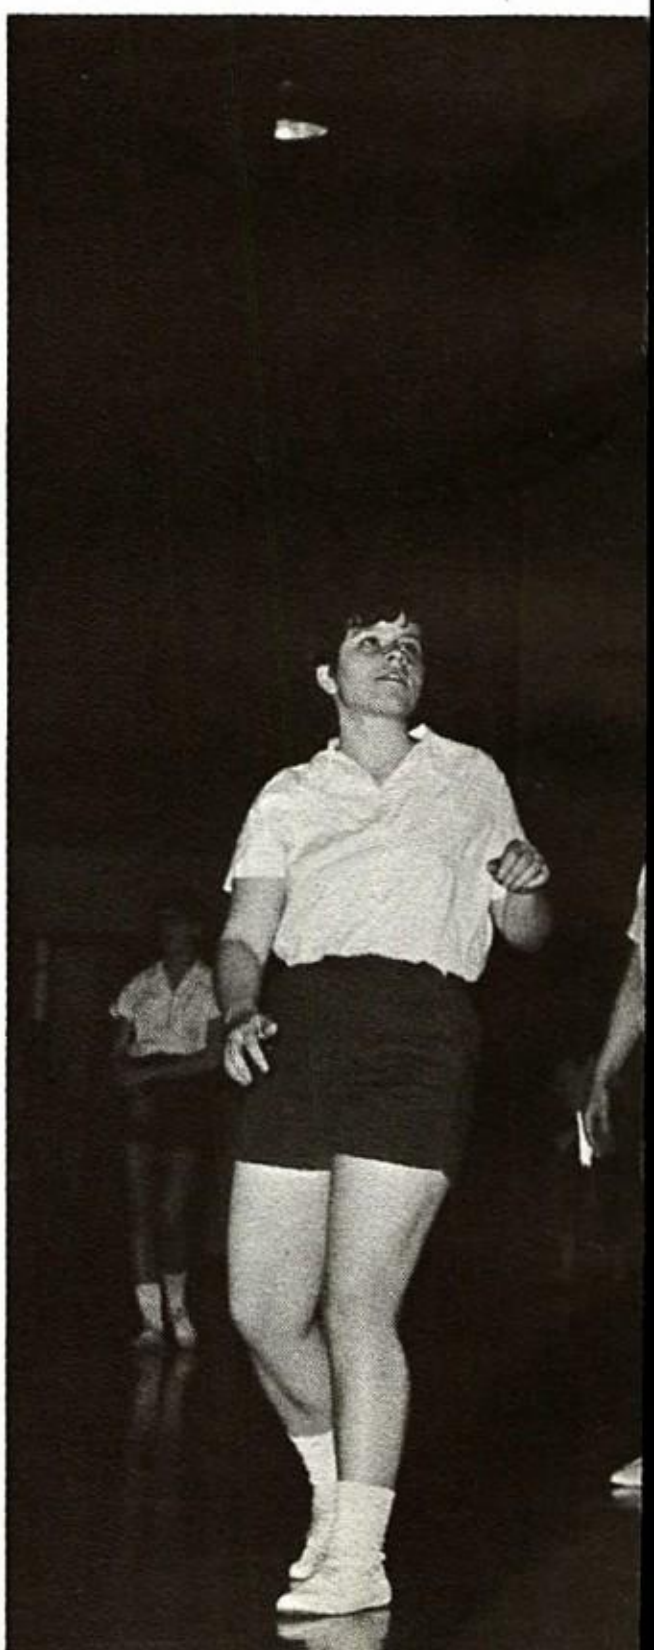
New courses this year in the girls' gym classes were folk dancing, rhythmics, and movement fundamentals.

In addition to some new weight-lifting apparatus in the boys' gym class, the physical education classes have a new mini-tramp which is shared by both classes.

Each student must complete two credits in physical education as required by Indiana state law unless excused by a doctor's excuse.

Grades are usually given on the basis of skill tests for each sport.





Battling under the boards, members of Mr. Kurth's gym class fought over a rebound. The class was split into a number of teams which were then pitted against each other.

Catching a missed shot by her teammate, sophomore Winnie McClain makes a successful catch of a serve in gym class. The girls include ring toss as one of their activities.

Above—Struggling at the net to spike the ball, boys in Mr. Kurth's gym class attentively participate in a volleyball contest which helps to relieve the day's frustrations.

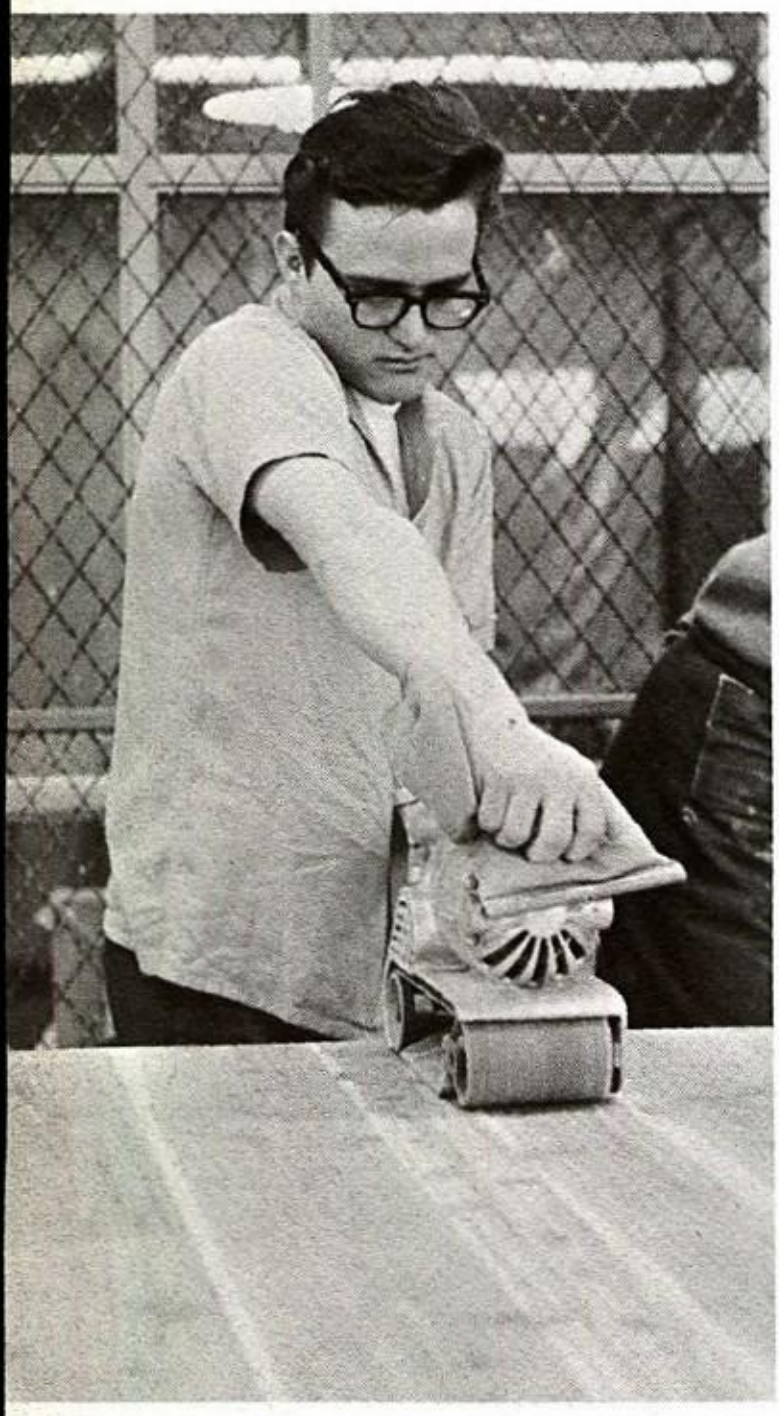
As Hands, Minds Combine; Tools Gain Impetus to Build



Those who will build what must necessarily be tomorrow are in training in Hobart's technical arts department.

A pair of hands is merely a tool for accomplishing an end. But tomorrow it will be the intricate designer of the buildings we hope to find to make the world a little bit more comfortable. The drafting classes at HHS train these hands for the much needed work cut out for them.

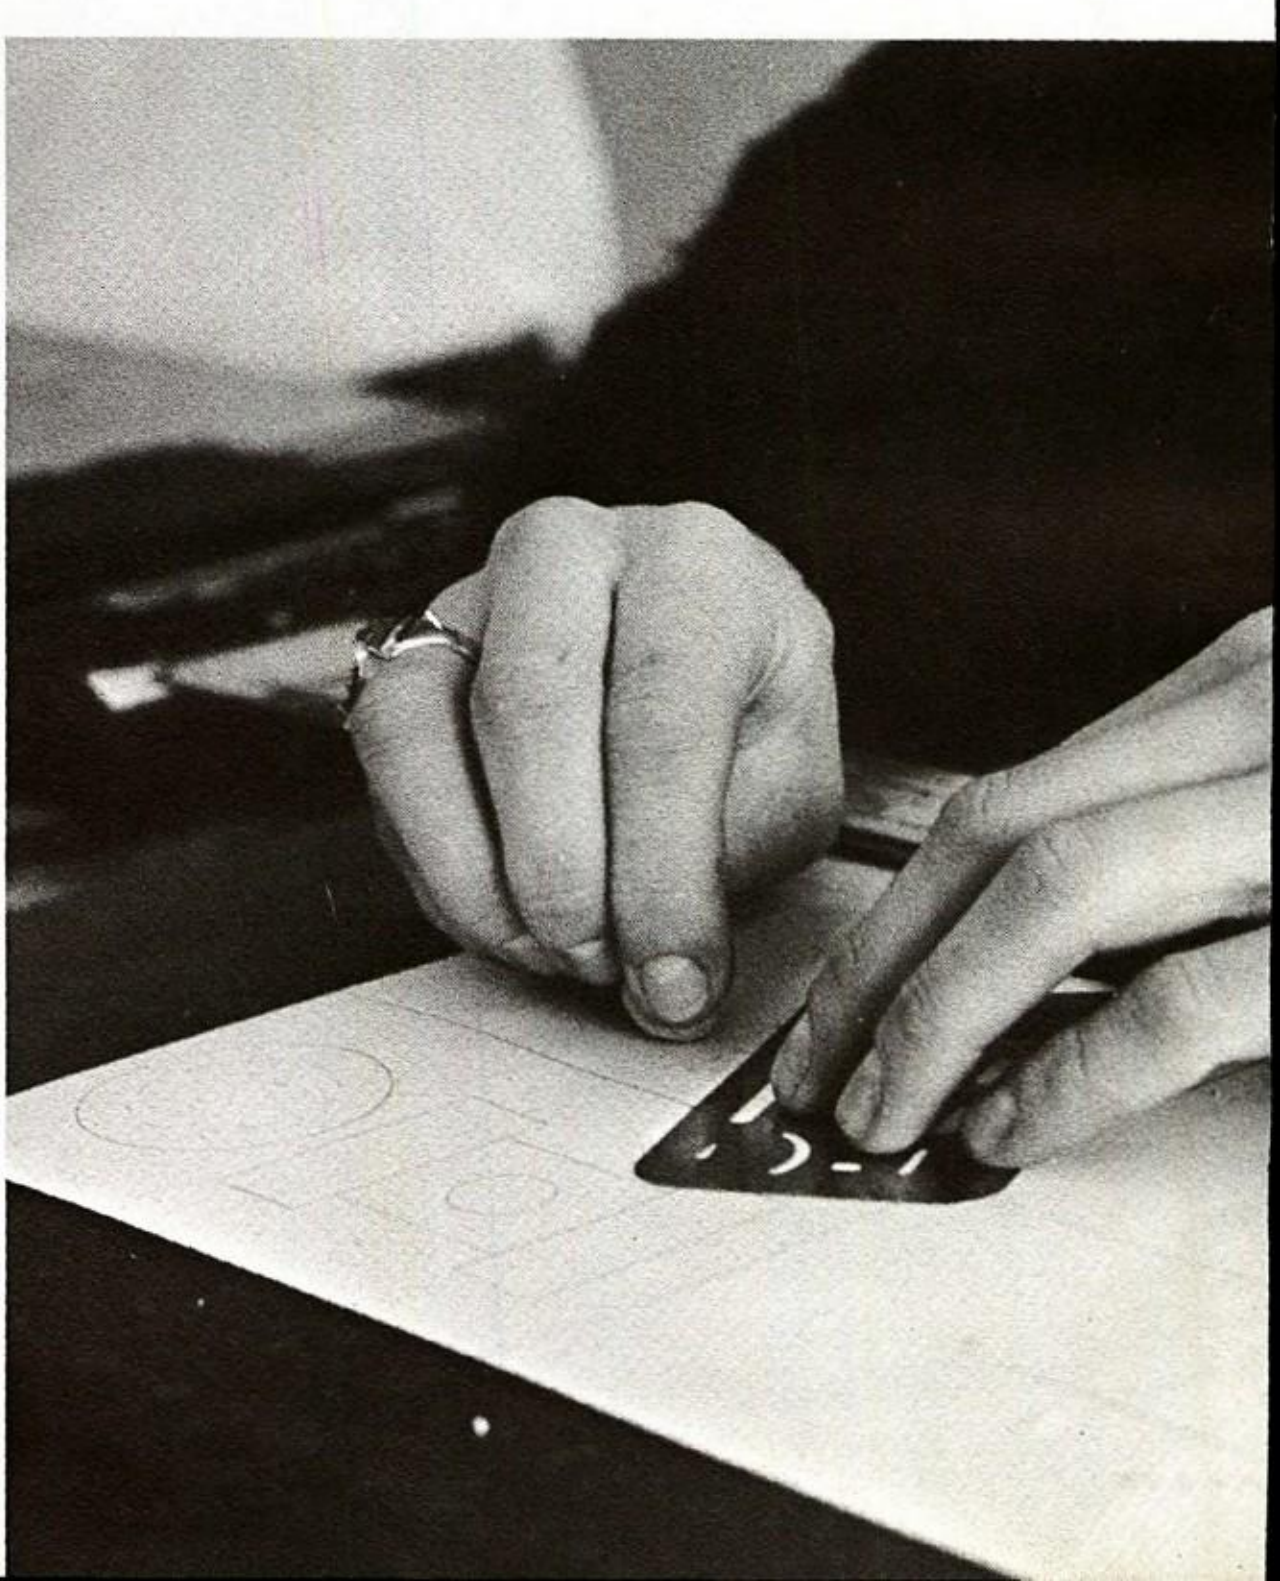
A piece of wood and another pair of hands are two objects, one inanimate and the other a possessor of so much potential. When put together they can add up to any one of innumerable treasures: a beautiful pair of bookends, perhaps a desk or a study table.

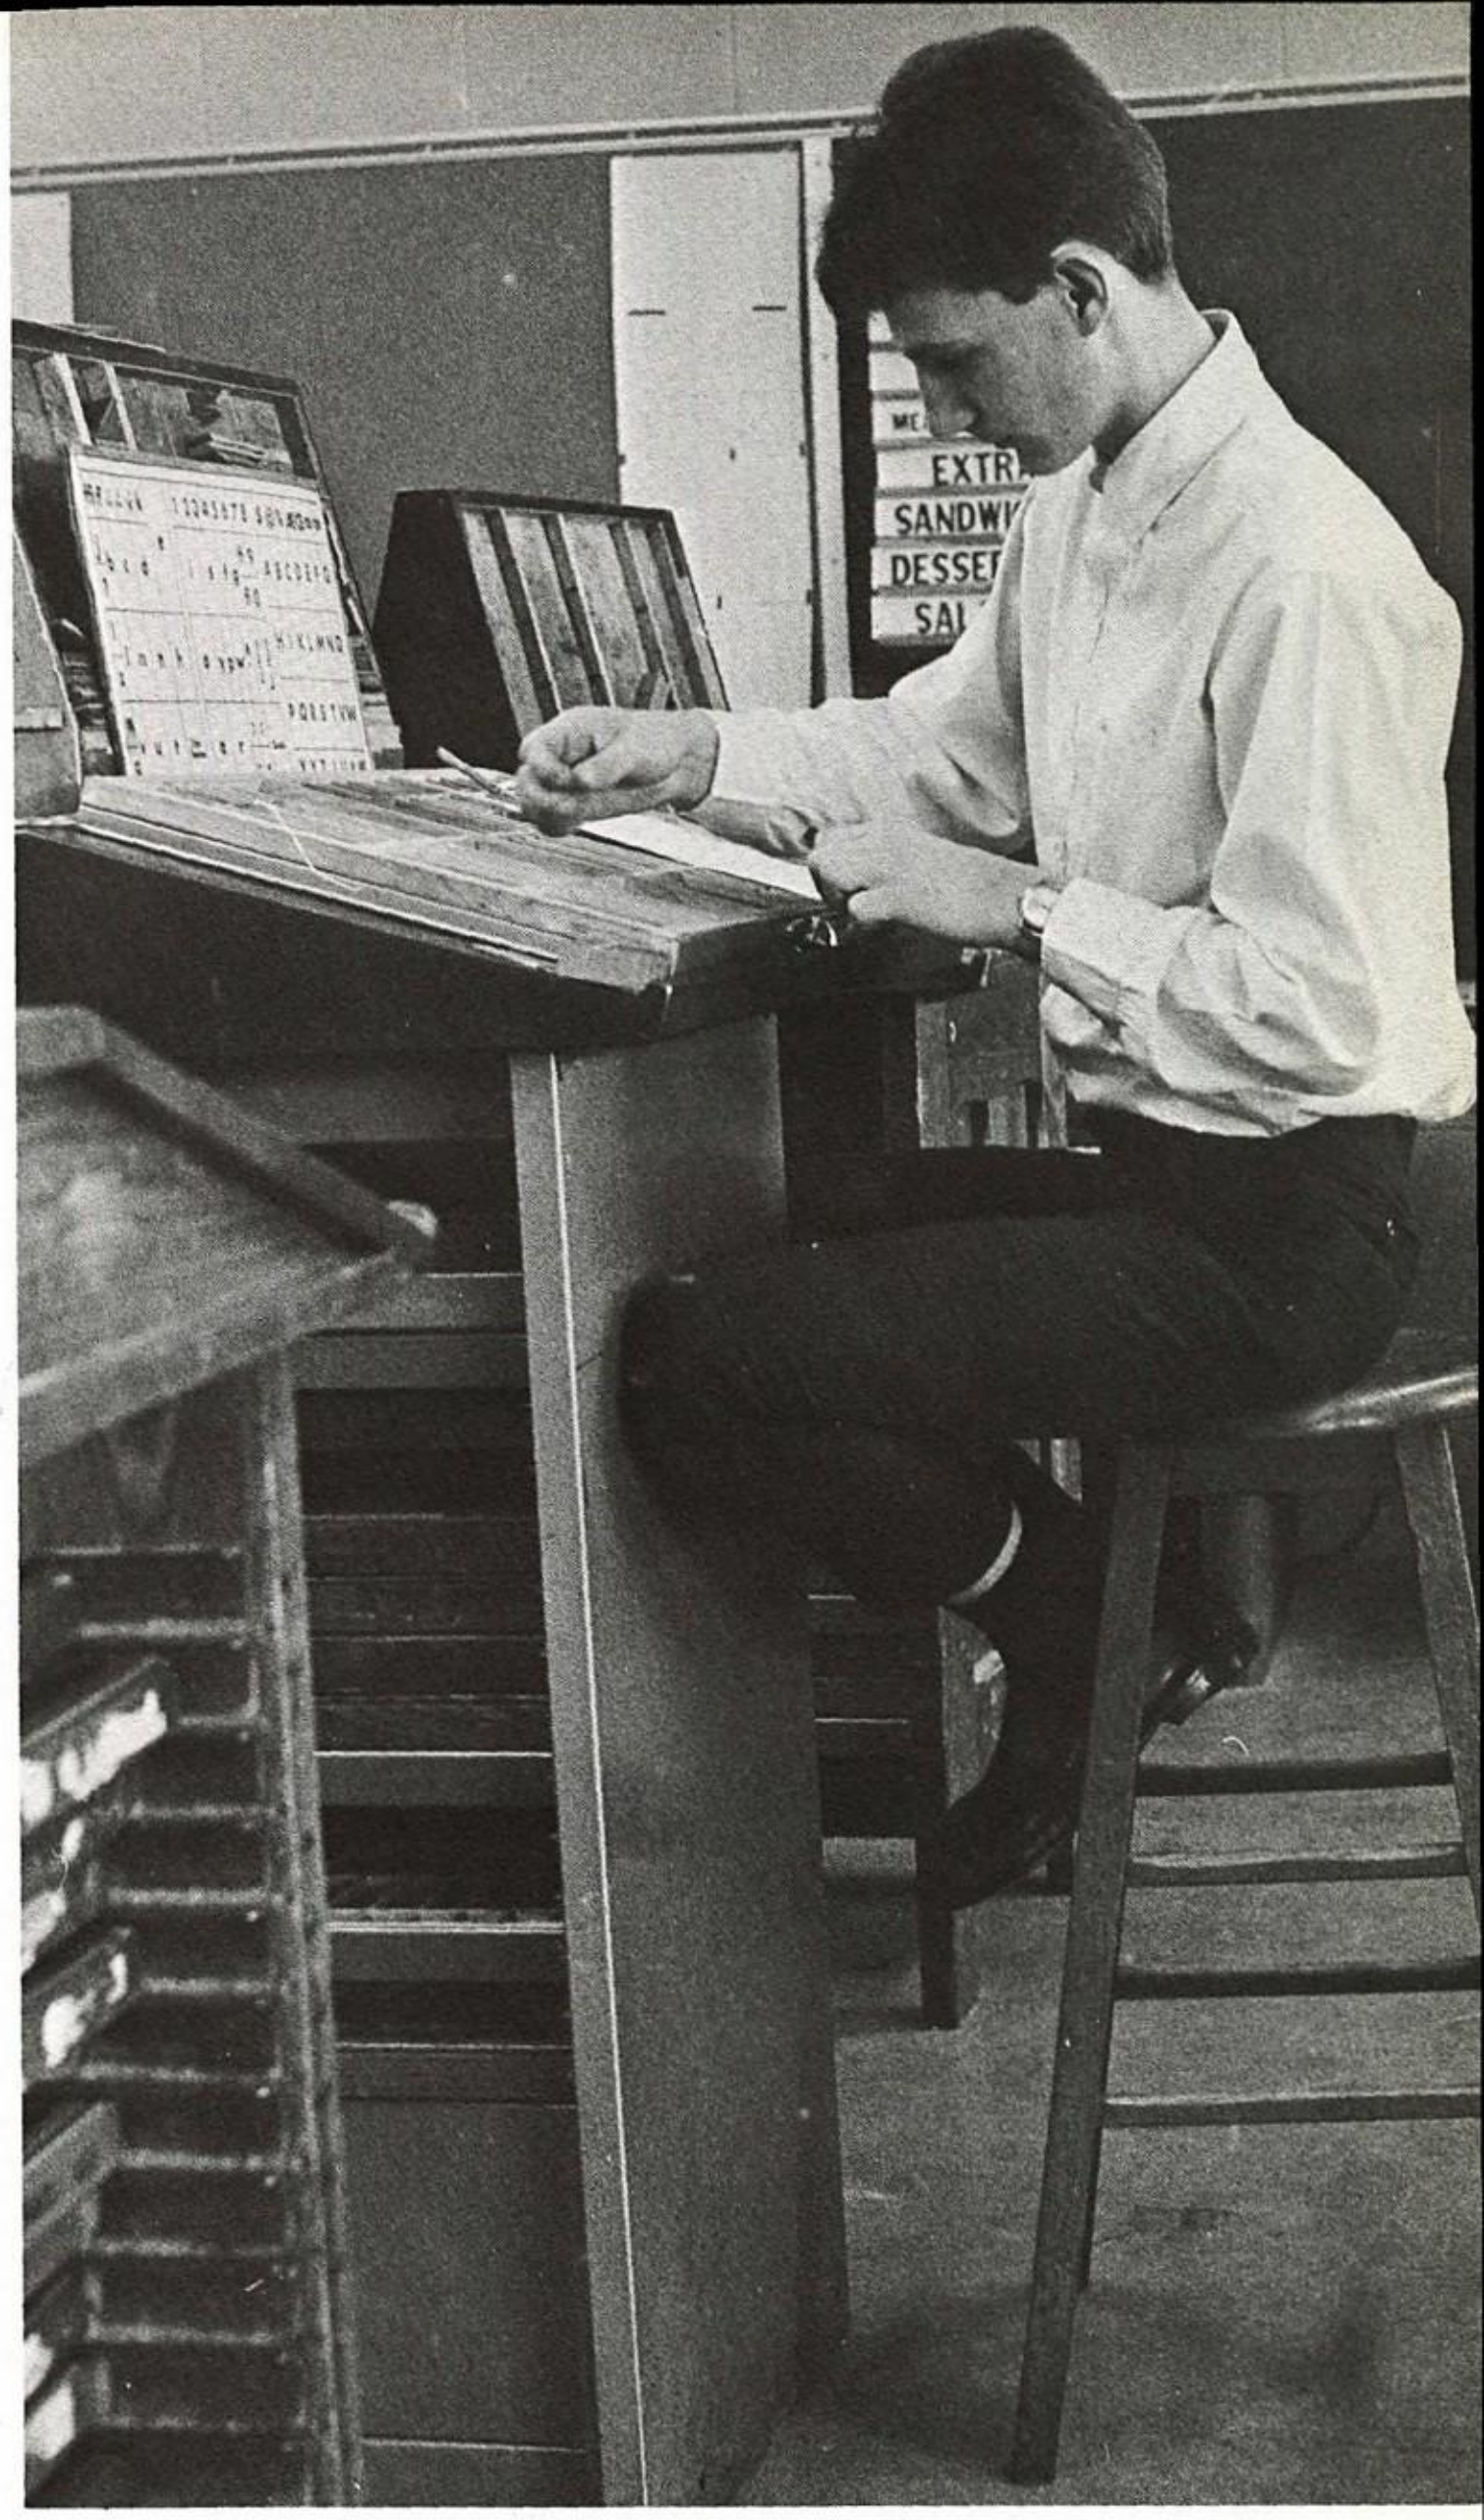
The finished product of this training is satisfaction and useful knowledge for the future.

Rodney Lucas grimaced as he concentrated on sanding the wood that the shop boys made into the Senior name board.

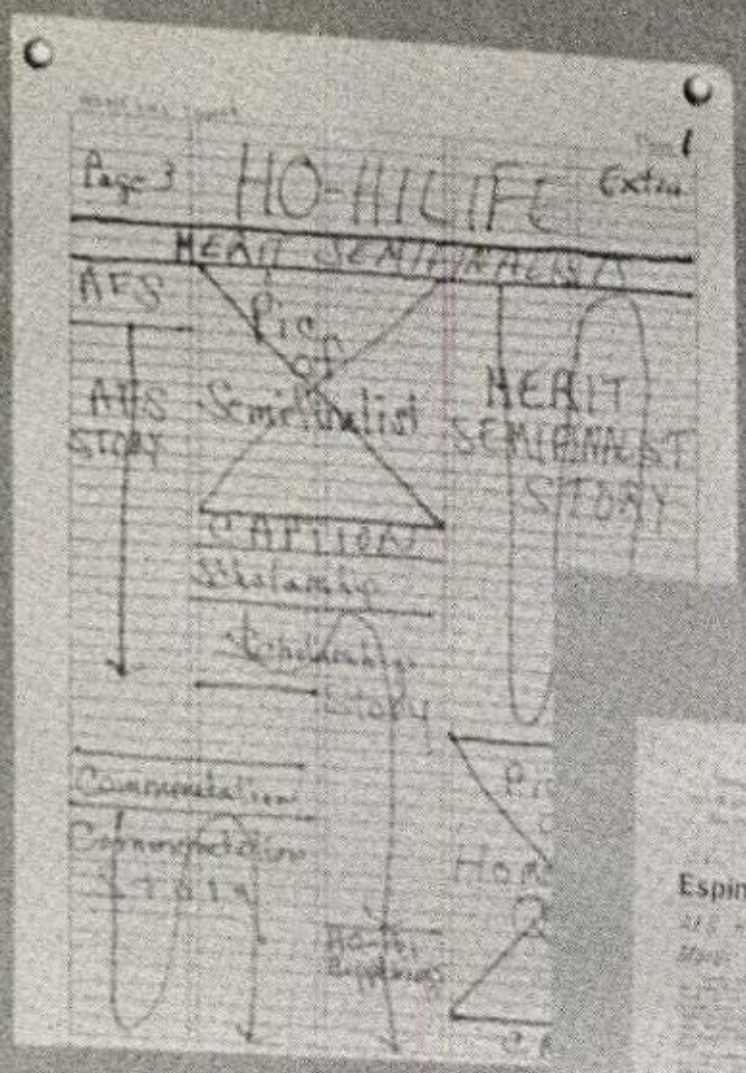
Upper right—Careful, close inspection was given to the graduation program proof sheet as junior Sharold Dooley diligently proofread the material in print shop.

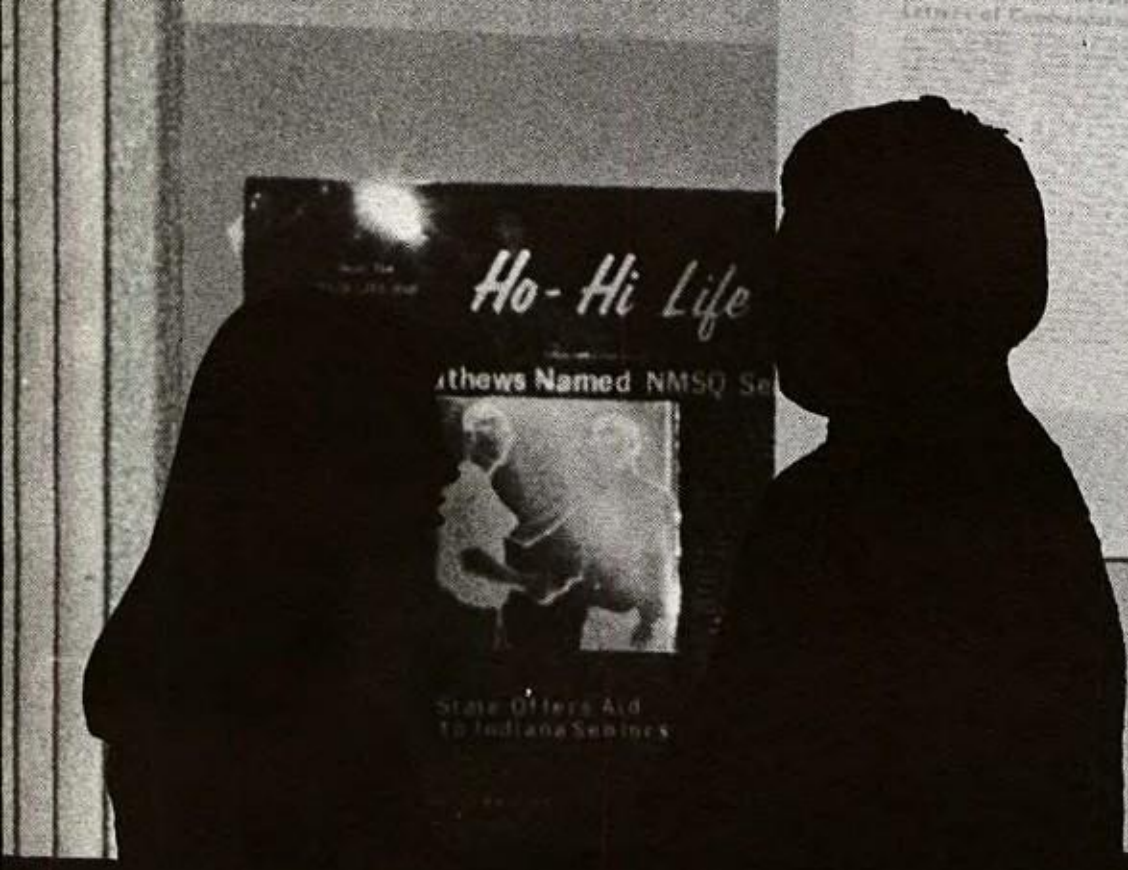
Right—Capable, sure hands work out a drafting exercise for metal working in which the students reproduce their drawings three times before the finished product is achieved.





Putting back type according to the California Job Case was Senior Pete Pall, after he set up the type for the tickets for "Sentimental Journey," the Senior class party.





Although the accomplishments and specific purposes of the Ho-bart High organizations vary, the basic goal of each is to provide students with opportunities for c o m m u n i c a t i o n, s e l f-expression and achievement.

In school student government was promoted, leadership was rewarded and clubs were commended for their efforts.

Club activities, ranging from the Latin Saturnalia to the Debuteen B u n d l e Drive, were not only chances for enjoyment but also proved worthwhile stepping stones to greater responsibilities when students will enter college or the ranks of working men and women.

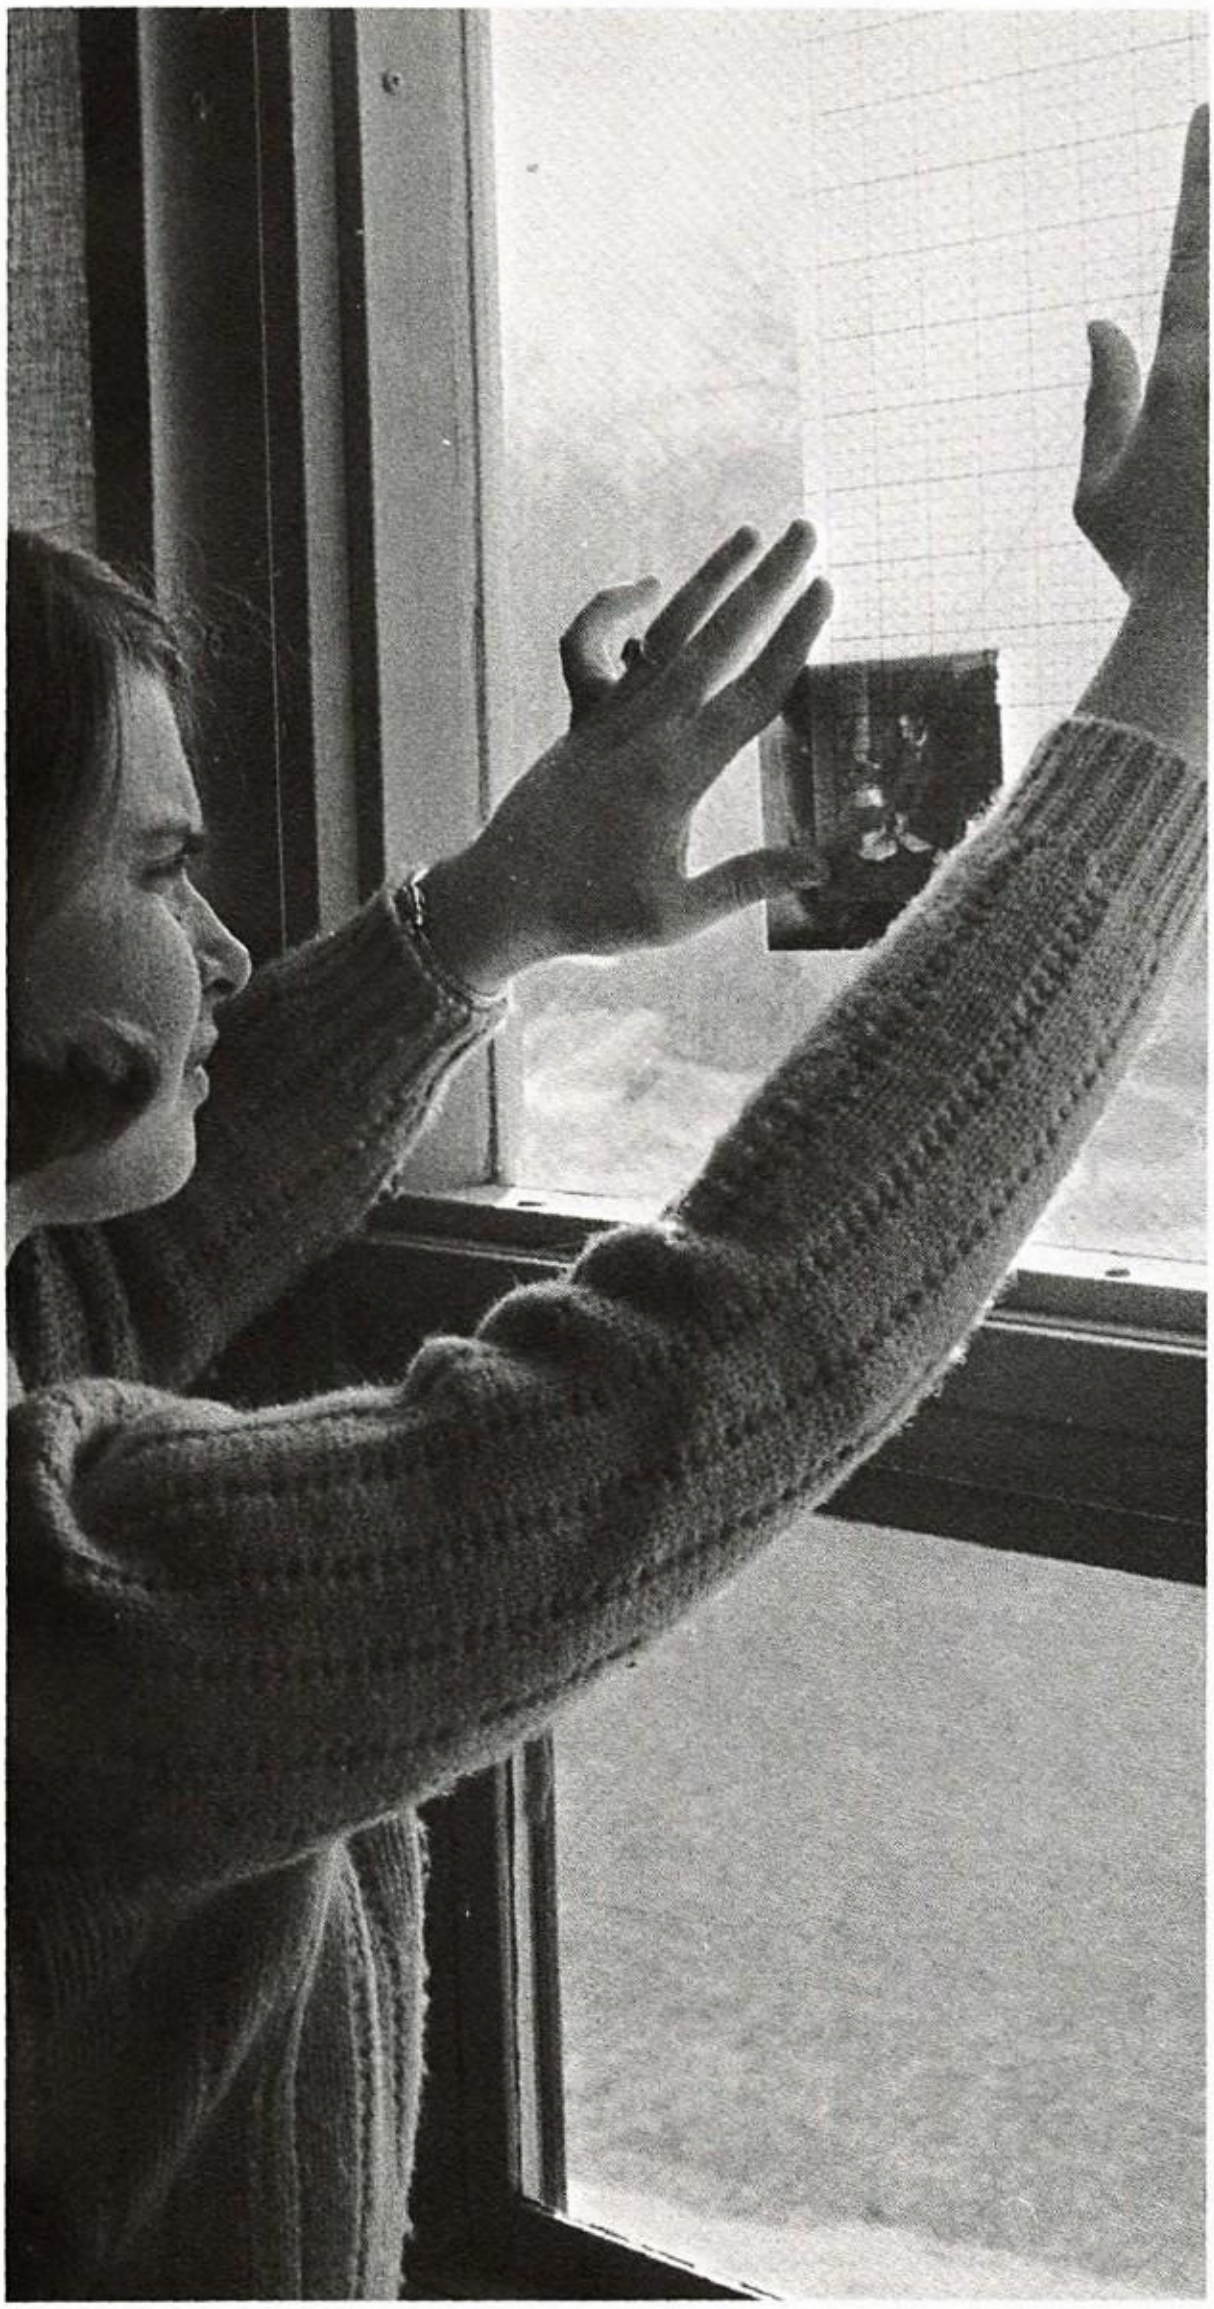
Double checking student yearbook receipts, Business Manager Betty Keith and assistant Ruby Donaldson handled the financial end of the yearbook. Orders were taken for over 850 copies of MEMORIES, the largest number ever sold.

Ratings Awarded 1966 Memories Staff



All-American, A+ and First Place ratings were awarded the 1966 MEMORIES by three rating services.

This was the first Hobart publication to receive an All-American rating, which is the highest award given to a high school publication.

Taking pictures, checking thumbnail sketches, writing copy and last minute rushing to meet deadlines were all commonplace activities for yearbook and newspaper advisor Mark Popovich and the MEMORIES staff.

Heading the 1967 yearbook staff was Senior Editor-in-Chief Marcia Meilaender. Each section had its individual editors who were responsible for the completion of that section by deadline time.

Continuing in the "All-American" tradition begun by the previous staff, the 1967 MEMORIES staff sold more annuals than had ever been sold before. A total of 850 books were sold in homerooms by yearbook representatives during the first semester.

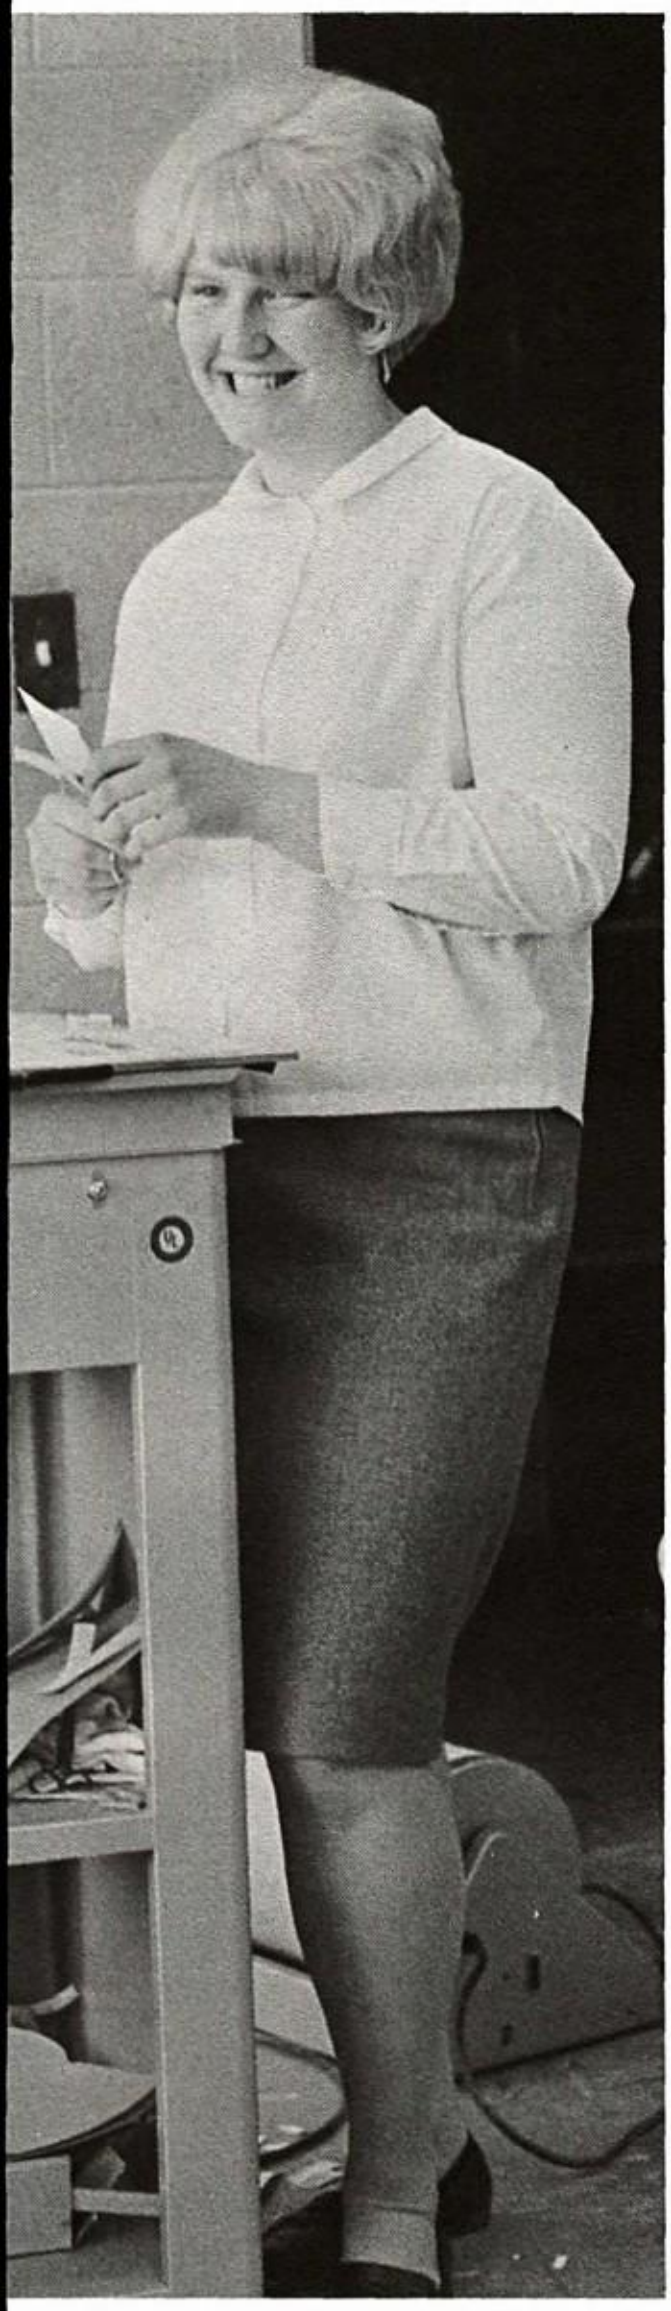
Newspaper Staff Produces 17 Offset Issues



Providing the student body with an accurate record of happenings at Hobart High is the main duty of the First-Class rated HO-HI LIFE.

In fulfilling this duty the staff turned out seventeen offset issues this year. In those seventeen issues they dealt not only with happenings in and around the high school, but dealt with the things of importance around the globe.

Student opinion polls were an important part of the HO-HI LIFE this year. Subjects ranged from whether or not the Beatles had lost their popularity to whether or not the Kennedy assassination of three years ago was or was not a plot.

Rounding out a team of female editors in the Hobart Journalism Department was Editor-in-Chief Cindi Lach. Last year Miss Lach was assistant editor on the paper.

Publishing Hobart High's first literary magazine and organizing an annual Quill and Scroll Banquet for honor students who have been outstanding in the field of journalism through the school year were two major activities of the Quill and Scroll during the 1966-'67 school year.

Under the direction of advisor Mark Popovich, members of the Quill and Scroll published THE KILN, Hobart's first literary magazine. All works published in the magazine were submitted by students.

San Remo's Restaurant was the scene of the first Honor Banquet, April 26. Special achievement and dedication awards were given to deserving members of the newspaper and yearbook staffs.

At the Honor Banquet the Hobart Chapter of Quill and Scroll was renamed the Walter A. Keller Chapter of Quill and Scroll in memory of the Hobart policeman who was a dedicated journalist and a friend of all youth.

Jean Karner, editor of THE KILN, was the first recipient of the award given for dedication.

Honor Group Sponsors Pizza Feast

Nourishing their stomachs as well as their minds, the members of Hobart High School's Honor Society attended the annual pizza supper, February 27.

Members drank Pepsi and ate pizza. Included in the meal, buffet style, were salads and deserts. Attending the supper was Bel Brandao, Hobart's foreign exchange student.

After the meal the students were entertained by a panel quiz show consisting of trivia questions made up by Seniors.

Besides determining the nine week's honor roll, the outgoing Seniors inducted all eligible juniors into the society, May 3.

Prerequisites for membership into the academic honorary include a rating based on 15 points, as well as teachers' rating, and outstanding qualities in the areas of leadership, scholarship, character, and service.

"Best Ever" Council Honors Six; Expands Service Projects

"If this is not the best Student Council we have ever had, it is certainly one of the very best" was the praise given to the 1966-'67 Student Council by sponsor Miss Thompson.

Vice-principal Miss Thompson listed several of the Student Council projects as proof of her statement. The Council this year sponsored two patriotism convos, the Turnabout and Computer dances, the Yohannaire, Government Day and the School Partnership Program.

Plans were begun for a Student Council Dragstrip which would keep students from dragging on the streets of Hobart.

Beginning under the auspices of the Council was the Forum Club. Emphasis was placed on club membership and participation by the Council's "Join the Club Week."

Awards of merit were given to six Seniors for their outstanding work on the Council: Mayor Phil Stafford, Dave Walker, Marcia Meilaender, Sally Moench, Jean Greene and Blanche Russell.

Exchange Student Living Example for AFS

A quick smile, a willingness to learn and to teach. These things characterize Hobart's fourth American Field Service student, Bel Brandao. Bel came to Hobart through this organization, along with hundreds of other foreign exchange students dispersed around the world.

Hobart's chapter of this organization was started four years ago and the first student was Nayla Morales. AFS sponsors many activities to support the bringing of a student to Hobart, or the sending of a Hobart student abroad.

Among the activities this past year was a dinner and a "Spring a go-go" dance held in May. Music for the dance was provided by the Good Tymes.

This is one of the few clubs at the high school, that is correlated with an adult group. The adult faction aids in narrowing down a selection of a 'family' for the foreign exchange student.

Librarians Turn Sleuth, Seek Info

"Would you please help me find some information for my term paper?" This is a commonly heard question for members of the Librarians club of Hobart Senior High School.

Aiding students and members of the faculty to find leisure reading books and reference material keeps Mrs. Mary Bailey and her staff of junior librarians well occupied.

Service, the main objective of the club, teamed with acquainting members to various library techniques and systems round out a worthwhile experience for interested students.

Dues of 50 cents per year is required for membership. Activities for the club include an initiation party, a clean up party, and taking over the snack bar in May. Decorating the library and bulletin boards gave them a chance to display their creativity.

A Senior picnic was held in the first week of May at Lake View Park.

"Say it in Latin," urged sponsor Mr. Black to Jill Stubblefield. Marcia Meilaender and Ted Esping agree teasingly.

Enjoying fried chicken Roman style, Latin students dine and wait for the entertainment to begin at the annual Saturnalia. Romans were treated with a play which was the evening's entertainment.

Latin Club Finances Two for Conclave

Accompanied by their sponsor Mr. Black, this year's top Latin students, junior Joe Smith and sophomore Dick Ballard, attended an annual Latin conference at Indiana University, June 25-July 22.

Giving students a preview of campus life was the purpose of this conference.

Since 1953 the Latin Club has been steadily growing. The only requirements for this club are paying dues and attending meetings.

Purpose of the Latin Club is to create a clearer understanding of Roman History.

Latin students throughout the state attended the annual Junior Classical League Convention at Ball State in April. Eleven students represented Hobart.

Students brought to life many of the customs of Ancient Rome at the Latin Club's Saturnalia Banquet, December 8. Students dressed in togas and enjoyed food Roman style.

Spanish Speakers Sample Mexican Tradition

Tamales, tacos, . . . and a Pepsi. These were the sights and scents of the annual Spanish Club dinner.

Monthly meetings were spiced with a variety of special programs. Vice-principal Dorothy Thompson spoke at several meetings and showed slides of her recent trip to South America.

President Bob Swisher also spoke and showed slides to the members. His talk centered around his adventures while spending last summer in Mexico on an educational grant.

Special parties were held under the supervision of sponsor Robert Neff to celebrate such holidays as Halloween and Christmas in true Spanish tradition.

For the first time this year the annual outing to the Dunes was not held. To compensate for this, Mr. Neff and the officers tried to schedule an activity every month. These activities were highlighted by Shirley Shell's two presentations of slides taken during her year in Venezuela.

Council Initiates Forum Club for Discussion

Forum Club, a new-developed club at Hobart High, was organized this year largely through the efforts of the school mayor Phil Stafford and members of the student council.

Student expression is the backbone of this organization. Members chose topics from suggestions received by Student Council members in homeroom.

At regular meetings members of the club did research on selected topics and discussed the pros and cons of each. Topics ranged from hall traffic in school to existentialism.

Keeping abreast of the news for discussion at the next meeting are Rick Gadberry, secretary-treasurer; Phil Stafford, president; and Doug Fitzgerald, vice-president.

German Club Enjoys Dinner in Chicago

Visiting a German Restaurant, ordering from a menu written completely in German and enjoying many foods whose origin goes back to Germany highlighted the year's social events for the members of Hobart High's German Club.

Along with the German Club sponsor, Miss Theresa Leptich, several members went to Chicago, Illinois, to enjoy an annual German Dinner, April 29.

Members of the club sponsored the Basketball Homecoming Dance as their primary money-raising project for the year. The dance was held in the cafeteria, and music was provided by the Hitchhikers.

At monthly meetings members of the German Club discussed and learned about the customs and traditions of the German people.

All members are required to have had at least one year of German. This club was organized to enable students to become familiar with the culture and customs of Germany and the German-speaking people.

French Club Gives Senior Study Grant

Qu'est—ce que ceci? C'est une groupe de francais.

Providing a social group of young adults interested in France's culture and language is the main purpose of the French Club of Hobart Senior High School.

The main activity of the club is the presentation of a scholarship to a worthy French student.

Enabling the students to learn more readily is the language lab along with the addition of books, which explain forms and answer questions to accompany the tapes.

Teaching the students and sponsoring the club is Madame Friedrich.

Among the activities of the club was the working in the snack bar for two weeks.

Home Ec Club Spreads Cheer, Takes Trips

Christmas cheer accompanied the members of the Home Economics Club of Hobart Senior High as they took holiday goodies to an orphanage in Hammond, Indiana.

Touring the American Institute of Laundering in Joliet, Illinois, and Mid-American Homes as well as making candleholders kept the club busy.

Selling cookbooks last year and this year enabled the members of the club to make "ditty bags" to send to the soldiers in Viet Nam for Christmas presents. Paper, pens, soap, gum, puzzles and wash cloths were some of the items included in the bags.

Gary Chapter of the Red Cross helped to send the bags overseas where they were distributed to the servicemen.

Members also participated in the Channel 11 drive for the Chicago television station. This enabled the network to have more programs of educational interest.

Nurses Visit Hospital, Present Scholarship

Building for a better understanding of the medical world earmarked the Future Nurses of America of Hobart Senior High School.

Presentation of a $100 scholarship to a student interested in the nursing profession highlighted the young nurses' year.

Under the guidance of the sponsors Mrs. John Uhlar and Mrs. Richard Mayer, who are registered nurses, the FNA studied methods in practical nursing.

A field trip to Methodist Hospital enriched the students' knowledge in their chosen field. They received practical and firsthand information by visiting several of the medical wards and watching demonstrations of various types of equipment.

Among the other activities for the year were a visit to a River Forest High School class dealing with practical nursing and a Christmas bake sale to raise money for club activities.

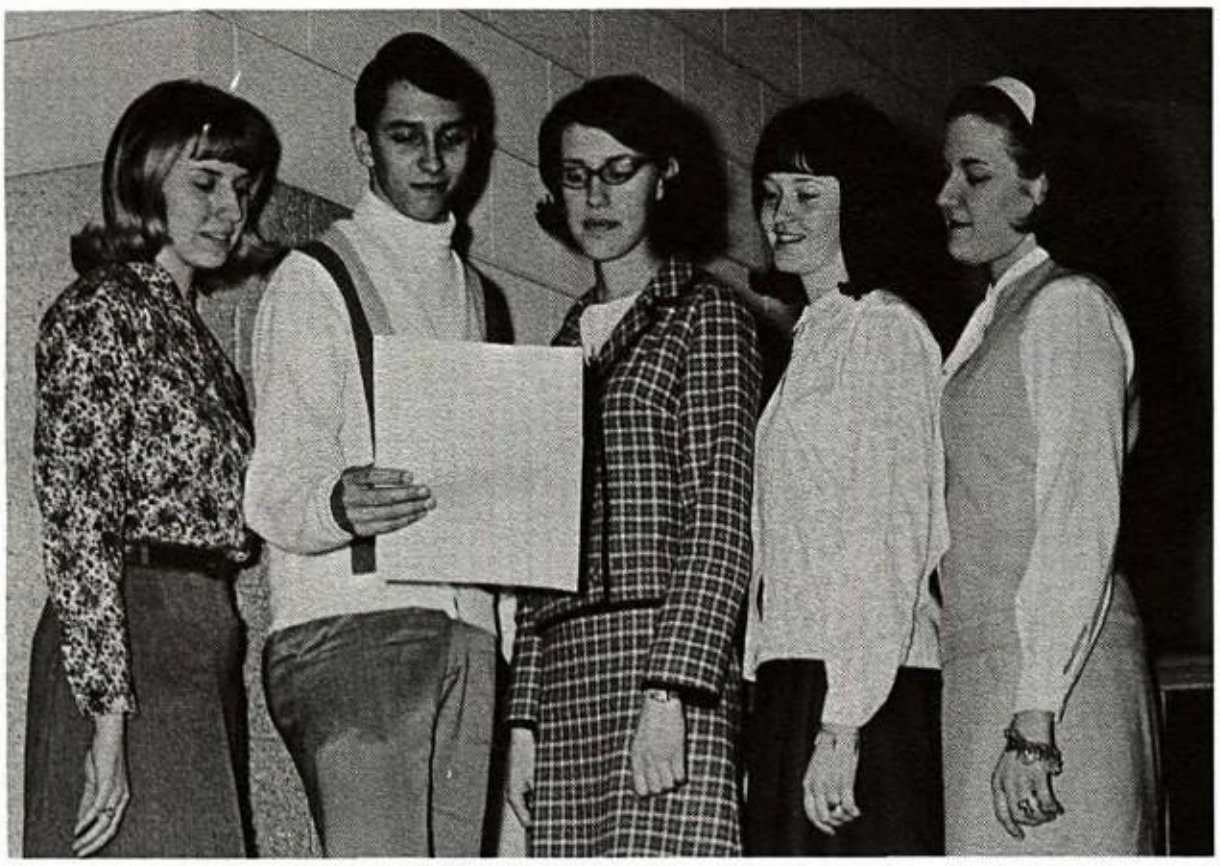
FTA Attends Annual Round-Up, Sells Mums



Officers of the FTA are Carolyn Hallock, vice-president; Jack Van Loon, president; Anita Goodrich, historian; Nancy Tidwell, treasurer; and Linda Norris, secretary.

Teachers are always in demand, and to help meet this need Hobart High offers aspiring teachers the organization of Future Teachers of America.

Members attended the 1966 FTA Round-Up, November 19. The theme was "Your Career in Teaching" and was sponsored by Hammond-Technical Vocational High School.

Key note speaker of the event was Dr. Willard Congreve, principal of the University of Chicago Laboratory School.

This organization continues to sponsor cadet teachers to instill a deeper meaning of the importance of teaching in the future. Qualified students teach the classes of their choice for one semester.

Mum corsages for football Homecoming were sold by members to raise funds for scholarships.

HHS Musicians Gain 37th First; Place 10 on All-Indiana Band

"On the downbeat!" was the familiar command in the Hobart High band room as director Mr. Alvin Rogers began class.

All the hours of practice and rehearsals were repaid when the HHS Band brought home its 37th consecutive first place in state and placed ten musicians on the All-State Band.

Seymour, Indiana, was the Band's destination on tour, and a side trip to Michigan City was added.

Those members receiving "firsts" in the district contest had the opportunity to enter the State Solo and Ensemble Contest at Butler University.

Christmas Vespers and a Pop Concert were performed by the student musicians. The Band also provided the music for the Indiana Music Educators Association Convention and held the annual Anniversary Concert.

Band Mothers sponsored the annual Cake Walk on Hobart's Main Street, and the Band again provided half-time entertainment at Brickie football games.

Leading the Band into formation to entertain the spectators at halftime at a football game is Drum Major Lynn Engleman.

Band students are not the only ones that get demerits in Band. Larry Warren, president; shows Lesley Brooks, vice-president; Nancy Tidwell, secretary; and Carolyn Hallock, treasurer; that the officers of Band get them, too.

Art Club Raises Funds, Repairs Yohan

Members of the Art Club donated many hours of their time to repair Yohann Petrovich, Hobart High's mascot.

Standing six feet tall, the large papier-mache figure, symbolizing a Brickie, has stood in the lobby since 1960.

Through the years he has aged considerably. The Art Club took it upon itself to paint him and make all other necessary repairs.

During the monthly meetings, members of the Art Club worked on individual projects. The club operated on a point system, and members who have accumulated enough points are eligible to earn letters and numerals.

As a fund-raising project the Art Club held a "Walgreens Day" during which the club took over the soda fountain at Walgreens Drugstore. All proceeds were given to the club.

Right—Poking fun at the efforts of their president Connie Mills, Art Club officers were not serious, as they explained later. Cheryl Tretheway, vice-president; John Mills, secretary; Cheryl Hallman, treasurer, played the joke on their president.

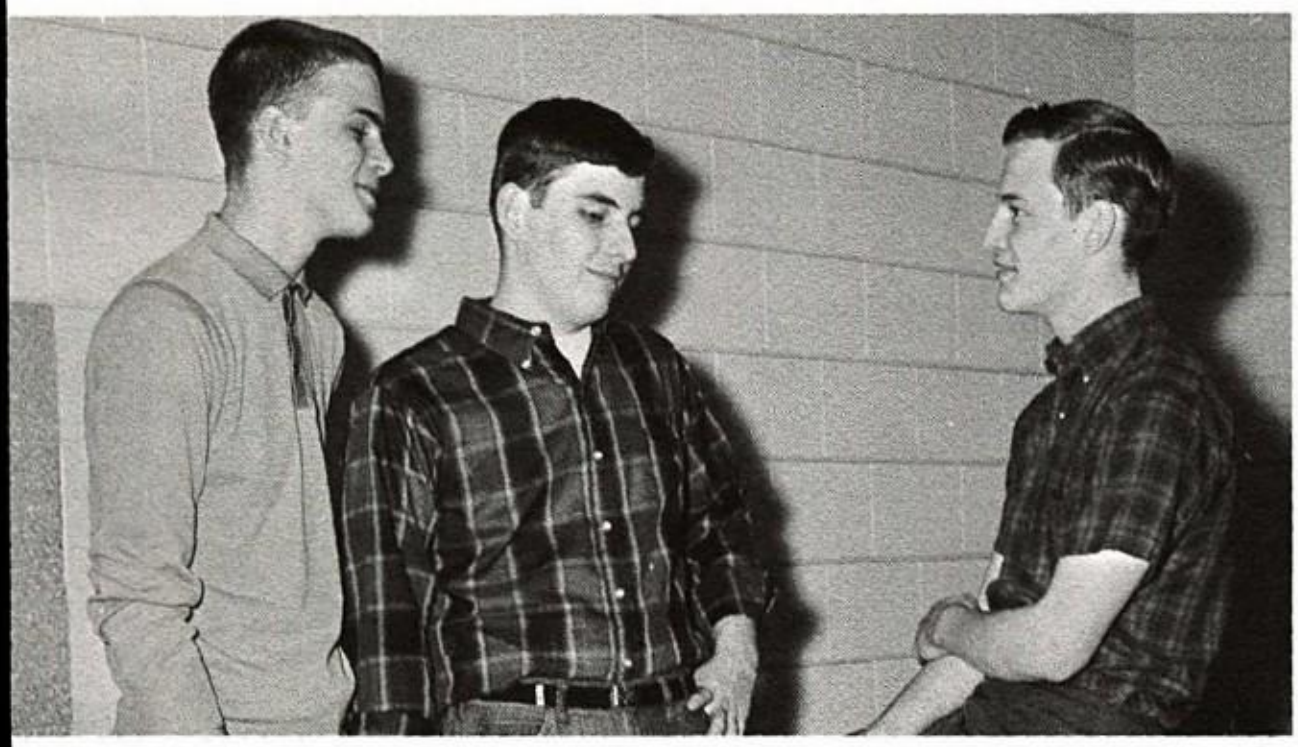
Experiments Broaden Science Club's Scope



Discussing the possibility of trying the Millikan Oil Drop experiment at a meeting are Science Club officers: John Snyder, secretary-treasurer; Leslie Brooks, vice-president; and Bob Kramer, president.

A rocket to the moon, a cure for cancer or everyday uses for solar energy may be the results of today's experiments.

Hobart High School's young scientists performed demonstrations and experiments under the watchful eye of sponsor Mr. Senderak.

"Now we're trying to turn it back" was the often heard remark made by a student performing an experiment to test an acid.

On occasion the club took field trips to promote a deeper interest in the vast field of science.

Films on newly-discovered facts and methods of learning were viewed by the students.

One drop may make the big difference between a failure and a success in the world of tomorrow's scientists.

A-V Corps Sets Up PA, Visual Aids

A twang from a folk guitar at a convo.

"Would you please stand for the Pledge to the flag?"

"I think we can beat the Wildcats if you kids'll just come out and back the team."

All these sounds from convos, pep assemblies, even Mayor-Clerk conventions, wouldn't have been possible without the help of one of Hobart High's oldest established clubs, Audio-Visual.

Sponsored by Mr. Boyd Scarborough, the A-V boys made it possible for much supplementary material to be presented in classes with the help of projectors, tape players and overhead projectors.

From the first word of a distinguished speaker to the panic in a teachers voice as he asks, "Are you sure no one's in here from A-V? This tape player doesn't work." The necessity and want of the Audio-Visual club are well known to Hobart students and faculty.

Listening in on anti-United States propaganda broadcasts from Cuba, Russia, and Czechoslovakia, highlighted the activities of the Radio Club this year.

After monitoring speeches in English on Radio Havana, Radio Moscow, and Radio Prague, the club members made tapes of these speeches to be distributed throughout history and government classes.

In this, their second year of existence, the club, led by Mr. Paul Hinkle, and Milo Roscoe, correlated their activities with those of the junior high by inviting the younger boys to attend a few meetings at the senior high.

Special code practice sessions were held in order to prepare for Federal Communications Commission tests. Three members passed these tests for their radio licenses.

Hobart's hams placed tenth out of a hundred participants in Indiana in the "National Radio Sweepstakes."

Connecting a mother with her army son in Honolulu, on leave from Viet Nam, during the last week of school was the Radio Club's goodwill activity of the year.

Speech, Debate Teams Continue Winning Ways

Traveling throughout Indiana to participate in tournaments, Hobart's speech and debate teams earned both group and individual honors.

The HHS speech team consistently placed in the top five schools in invitational tournaments, winning the Divine Heart Tourney.

Top scorer for the team was sophomore Rhonda Isakson, who placed nine times in Indiana High School Forensic Association tournaments.

Hobart placed twenty-third at the State Finals and fourth in the Northern Indiana Forensic League Tournament.

In the Calumet Forensic League Championship, Hobart not only placed fourth but also had junior Joe Smith bringing home the conference championship in Boys' Extemp.

The debate team, although it failed to place in major tournaments, had two top debators, Martha Stewart and Roger Addison. Top speaker for the second year in a row was Linda Jones.

Hobart High had two students ranked in the national standings: Seniors Linda Jones and Martha Stewart.

"Americana Concert" Sung by A Cappella Choir

Entertaining the student population as well as the public, the A Cappella Choir of Hobart Senior High School headlined the annual musical.

The performance of the "Americana Concert" was under the direction of Mr. Roland Ralph.

Four of the selections were "Gallow's Tree," "Grasshopper," "Deep Purple" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

One of the highlights of the year was the choir's participation in the annual Choral Festival at Merrillville High School, March 3. Besides singing several numbers, Hobart combined with the five other schools participating to perform the closing song as a "mass choir."

Right—Emphasizing the wretched condition of the poor grasshopper, Bill Bodnar grimaced during his narration of "Grasshopper" at the Choir Convocation.

"Let's hear this 'D' nice and clear, kids," urged Student Director Roberta Davies to her fellow officers of A Cappella Choir: Kathy Mattix, robe mistress; Sandy Erwin, librarian; Tim Gleason, fund-raising chairman; Linda Lain, treasurer; Larry Johnston, equipment; and Elaine Priest, secretary.

Madrigals Sing for Area Groups, Programs

Music filled the air as the clear voiced Madrigals of Hobart Senior High School performed for various programs during the school year.

The fifteen-voice group, composed of both boys and girls who are the cream of A Cappella's voices, sang for twelve Christmas programs in Hobart and Gary this year.

A new approach the Madrigals expanded on was the singing of carols in Spanish, German, and Latin.

Tunes ranged from up-tempo types to classical and were designed to fit the different kinds of singing engagements.

Female members of the group made their appearances more distinctive with the purchase of blue blazers.

Left—"Oh, the grasshopper sat on a sweet potato vine," chorused the Madrigal singers at the Choir Convocation, May 12.

Mixed Choir Formed; Replaces Treble Group

Mixed Chorus was a new addition in the Hobart High School choral department this year. This group replaced the high school's Treble Choir.

Performing at the "Americana Concert," April 14, the choir presented popular American tunes of the past year: "They Call It America," "Every Night When the Sun Goes In" and "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Singing at the Easter and Thanksgiving convocations, choral programs and carolling at Christmas kept the mixed voices in pitch.

Entertaining some of the young population of Hobart, the choir traveled to Mundell and Ridge View schools.

Left—Student director of the choristers was Claudia Carnell, while Janet Brown was the librarian. Phil Stout was the robe master and Roxanne Carnell performed the treasurer's duties. The officers of Mixed Chorus rehearsed a song for the "Americana Concert."

Debs Buy Wheel Chair; Sell Mums

Service is the force behind the Debuteens. Working in conjunction with the Good Neighbors Club, the Debs were able to purchase a wheel chair for a needy person.

They donated $75 to the Cancer Society and $10 to the school to help pay for a new flag.

But Debuteens do more than donate money to worthy organizations. They visited the Whispering Pines Rest Home and worked with Dee Dee Kleban, a six-year old cerebral palsy victim. Debs helped Dee Dee do exercises that would improve her muscle tone and coordination.

Although Debs is a service organization, being a member is not "all work and no play." Debuteens sponsored the annual semi-formal dance in December. Entertainment at the dance was provided by the Hitchhikers.

Members of Debs sold carnations to students on Dress-up Day as a money raising project for various funds and donations.

Gymnastic, Track Teams Compete in Meets

Stronger interest in sports on a more competitive level has been aroused in Girls' Athletic Association members.

Coached by Eleanore Reisinger, members of the girls' gymnastic team competed in the district meet at East Gary Edison High School and then traveled to Ball State University for the state contest.

Hobart High hosted the annual district track meet for girls, May 2, in Brickie Bowl.

In order to earn money for new track uniforms and for the GAA scholarship awarded annually to a deserving Senior girl, the GAA girls held a car wash and a bakesale.

Cheerleaders Plan Rallies, Foster Spirit

Varsity and Reserve Cheerleaders presided over various pep rallies and athletic events throughout the school year to help promote student interest and school spirit.

These girls are chosen on the basis of agility, co-ordination, and pep. Varsity tryouts were held in the spring of '66 while reserve cheerleaders weren't selected until later in the fall. Members of the faculty, club officers, and members of the Executive Board of the Student Council chose ten finalists from all the girls competing.

From these finalists, members of the Booster Club selected the girls who would be cheerleaders for the 1966-67 school year.

Young Marilyn Howell, daughter of Hobart's football coach, Don Howell, took an active part in cheering the Brickies to victory. Clad in a purple skirt and sweater, bearing the emblem "Brickies," Marilyn served as Hobart's mascot at many of the football and basketball games.

During the school year members of Booster Club set their sights on developing an organized Booster Bloc.

Materials purchased by the club to make purple and gold capes were distributed among the members. All the capes were made by members of Booster Bloc during their free time.

All capes were completed by basketball season and were worn for the first time for Basketball Homecoming. Capes and seats were assigned to the members. It was their responsibility to wear a cape at certain games and sit in their designated seats in the cheering bloc.

Taking charge of basketball and football Homecoming festivities were duties of booster club. Members decorated the gym and Brickie bowl before both games. They also decorated the cafeteria for the Football Homecoming dance.

In order to promote school spirit members of Booster Club sponsored a "Boost the Brickies Week." On designated days members of the three classes displayed spirit by decorating the halls and lobby and wearing their class colors.

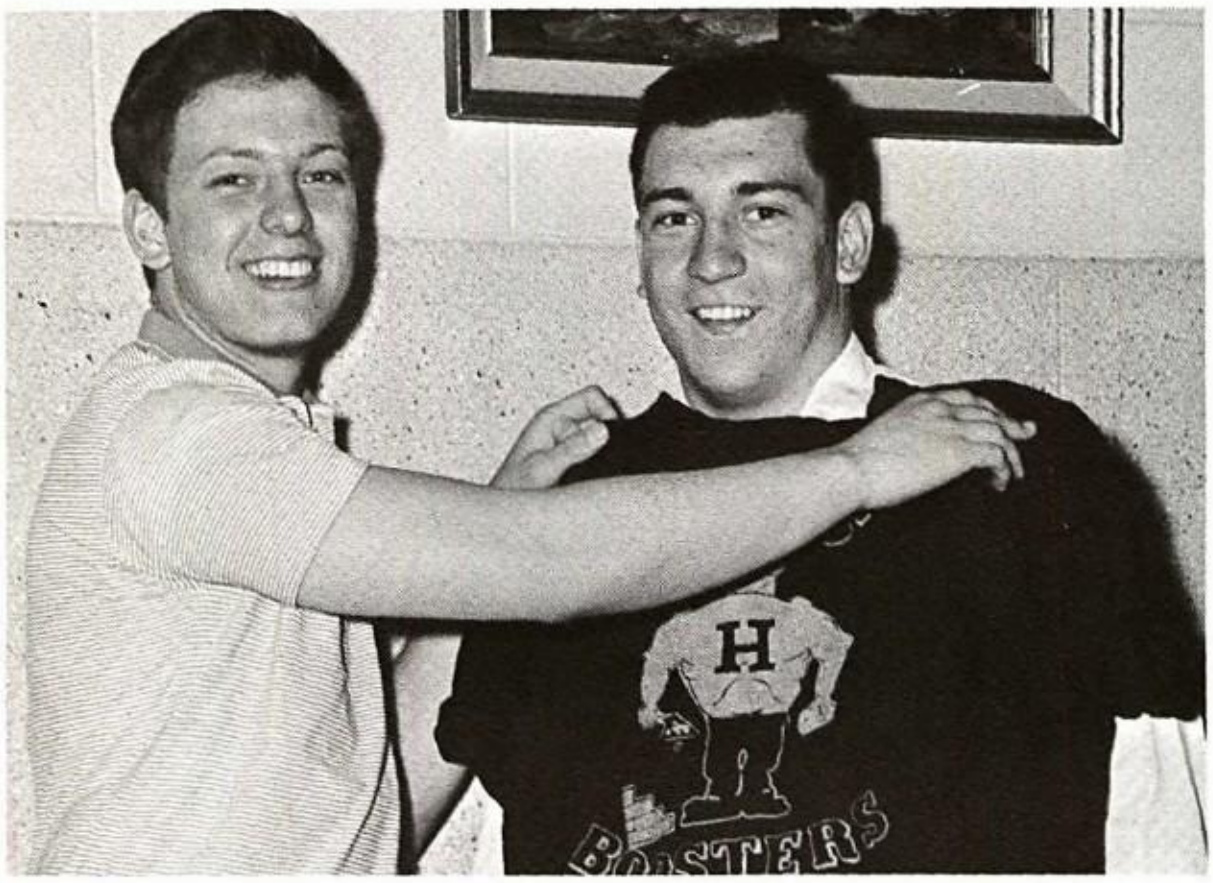
Booster Bloc Becomes Cheering Backbone



Clad in letter jackets or Brickie sweatshirts, members of Boy's Booster Bloc cheered Hobart through many sports events.

In 1964, a group of Senior boys organized the first Boy's Booster Bloc. Since that time the organization has grown considerably in size.

Basketball season proved to be an active time for members of Boy's Booster Bloc. At all home basketball games, members of the club sat in their designated seats and were led in cheers by two elected male cheerleaders, Phil Heller and Rich Blaszkiewicz.

Mr. Darryl Blink and Mr. Vidal Lopez, both sponsors of the club, worked with the boys in organizing the bloc and purchasing Brickie sweatshirts for all members.

Ushers Still Prep Fans, Convo-goers

A roar from the crowd, a surge of bodies, uniformed men straining to keep them back! The event?

A race riot in the Chicago suburbs? A gang fight? The Rose Bowl?

No, a Hobart High Basketball game. The men keeping the aroused spectators off the court are Hobart's Ushers.

Track mentor Frank Kurth paced the Brickie Ushers this year. Clad in their blue blazers the members of this club kept spectators off the hardwood and gridiron.

Displaying new techniques, such as the use of ropes to keep the basketball floor cleared, and wearing their identifying yellow jackets as they evict unruly spectators from football games, the Ushers do their share in making school functions a big success.

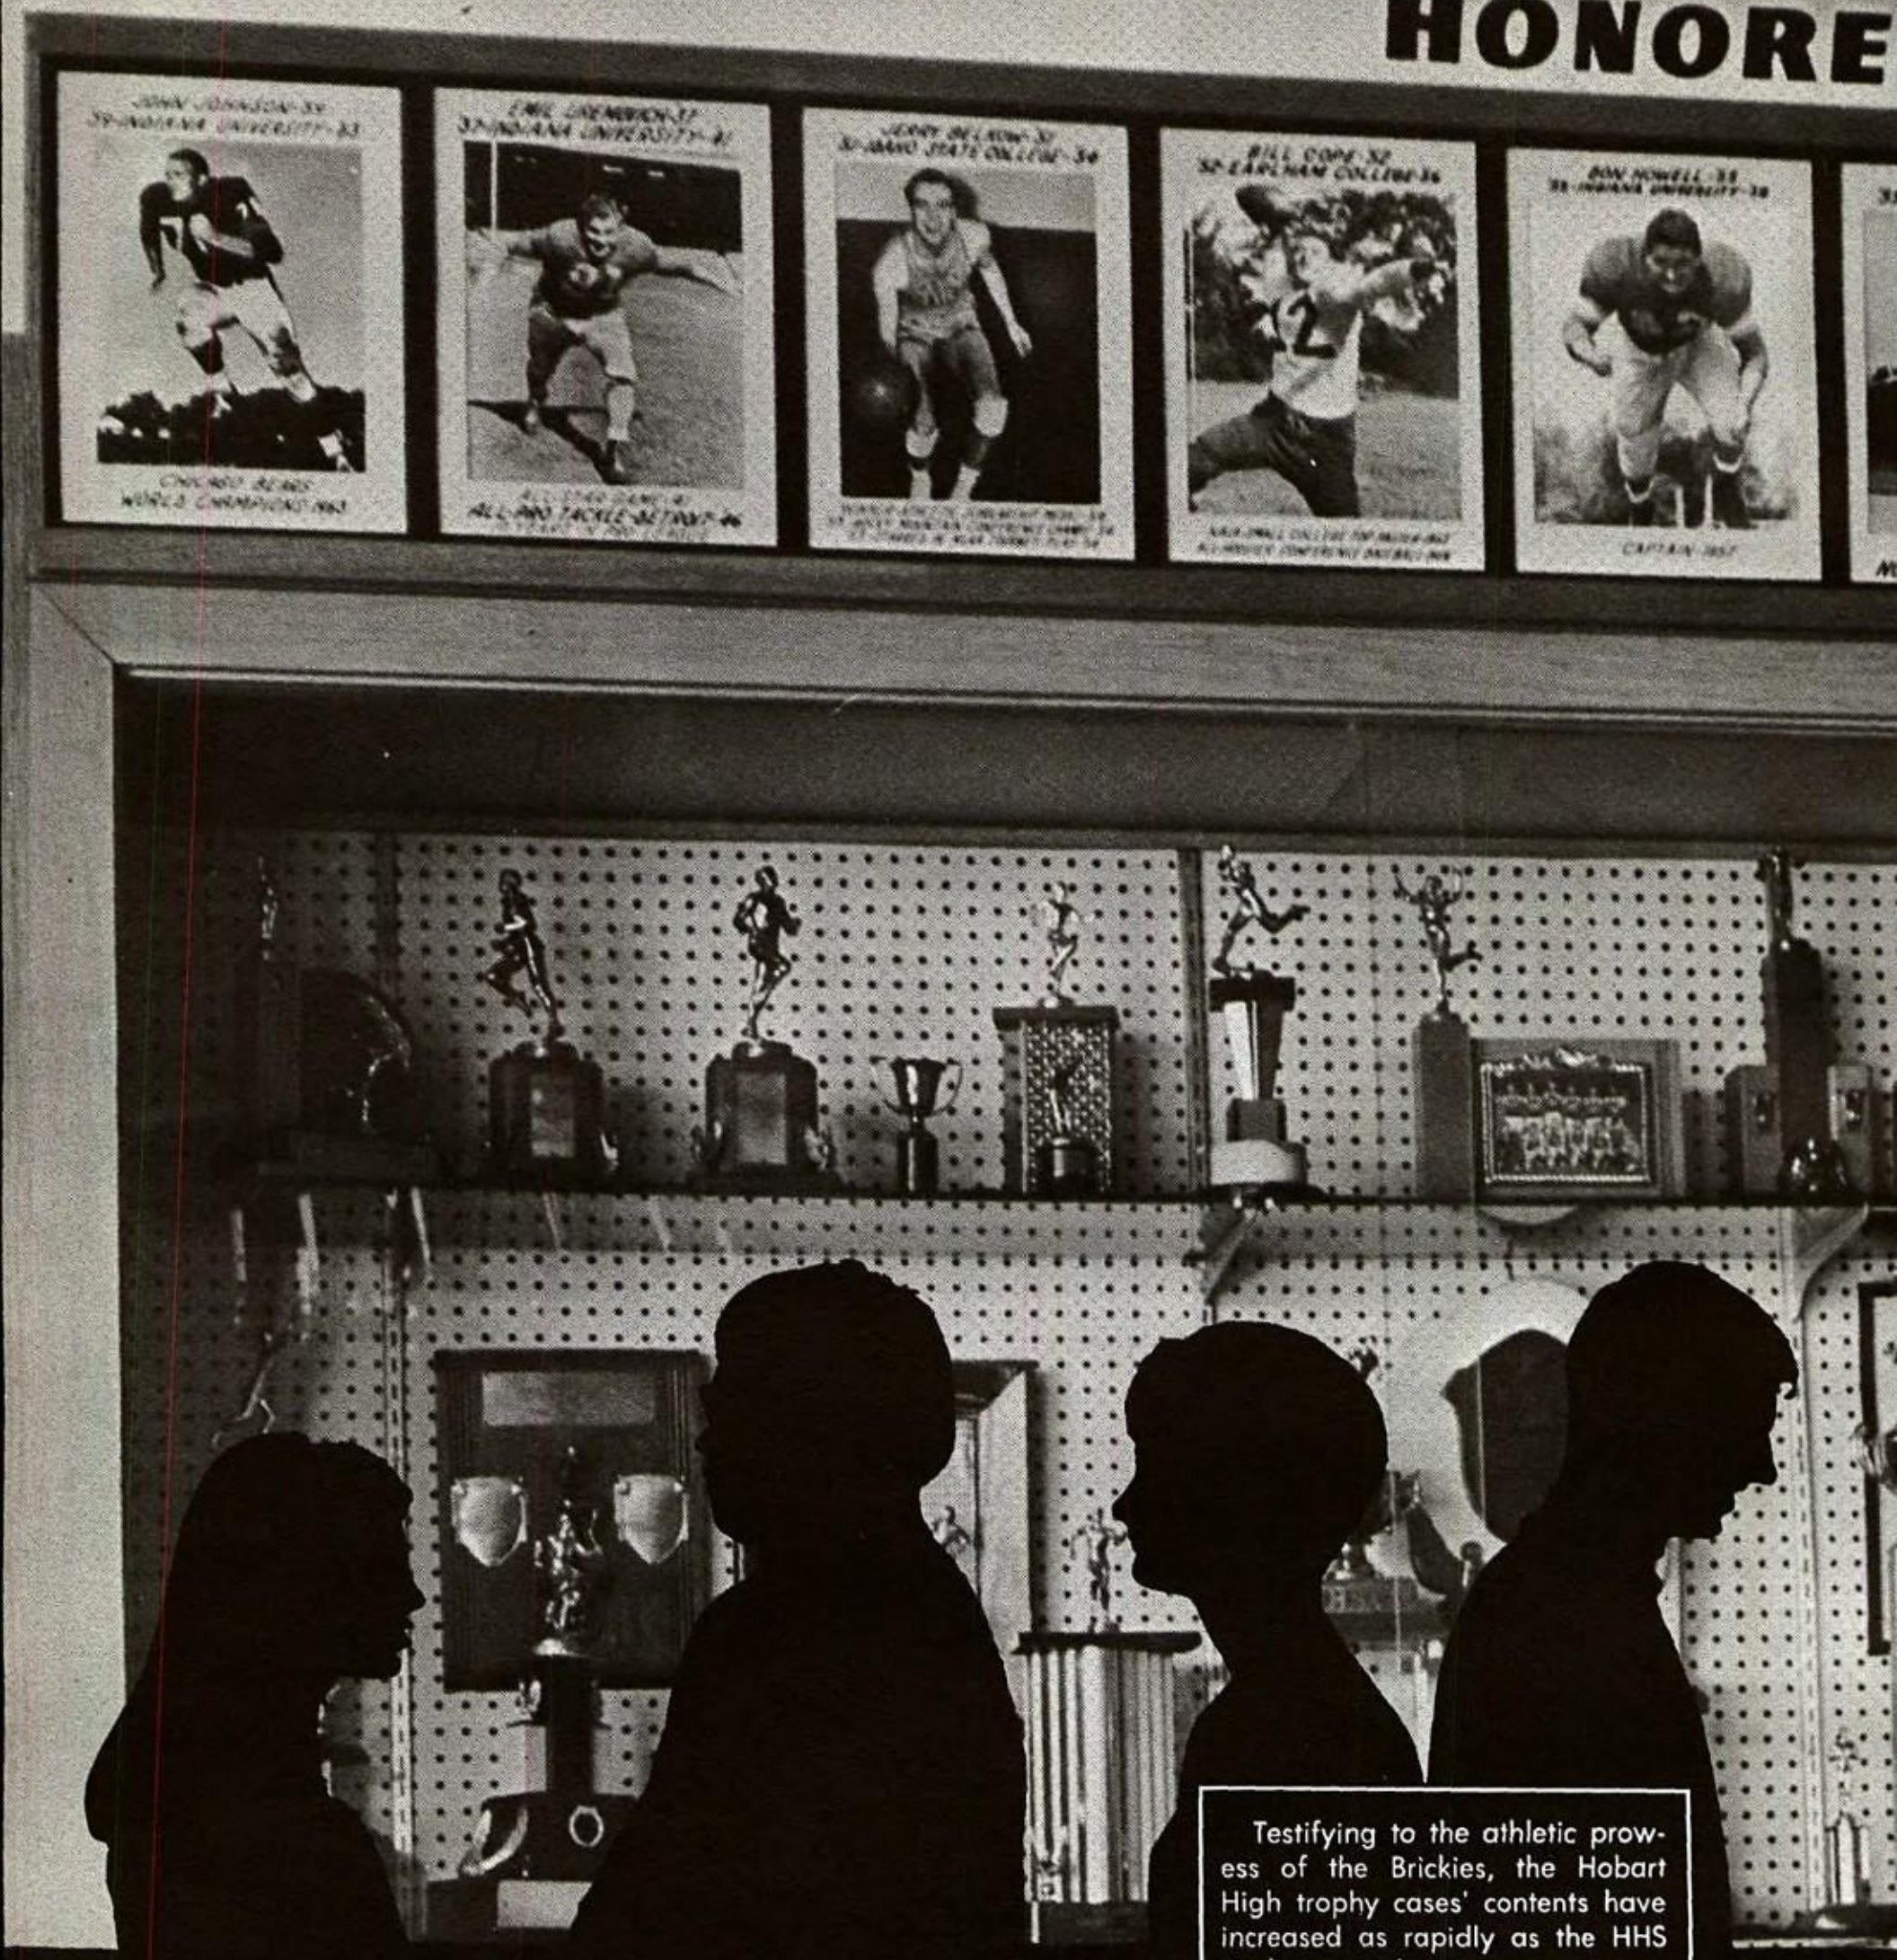
HONORE



Testifying to the athletic prowess of the Brickies, the Hobart High trophy cases' contents have increased as rapidly as the HHS student population.

With the advent of two new sports, tennis and wrestling, the possibility of further awards and more boys sporting varsity letters is improved.

Brickie football and baseball teams were directed by new coaches, and support by fans, cheerleaders and "Super Spirit" helped the boys when rub-down liniment and push-ups could do no more.

Now the contests are over, but the memories of the frenzy and triumph linger on.

Football Homecoming Queen Bonnie Busch witnessed one of few Hobart victories at Brickie Bowl as the gridmen defeated Michigan City, 7-0, while posting a 3-6 record this season.

Senior Bob Berg added the thrills by putting the only touchdown on the board via an off-tackle play. Junior Rod Kozyra added the extra point.

During the season, which saw the Brickies competing in the Northwestern Conference for the first year, Hobart added victories over Portage, 20-0, and Gary Roosevelt, 19-12. The win over the Panthers was the only Brickie conference triumph.

Valparaiso closed out the Hobart season on a sad note as the 13th ranked Vikings waited until the final two seconds to squeeze by the Brickies, 21-20.

Fourteen Brickies, who will be returning next year, won letters, and new head coach Don Howell saw two Brickies placed on the all-star team in the Eastern Division of the Northwestern Conference.

Senior Bob Mattix was selected for second string end while Junior Steve Balash was tabbed second string guard on the all-stars.

4th in NWC

Highlighting the season with a first place victory over a 13-team field at the Andrean Invitational, Brickie mentor Frank Kurth and his harriers gained a fourth place, 12-3, record in Northwestern Conference action.

Hobart suffered defeats from Crown Point, Emerson, Gary Roosevelt, and Valparaiso to finish the season with a 17-4 record overall.

Besides bagging the Andrean Invitational, Hobart took fourth place in the Hobart Invitational, and seventh place in the Indianapolis Shortridge Invitational.

Senior Captain Tim Sargent placed 12th in the Indiana High School Athletic Association State Meet, qualifying in the IHSAA Sectional and Regional with fourth and third place finishes, respectively.

Next year's team will be centered around nine returning lettermen and a reserve team that finished with a 15-0 record to capture the NWC Reserve Crown.

NWC Action

Coach Fay Trammel's racketeers opened Hobart's first year of tennis with a 10-2 overall mark and finished third in the Northwestern Conference competition.

Hobart lost only to conference champions Hammond High and second-place Gary Horace Mann by identical 5-0 scores.

The netmen compiled a record of seven shutouts and crushed their two non-conference opponents, Crown Point and River Forest, by scores of 4-1 and 5-0, respectively.

Senior Tom Howatt led the Brickies to five consecutive victories before Hobart dropped its first match to Hammond High.

Eight NWC foes fell to the Brickies with a win over rival Gary Lew Wallace, 3-2, highlighting the victories.

Major award winners Bob Wilson, Gary Sovich and David Dye, along with minor award winner Rich Kannowski, will be returning next year to lead the Brickies in their second year of tennis.

Highlighting the season was a first place victory at the Valparaiso Invitational Reserve Meet, January 21. Hobart triumphed with 94 points over second place Hanover Central (78), third place Munster (68), and fourth place Valparaiso (64).

Taking individual first place honors were John Scott, 112 lbs.; Bruce Jager, 120 lbs.; Doug Cobberley, 133 lbs.; Don Gibson, 154 lbs.; Joe Coons, 180 lbs.; and Steve Stevenson, heavyweight. Ron Longacre and Frank Thompson took second place honors, while Steve Salisbury gained a fourth place finish.

Besides taking the Valparaiso Meet, Hobart niched victories over Hanover Central, Munster, Liberty Township and Gary Tolleston.

Juniors Steve Stevenson and Joe Coons along with sophomore Frank Thompson were Hobart's top wrestlers as they earned records of 8-3, 8-4 and 7-4, respectively.

Hobart finished with a 1-1 record against Northwestern Conference opponents, but will face more NWC teams in their second year of action and first full year in the conference.

Next year's team will have depth and experience as 11 varsity lettermen and 15 junior varsity award winners will return.

NWC Race

Two Northwestern Conference victories highlighted an otherwise lackluster season for Hobart's cagers.

Paced by Eastern NWC all-stars selections, guard John Marks and center Ralph Krulik, Hobart posted wins over Whiting, 75-60, and Gary Horace Mann, 75-67.

Both players hit the hoops at a 17 point per game clip as the Brickies managed to gain six victories during the season.

In loop action, Hobart finished 2-12 and suffered its final defeat at the hands of East Chicago Washington in the sectional. The western section NWC Senators severed Hobart's hopes for a sectional victory by stopping the Brickies, 78-66, in first round sectional action.

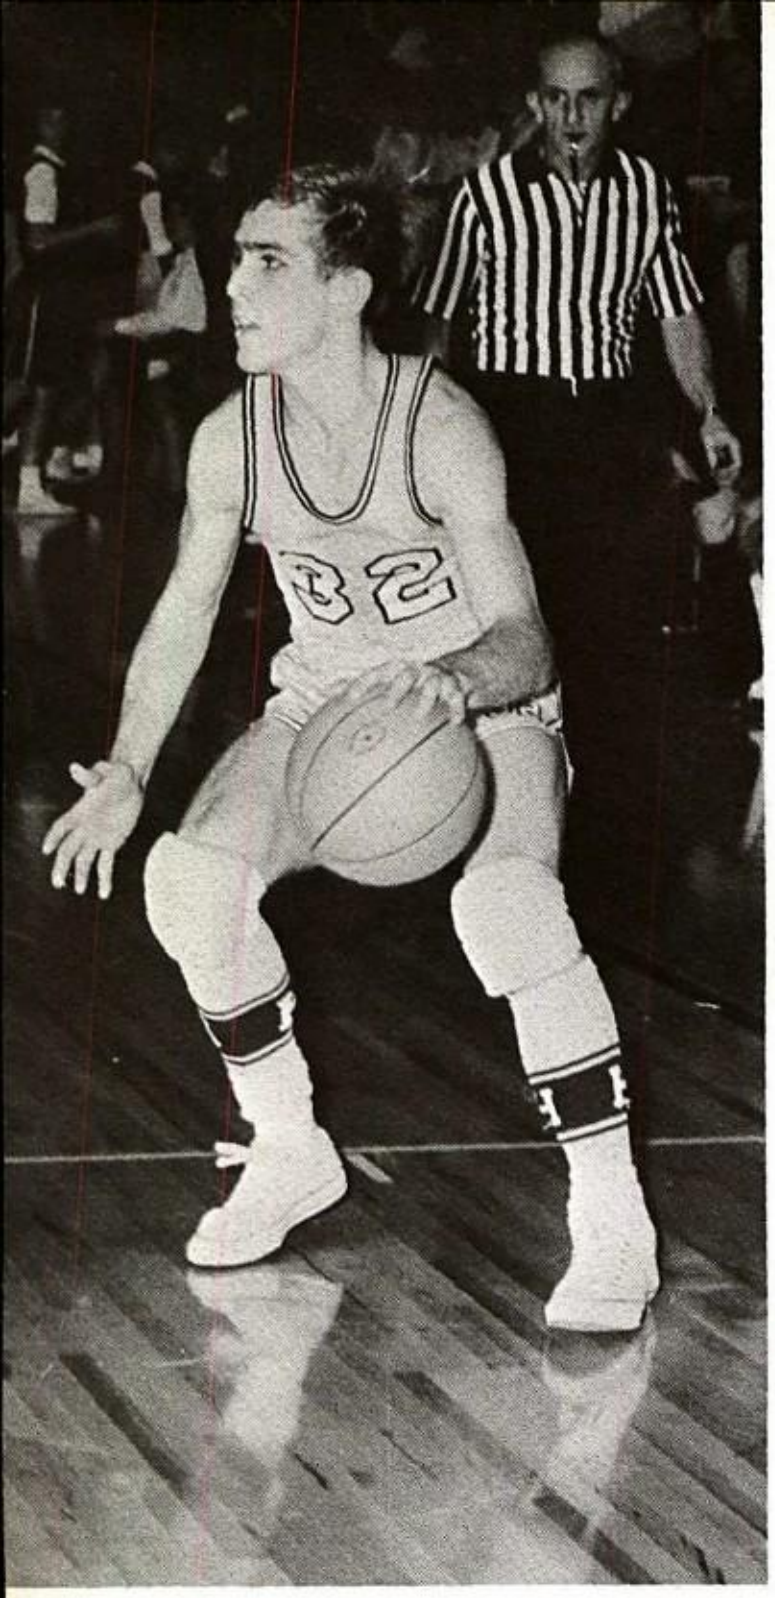
Overall, the Brickies added non-conference triumphs over River Forest, 83-49; East Gary, 72-59; and Portage, 91-72. One more win came at the expense of Lowell's Red Devils in the Lake Central Holiday Tourney.

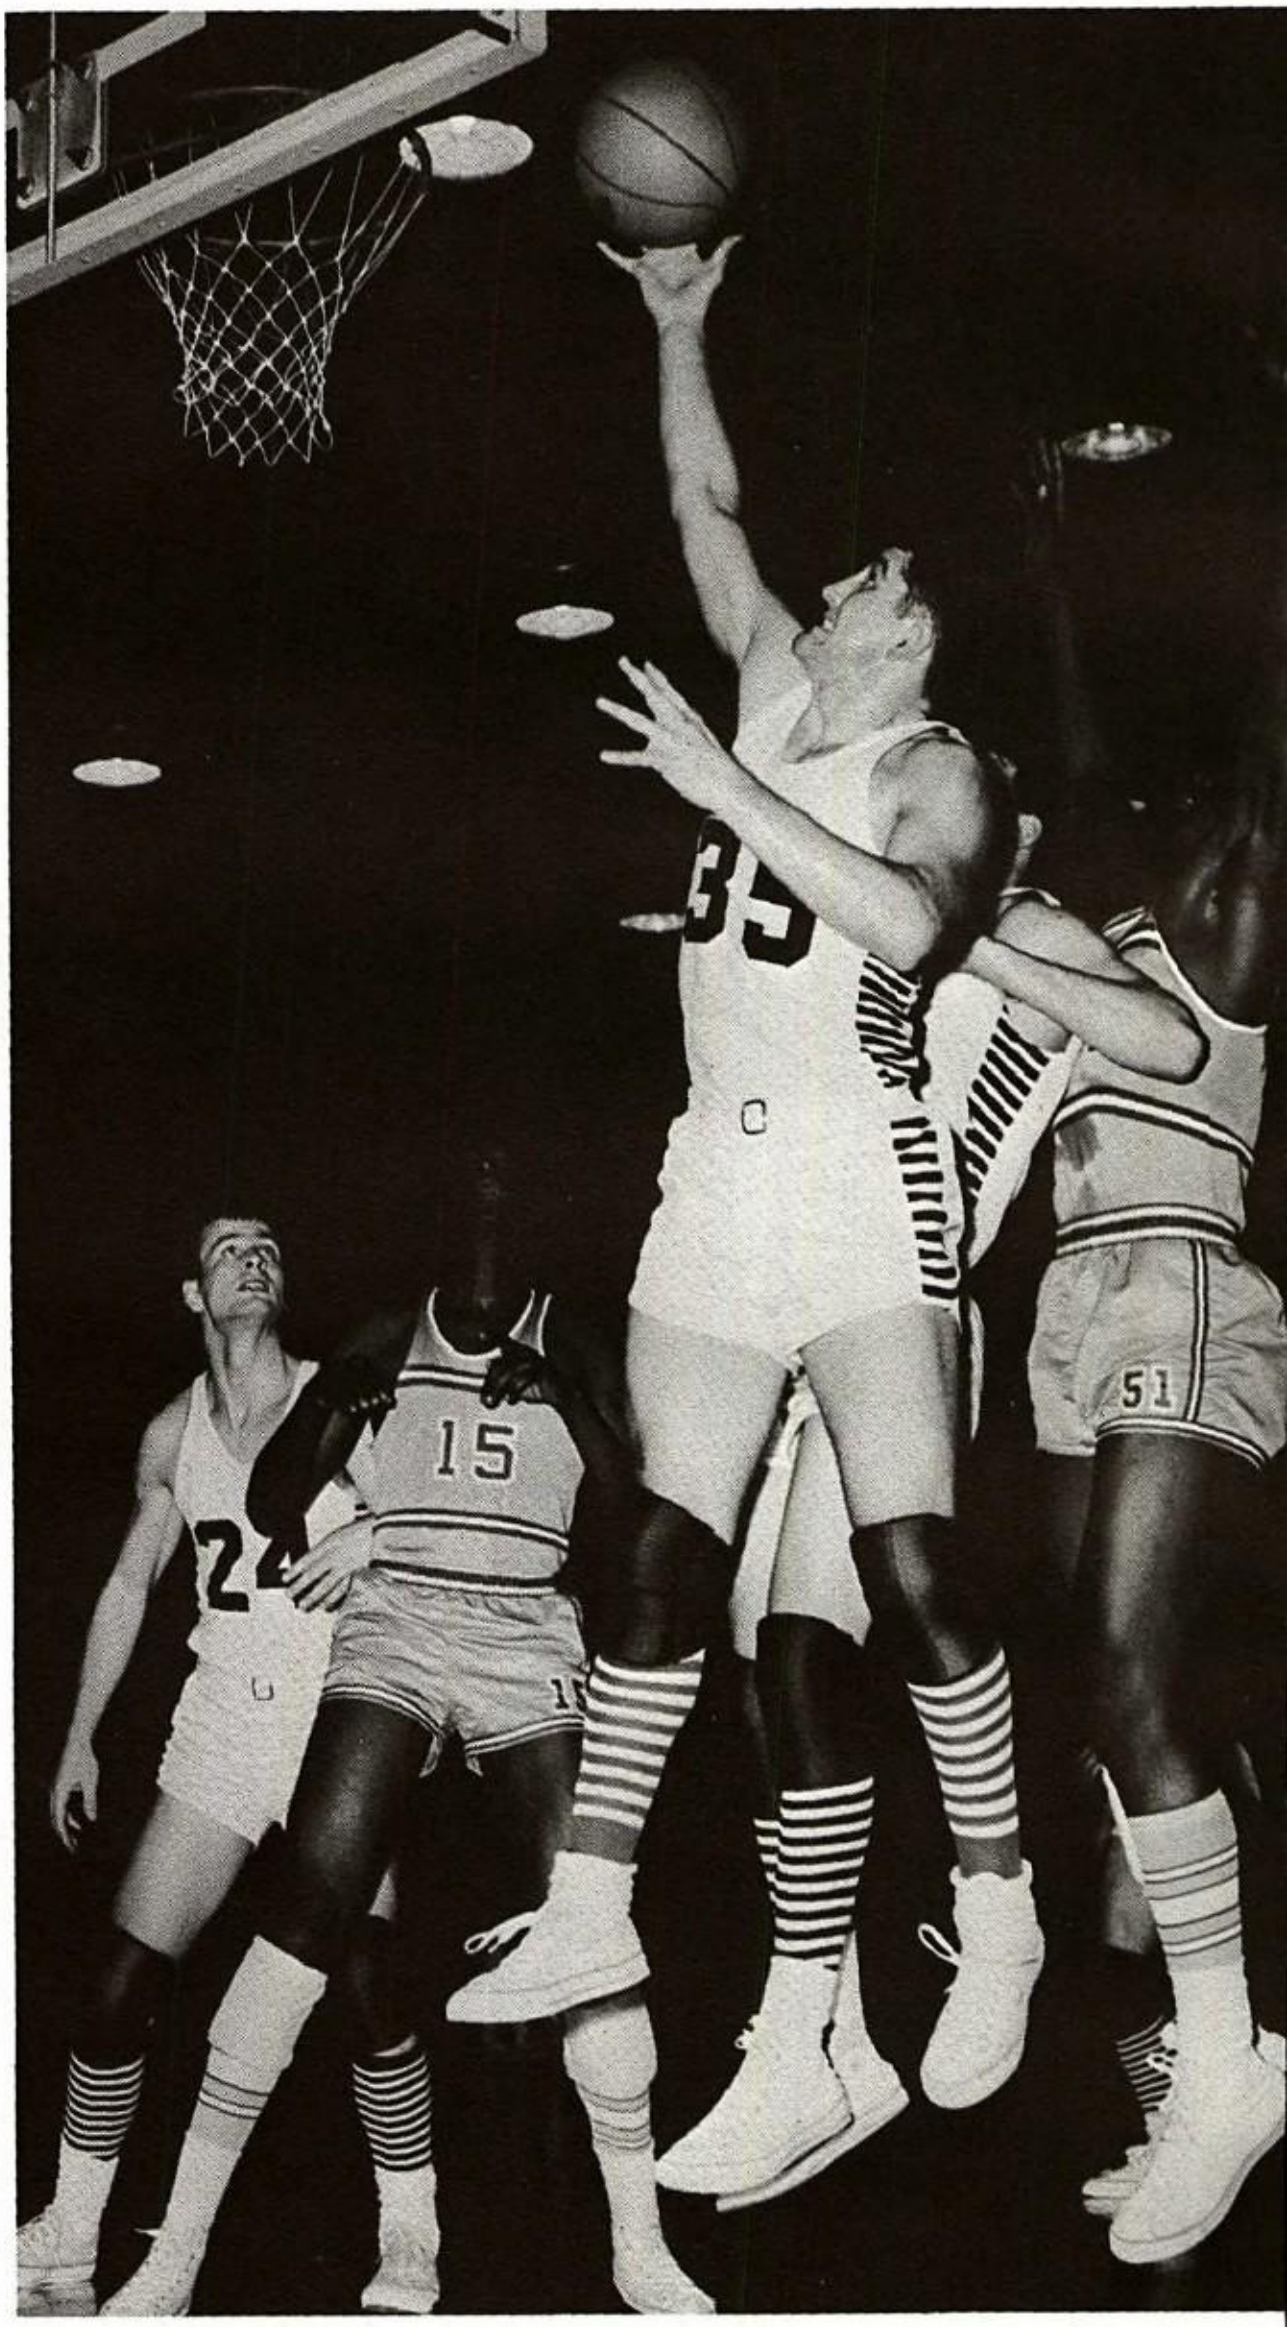
Hobart fought off the determined Red Devils for third place in the Lake meet after suffering an opening round loss to the host Indians.

Senior Chris Gielow was out-jumped by an East Gary Eagle as the Brickies won their first home game of the 1966-'67 season, 72-59.

Left—Bob Mattix sailed high into the air to grab a rebound as the Brickies were eliminated from the Lake Central Holiday Tourney by Lake Central, 64-60.

Walker Named MVP as Brickies





Determining factor in Hobart's six victories was the play of Senior guard John Marks. He averaged over 17 points per game for the Bricks as co-captain.

Linksmen Bag Second Straight NWC Trophy; Finish With 17-2

Hobart's linksmen finished another successful season by completing a 12-1 record in Northwestern Conference action to take first place in the conference for the second straight year.

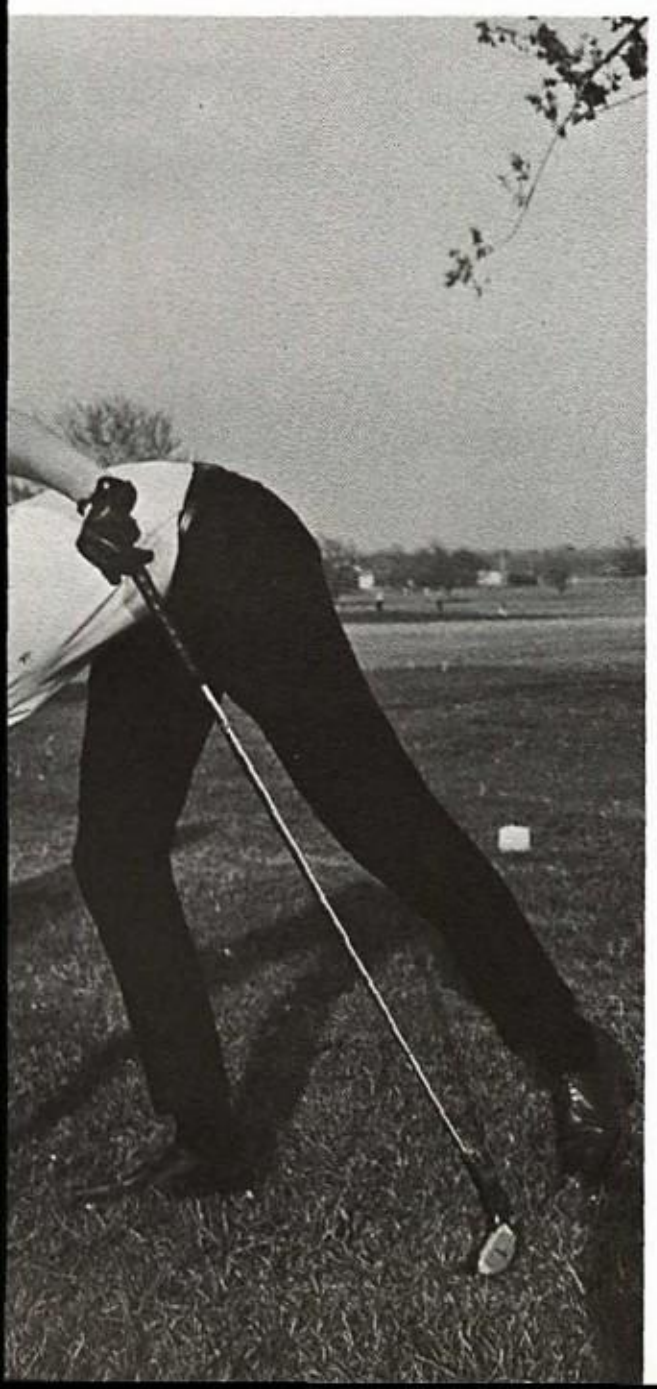
Coach Fay Trammel's boys added five non-conference wins and suffered one non-conference loss to Crown Point to finish with a sparkling 17-2 mark over-all.

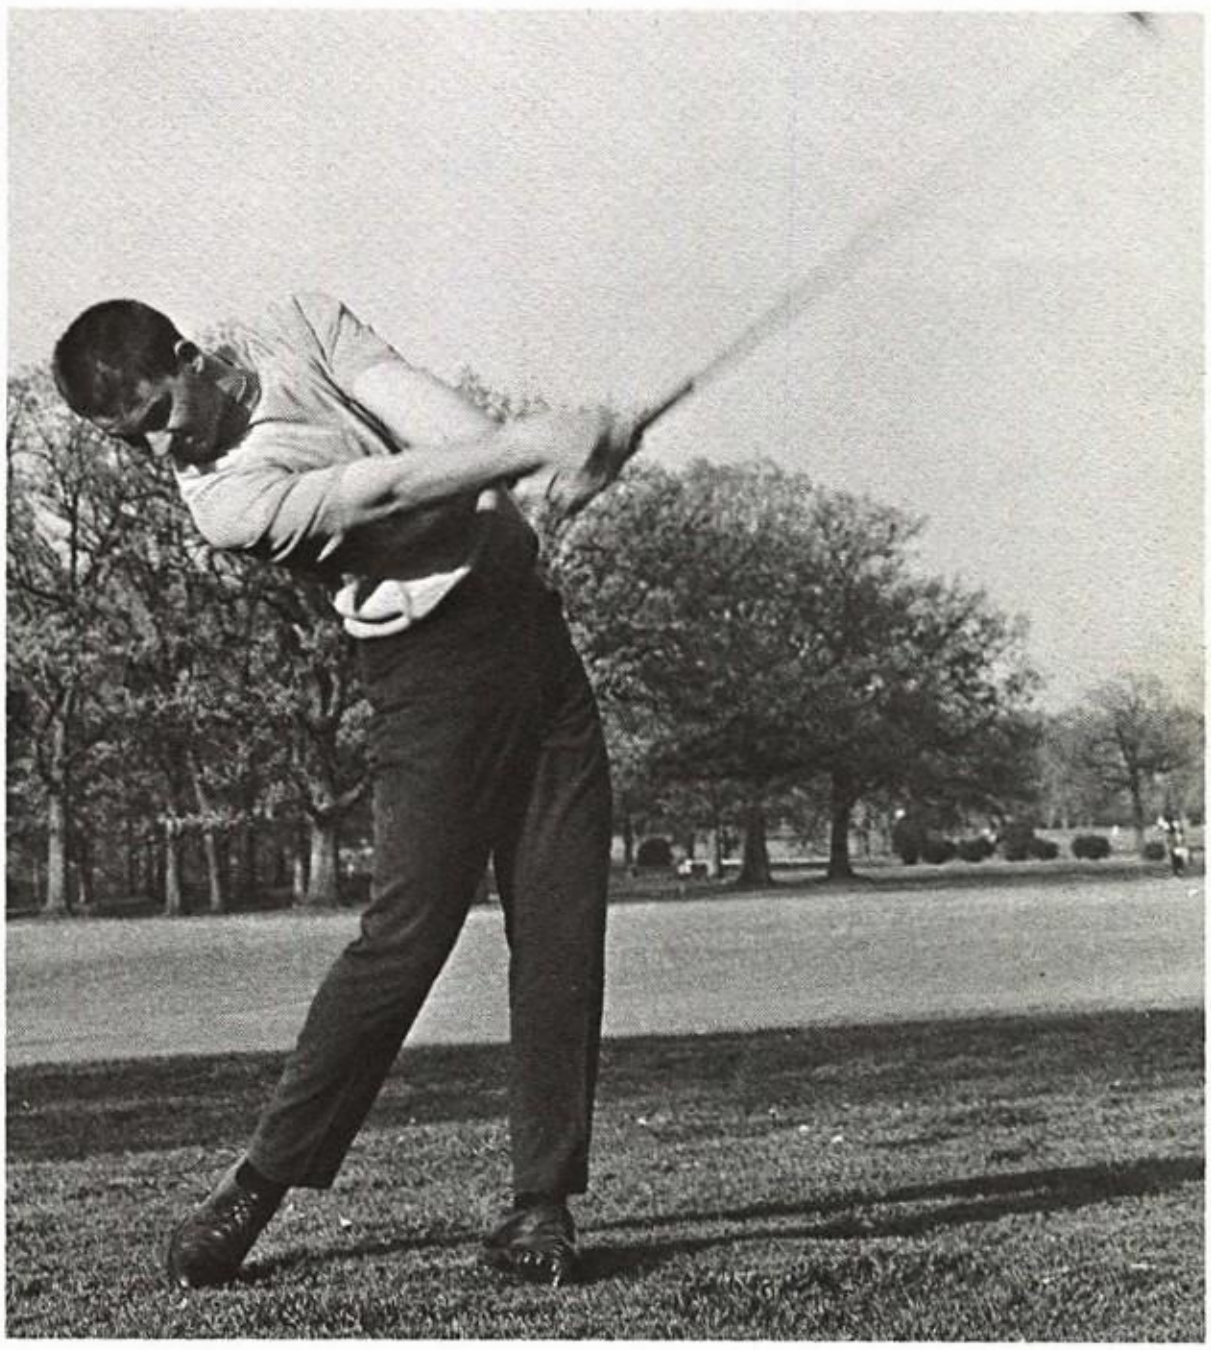
Hobart notched five triangular and dual matches this year to finish with a combined two-year record of 36-5. The only blemish in Hobart's NWC record this year was a loss to East Chicago Roosevelt, 177-170. Hobart was 25-1 in two seasons of loop play.

Tournament play found Hobart copping seventh place in the Lafayette Jefferson Tourney, second in the Lake Central Tourney and 14th in the LaPorte Tourney.

Hobart finished sixth in the Michigan City IHSAA Sectional; however, this showing was not good enough to enable them to qualify for the state match.

Ted Esping was medalist most times with 6, including runner-up medalist in the Sectional where he qualified to compete in the regional contest. Mark Webb and Jon Sheptak were medalists 4 and 3 times, respectively.





Top medalist for Hobart's golfers this season was Senior Ted Esping. Esping averaged 39 strokes per match in season play and was Hobart's top scorer in six matches. He qualified from sectional play and shot an 83 in the regional firing.

La Porte Severs State Hopes

First-year Coach Millard Rhody and the Hobart diamondmen collaborated for a 16-6 record and advanced as far as the regionals in the first Indiana state baseball tourney.

Hosting and winning the first Hobart baseball sectional earmarked the first year efforts of Hobart's mentor.

The Bricks opened sectional play with a five-inning 12-0 triumph. Senior Mike Hoffar came back two days later as the Bricks slugged Northwest Conference foe Valparaiso, 5-3, to win the first Hobart sectional.

But LaPorte proved to be the class of the Gary regional as the Slicers eliminated Hobart 3-0 and then went on to win the regional with another shutout.

Over the regular season, Hobart posted a 11-3 record in NWC play to tie for first in the conference. A playoff game with Gary Horace Mann settled the issue as the Horsemen replaced the defending champ Bricks on the strength of a 12-2 triumph.

Hoffar and Senior southpaw John Marks split 12 wins to the lead the Hobart mound staff.

Lack of Depth, Injuries Hamper Bricks' Showing in NWC Race

Lack of depth and several key injuries hurt the Brickies' performance in their second year in the Northwestern Conference.

Hobart did, however, place third in the Gary Sectional behind three firsts by the varsity boys in the pole vault, the high jump and the two-mile run.

Senior Ric Carter set a new school record of 12-7 while winning the pole vault. In the process of winning the high jump, sophomore Jim Collins set another school record at 6-1½. A first was registered for HHS when Tim Sargent toured the eight-lap course in 9:55.

Bob Berg, Dave Delich and Phil Conn rounded out Hobart's entry in the Gary Regional. However, Tim Sargent was Hobart's only visitor to the state track and field meet, as he placed sixth in his specialty, the two-mile run.

Hobart finished fifth in the Northwestern Conference standings with a record of 9-5. The Brickies won two NWC quadrangulars, as they swept the East Chicago Roosevelt Quadrangular and the Hammond Clark Quadrangular with the team's highest point totals, 96½ and 88 2/3, respectively.

During the indoor season, Hobart copped the Crown Point Invitational to boost its indoor record to 6-1-2, including a fifth place showing in the NWC Meet, Eastern Division.

Next year will be a rebuilding year for the Brickies, as graduation claimed six Seniors. Hobart will be in search of boys in the 100-yard dash, the two-mile run and the pole vault. But a promising crew of young reservists should fill the gaps, as they showed varsity ability by winning the Valparaiso Reserve Relays for the second straight year.

Coping with the problems of the "world" is an overwhelming task requiring mature judgment and tact and one which HHS students have to meet as they leave the protecting confines of Hobart High. But they are ready, because high school experiences have prepared them for just such a task.

Through school life students met others whose personalities differed vastly from their own. Teens found that "getting along with others" was important to success in almost any venture, and they gained invaluable insight which will stand them in good stead as they face life's problems.

HHS' "Generous Hospitality" Impresses NCA

Much preparation went into the reception of the North Central Association evaluation committee. Principals and superintendents made up the committee which investigated Hobart Senior High School during the week of November 15-19.

Members of the visiting committee "unanimously agreed that Hobart High reflects the excellent direction given them by the school personnel."

"Generous hospitality and enthusiasm showed to the members of the committee by the faculty, administration and student body was greatly appreciated."

Helping to coordinate the activities of the NCA evaluation; taking school, school finances, daily class schedules and curriculum were the responsibilities of Harold Moody, Principal and Miss Dorothy Thompson.

Counselor, Dean Increases Staffs in Size

Two new faces on the Hobart High staffs, though not new to the school faculty, were welcome additions to the dean and guidance offices.

Mr. James Johnston replaced Mr. Russ Deal as Dean of Boys. In addition to teaching biology and coaching the HHS basketball team, Mr. Johnston kept an eye on the attendance records and haircuts of the boys. Assisting him by supervising the girls' activities was Dean of Girls, Mrs. Flora Cox.

The other new face was that of Mr. Bill Cope, who became Hobart High's fourth member of the guidance staff. Under the direction of Mr. Marion Bailey, Mr. Cope and his co-workers, Mr. Wayne Collins and Mrs. Rosalind Howell, worked to keep the students aware of both Hobart High and college requirements.

Keeping the school clean and the students fed were the maintenance and cafeteria staffs' responsibilities. Halls and Lobby were kept spotless, and hot meals were provided in keeping with Indiana's state laws.

Far Left—A good-looking school, in appearance inside and out, is owed to its maintenance system. Standing are Mr. Charles Snow, Mr. Tom Horst and Mr. William Kneifel. Seated are Mrs. Vivian Walden, Mr. Walter Kaiser and Mrs. Darleen Cowsert.

Add Seven to Faculty; 55 Altogether

Five new teachers sparked the Hobart High line-up this year, and three others received educational grants in their respective fields.

New faces at HHS included Miss Alice Adams, Home Ec and Girls Phys Ed; Lt. Col. Otis Henderson, commander of Hobart's first ROTC unit; Mr. Martin Miller, government and economics; Mrs. Mary Ellen Riedel, junior English; and Mrs. Grace Tweddale, sophomore English.

Mr. Darryl Blink, received an educational grant and will be at Michigan Tech studying Earth Science. Mr. Larry Weise will spend five weeks of intensive study in the field of discussion at San Jose State University in California.

Miss Theresa Leptich was granted funds for intensive study in German. She will study for eight weeks at Princeton in New Jersey.

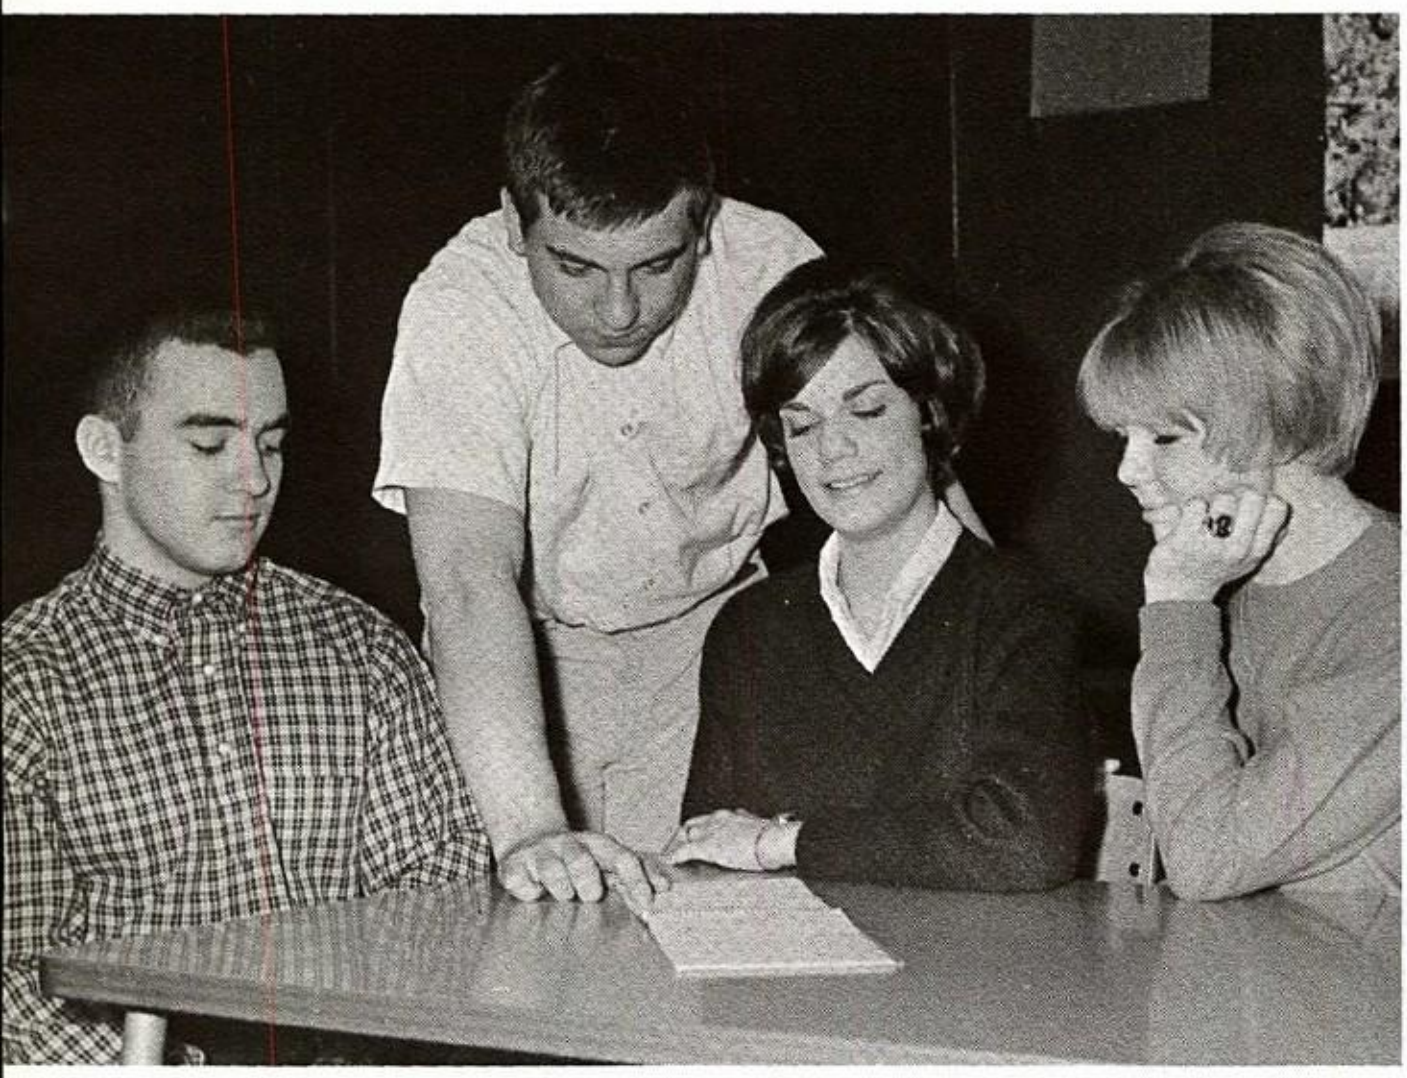
Mr. Wayne Collins and officer Dick Raiza discussed plans for the route of the Purple and Gold Parade.

Graduation Climaxes Seniors Ho-Hi Career



Senior Class officers planned many of the final activities enjoyed by Seniors their final year. Giving the time and effort needed for such jobs were Doug Fitzgerald, vice-president; Phil Heller, president; Blanche Russell, secretary; and Debby Blank, treasurer.

Graduation, May 24, climaxed 12 years of work and activity for the class of 1967, including the final three years at Hobart Senior High School. Those three years were filled with dedicated campaigning for elections, cramming for final exams and feverish working on floats and class projects.

Education Day gave Seniors the opportunity to assume the roles of teachers and administrators.

On Government Day the Seniors had the responsibility of holding the main offices in Hobart and running the city during the day.

"Fork 'Em," the Senior class entry in the homecoming float competition, won first prize, making this the second year that the float of the class of 1967 received that honor. Seniors Bonnie Busch and Josie Berkes reigned over the Homecoming festivities.

Seniors enjoyed the traditional Sneak Day, and then met as a class for the last time when they marched down the aisle of the gymnasium as the band played "Pomp and Circumstance."

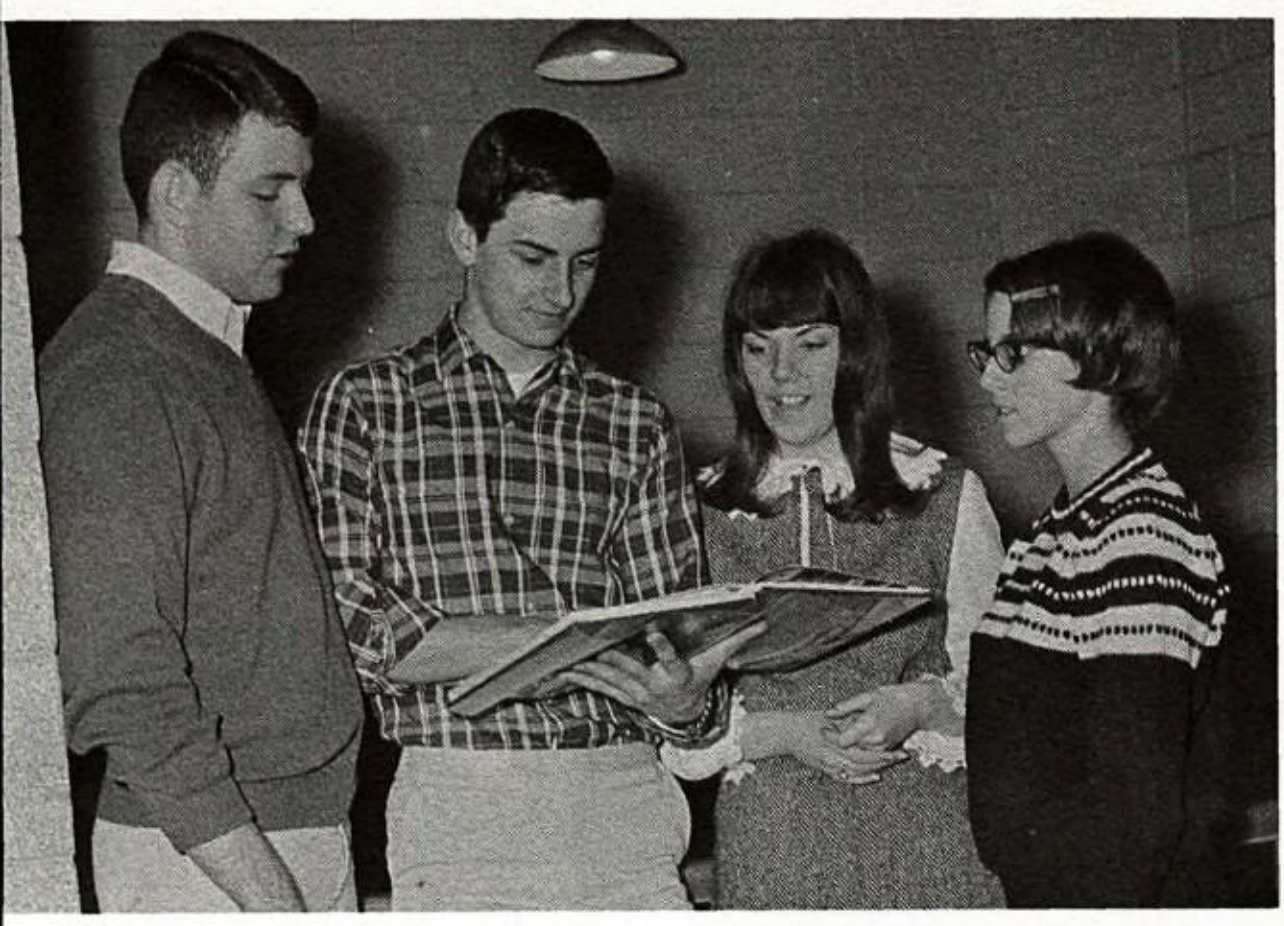
"Enchanted Garden" Chosen as Prom Theme



Junior class officers are Randy Murray, vice-president; Greg Bliss, president; Patty Russell, secretary; and Kandy Kendell, treasurer.

Preparations for the Junior-Senior Prom "Enchanted Gardens," was the main activity on the junior agenda throughout the school year.

Couples danced to the music of Johnny Noland's band at the Crystal Ball Room in Gary. WLS disc jockeys Ron Riley and Clark Weber hosted the after-prom party at San Remo's.

Junior class float, "Smash 'Em," took second place at the 1966 Homecoming festivities. Two junior girls, Kandy Kendall and Lana George were candidates for Homecoming Queen.

Steve Balash and Claudia Carnell were chosen to reign over the junior class party "Autumn Haze," held in October.

"Labor Conquers All" serves as the motto for the 370 students in the junior class. Their class colors are red and white, and their class flower is the tea rose.

Orders for Senior sweatshirts were taken in the spring as juniors began to look forward to that important last year at HHS.

Class Project Raises Money for '68 Prom

Officers of the sophomore class were Wade Whitman, president; Cindy Pike, vice-president; Dorothy Hawke, treasurer; and Gayle Bolinger, secretary.

Hobart High's largest class this year sold chocolate candy as a class project to raise money for the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom.

Sophomores received third place in the 1966 Football Homecoming festivities, for their float entry, "Send 'Em Howling."

Joann Halvorson represented the sophomore class in the football homecoming queen's court. Classmate Sue Flanders was the sophomore candidate for Basketball Homecoming Queen.

Every year the sophomore class elects two candidates to run for the position of Clerk in the Mayor-Clerk elections in May. This year's primary conventions were held in April.

Spring was a time for many decisions. For members of the sophomore class it was the time for them to choose class rings. This year's rings were ordered through Cubberly's Jewelry Store. The committee for the selection of the style of class rings was made up of class officers and persons elected to represent each homeroom.

"Tread not the well-worn path make your own" is the 69er's motto. Their class colors are crimson and grey, while their class flower is the tea rose.

This is Hobart—not a huge metropolis, but a peaceful city where the young people are given varied opportunities for recreation.

Many Hobart High students spent lunch time at a Hobart restaurant or relaxed "up town" after school, sipping a Coke and listening to the music blaring from a juke box.

Tennis court dances, the Hobart pool, the public library, the movie theater and many other places and activities kept Hobart teenagers active. They lingered here and developed early in life a sense of pride in their community and country.

In our recruiting we ask that applicants have completed their High School education. That's because we try always to fill higher, more responsible jobs from the ranks of our employees. And the records show—the better the employee's education, the better he is at his job—and the better he does for himself.

Inland employees continue to gain knowledge and experience in special trades through formal apprenticeship programs offered in the following trades—Machinist, Patternmaking, Boilermaking, Welding, Shop Electrician, Wireman, Mason and Pipefitter.

Many concentrate on certain phases of steelmaking by working in production while others work in laboratories helping to assure quality or developing new and better products for our customers.

How about you? Inland Steel is steadily expanding. More and more opportunities will be open to you as our growth continues. Are you ready?

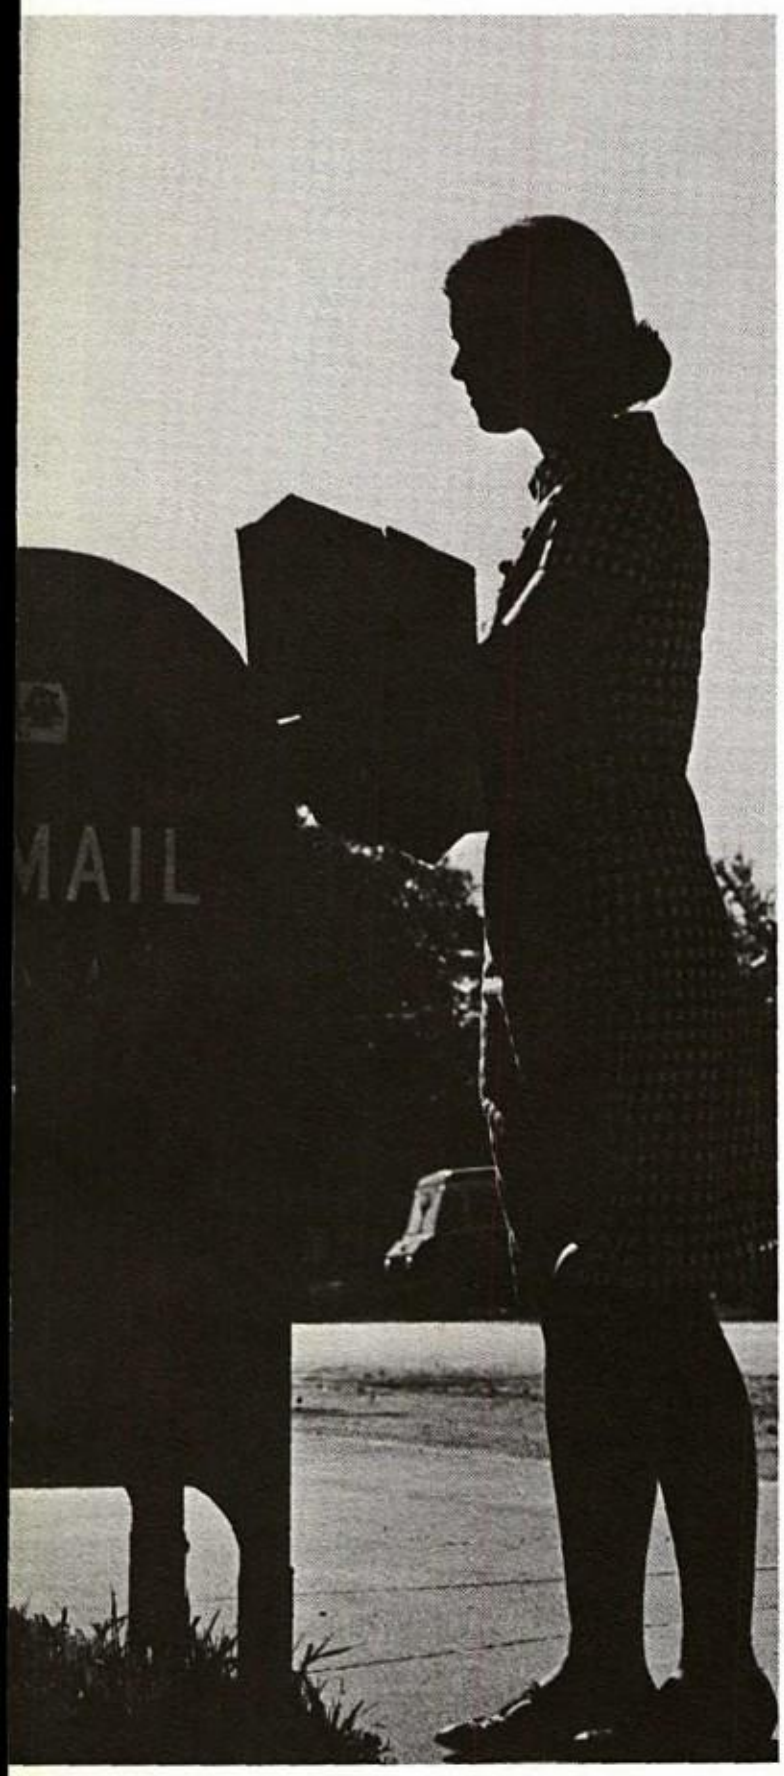
. . . And the Memories Linger On



This has been our attempt to encapsulate a year in a single book. The daily routine of seemingly insignificant events which have now altered our lives was examined to help us understand how we have progressed to our present level.

A generation passed through HHS and must now utilize what it has learned about itself and the world in which it lives.

Not intended to separate the different areas of our high school experience, the specific divisions of this book were an attempt to organize the events, attitudes and personalities in the environment which has influenced us into a meaningful whole.

Working long hours after school, spending lunch hour in the journalism room and giving up vacation time to work on the '67 MEMORIES were all sacrifices made by the yearbook staff in order to produce an excellent annual.

Special thanks is owed to Mr. Dick Kennard, our yearbook consultant from the Newsfoto Publishing Company of San Angelo, whose advice and technical "know how" helped so often in deciding matters of design and style.

Victor Rothschild, Master of Photography, took both the Senior portraits and the organization pictures for the yearbook. Gary Camera was the photographic consultant for the book, and the MEMORIES' full color cover was produced by the Universal Cover Company in San Antonio, Texas.

We sincerely thank all of these people who were vital in making our layouts and picture ideas into realities.

But most of all our thanks must go to our adviser Mr. Mark Popovich, whose enthusiasm, patient help and devotion to young journalists was an inspiration to the staff.

With the shipment of the final yearbook deadline material, our job and the school year were ended. But we hope that for the HHS students, the MEMORIES will linger on.
